the past 34 years, will take an inactive part in camp life. Mr. Sloan has been connected with Camp Carolina for the past 16 years, and Dr. Richard R. Bernard will continue as associate director. (Times Staff Photo)

Little River Community Hit By Hail And Wind Storm, Damages $40,000

COMMERCE BODY TAKING ACTION

New Advertising Folders Being Ordered. Clean-Up Drive Urged

New advertising folders will be secured immediately by the Brevard chamber of commerce, it was decided at a meeting of the directors here Tuesday night, and the committee of John Anderson, Charles Russell, Bobby Hoyle and C. M. Douglas was asked to secure the folders, making such corrections and changes as deemed worthwhile.

It was pointed out that ample supply of the area "folders" for use on Blue Ridge Parkway, and the "home seekers" brochure are on hand, but that increased calls for the mail-away advertising literature had about exhausted the supply.

A variety of matters pertaining to the community were discussed. —Turn to Page Eight

CONCERT FRIDAY TO END WORKSHOP

Brilliant Young Piano Team To Be Heard In College Campus Auditorium

As a special feature of the fifth annual Frances Clark Piano workshop taking place on the Brevard College campus this week, the final faculty piano recital on Friday evening will be open to the general public without charge.

The program begins at 8:00 o'clock in the campus center auditorium.

Featured artists are Miss Martha Braden and Miss Doris Martin, brilliant young two-piano team who have appeared previously at the Brevard workshops. Their program Friday evening will include both solos and two piano numbers.

Miss Braden will present four Scarlatti Sonatas and a contemporary suite "A Child's Picture Book" by LaMontaine. Miss Martin's solos include a group of seven two-part Inventions by Bach and the Mendelssohn "Rondo Capriccioso," Op. 14. Their two-piano selections include the Sonata for Two Pianos, K. 448 by Mozart and the Sonata for Two —Turn to Page Eight

CORN, TOBACCO AND BEAN CROPS ARE HARDEST HIT

Survey Is Made By County Agent. List Of Farms Is Given

PATH OUTLINED

A terrific hail and wind storm hit a wide section of the Little River community last Friday afternoon, doing an estimated damage of over $40,000 to the corn, tobacco and bean crops.

Accompanied by a heavy, washing rain, the storm covered an area approximately two miles in length and one mile wide.

The path of the storm was from a point near the Freeman Nicholson farm up the beautiful Little River Valley for a distance of approximately two miles.

According to James Davis, the county agent, the corn crop was hit the hardest. Some 400 acres suffered from one half to a total loss.

Approximately 12 acres of burley tobacco were "laid low," and the yield of nearly 25 acres of beans was cut from 25 to 50 percent, he states.

The Little River section of the county was the only part of Transylvania hit by the storm. However, a heavy rainfall was recorded in most of the area.

Among the farms hit by the storm were: Virgil Merrill, John Merrill, Ed Mackey, Wade Merrill, Otis Merrill, T. C. Henderson, Ossie Merrill, M. C. Shipman, E. W. Medford, Morris Hawkins, Vernon Gonnell, Earl Frady, Albert Merrill and G. G. Merrill.

The garage of Earl Frady was also damaged by the high wind, and a top of a barn in the community was blown off.

As far as it could be ascertained, only one farm in the community was covered with hail insurance.

Rev. Harold Killian Is New Moderator Of Baptist Group

FRANK L. YARBROUGH, manager of the Brevard branch of Duke Power company, has been appointed campaign director of the 1958-'59 United Fund drive in Transylvania county. The announcement was made at noon Wednesday at the quarterly meeting of the board of directors, and the campaign will begin on October 9th.

Officers Are Elected At Annual Session. Said Highly Successful

Rev. Harold Killian, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Brevard, was elected as the new moderator of the Transylvania Baptist association at the annual meeting.

Mr. Killian succeeds Rev. George Julian.

Election of new officers climaxed the annual session, which were held at the Little River Baptist church and at the Middle Fork church.

Rev. Jarvis Brock, pastor of the Little River church, was elected vice moderator and Rev. Marvin Murphree was named clerk. Other new officers are as follows: Treasurer, Miss Ruth Shipman; Sunday School Supt., Rev. Kadez Wilde; DVBS Supt., Mrs. J. Arthur Harris; BTU director, Ruel Whitmire; Brotherhood director, Rev. J. D. Brogdon; WMS President, Mrs. Alcovia McCall; Music director, Fred Kilstrom; Parliamentarian, Rev. John A. Cox and historian, Rev. S. B. McCall.

ALDERMEN HAVE A BUSY MEETING

Public Hearing Set For September 1st. Other Action Is Reported

The town board of aldermen held a busy session at its last meeting. At the request of Frank Moody, the board will hold a public hearing at its next meeting on Sept. 1st, to consider an amendment to the Brevard zoning ordinance.

This action, if favorably passed, would permit Mr. Moody and his associates to operate a funeral home at the Austin residence on South Caldwell.

The amendment has been recommended by the Brevard planning board.

The board decided to advertise for bids to repair the sewerage lift station No. 2. This will be done as soon as the engineers complete the specifications for the job.

Mrs. Opal King, the clerk to the board, reported that the expenditures under the Powell bill have been approved by the State Highway commission.

The 1958-'59 budget has also been approved, she stated, by the Local Government commission at Raleigh.

The trailer ordinance, as recently advertised, was adopted by the board.

Whitewater Road Improved Recently By State Highway

Improvements on the Whitewater road from US 64 near Oakland to the South Carolina line have been made within the past few weeks by state highway maintenance crews.

The rough stretch from the bridge over Whitewater river via the falls proper has been gone over within the past few days with heavy machinery, and work also done on the ditch lines and fills. —Turn to Page Eight

Transylvania Health Department Moves To New Quarters This Week

Regular Clinic Will Be Held At Modern Building Friday Next To WPNF

The Transylvania Health department this week moved into new quarters adjacent to WPNF and the regular clinic will be held on Friday in the building.

The new building was constructed at a cost of some $29,000 and L. E. Bagwell was the general contractor.

The modern structure was designed by McDonald and Daniels, architects.

Although as Mrs. Jessie Lollie, the health nurse pointed out, much of the equipment has yet to come. The new X-ray machine has arrived but it has not been set up. Meanwhile, the office is open Monday through Thursday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and the clinic hours on Friday are 8:30 until 4:30.

In addition to the facilities of the building and the new equipment, Mrs. Lollie points out that the increase of parking should make the office available to more people. A large graveled parking lot is located to the rear of the building.

"Since Transylvania's first health department was set up in July, 1937, it has suffered from cramped quarters," Mrs. Lollie said.

The new building includes a large reception area, offices for the health director, health nurse, sanitarian, two examining rooms complete with X-ray and laboratory, and toilet facilities.

Open house and dedication of the structure will be held at a later date to be announced. Mrs. Lollie points out they want to get their new equipment installed so that the public may see the facilities complete.

Acting health director is now Dr. John R. Folger, with Mrs. Lollie the nurse, Walter F. Hart, senior sanitarian and Mrs. Lily Mae White, receptionist-clerk.

Successful Season

All Transylvania Organized Summer Camps Now Closing

Transylvania's outstanding organized summer camps are closing after a highly successful '58 season.

Several of the camps are planning post-season sessions, and the American Red Cross Aquatic school, which is held twice each summer at Camp Carolina, opened yesterday.

The first session in June was most successful, and another capacity enrollment is reported.

Mitchell Kirkland, American Red Cross field representative, is directing activities, with a staff of 15 persons assisting.

Classes in all types of lifesaving and water safety are taught to men and women from throughout the southeast. Transylvania county is recognized as a "mecca for summer camps," and during recent years, a new camp or two has opened.

The unique Transylvania Music camp closed on Sunday, with more than 1,000 persons attending the final concert of the festival "week of music."

Practically all other camps in the county are closing their regular sessions this week and next. Camp Cherryfield will continue through September 6 and Rockbrook will hold a family camping session from August 23 through September 2.

UF Directors Name Head, Campaign Set In October

Frank L. Yarbrough, manager of the Brevard branch of Duke Power company, has been named campaign chairman of the 1958-'59 United Fund campaign.

The announcement was made at a luncheon meeting Wednesday of the board of directors of the UF in Transylvania county. The meeting was held in Gaither's Rhododendron room, and the directors also decided to have the 1958-'59 campaign in October, which time coincides with neighboring drives.

The treasurer's report was made to the board by Melvin Gillespie, and C. M. Douglas, the secretary, also reported.

Chairman Yarbrough told the directors that the United Fund is meeting all of its obligations and he expressed appreciation to all persons who are giving their "fair share" through the UF.

President Wayne Bradburn was unable to attend the meeting because of pressing school duties and the annual school superintendents meeting at Mars Hall.

James M. Wulpi, executive director, outlined an amendment that would require institutional members of the local organization to furnish a report of expenditures to the budget committee.

Mr. Wulpi also explained the importance of the various agencies served by the United Fund in furnishing the publicity director with reports on their work.

County's Schools To Open Sept. 2nd

Transylvania's schools will open on September 2nd for the 1958-'59 term. Superintendent Wayne Bradburn announces today.

Principals and supervisors will report for work on August 19th, and the county-wide faculty meeting is slated on Sept. 1st, at 10:00 a. m.

Supt. Bradburn also announces that there will be no school on Sept. 23rd, the date of the NCEA district meeting in Asheville. Schools will also be closed on Nov. 4th, which is election day.

Schools will close on Wednesday, Nov. 26th for the Thanksgiving holidays, and will reopen on —Turn to Page Eight

The Weather

More Than 1,000 Attend Final Concert Of Festival Of Music

The Brevard Music center closed its festival week of music Sunday with a packed audience of approximately 1,000 persons to hear pianist Ruth Slenczynska.

Latecomers were turned back at the outer gate of the mountainside music camp, but those who heard the concert were well rewarded.

She opened with the "Chopin Concerto No. 2 For Piano and Orchestra" and closed with the colorful and delicate "Rhapsody On A Theme Of Paganini," by Rachmaninoff. The audience gave her a standing ovation.

The Transylvania Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of

James Christian Pfohl, contributed the "Magic Fair" of Carlos Furinach, a contemporary Spanish composer, who sent a telegram of appreciation to Dr. Pfohl from New York, his current residence. The concert ended with the Brahms "Academic Festival Overture."

Miss Slenczynska told those who came to congratulate her that she owed more than just the opportunity to appear here to the people of Brevard.

Although she arrived on Friday, only one of her two pieces of luggage caught up with her late Saturday, and the missing piece contained her concert dress.
