Increased Enrollment Reported As Transylvania Schools Begin Year

BRADBURN TALKS ON EDUCATION AT MEETING MONDAY

Progressive Changes Made In Curricula, Supervisor Tells Group

SUPT. QUOTED

As a forerunner to the opening of schools for the 1958-'59 term, Supt. Wayne Bradburn delivered an inspiring message on the importance of education and the role of the teachers at the annual meeting of principals and teachers in the Brevard high school auditorium.

Mr. Bradburn described education as the salvation to modern society.

"Education makes people easy to lead, but difficult to drive. Easy to govern, but impossible to enslave," he declared.

He urged the teachers to make the educational process interesting, rich and difficult.

He continued by asking the teachers to unsettle the minds of the students through education, which also widens their horizons, inflames their intellect and teaches.

TOTAL ATTENDING FIRST DAY 3,952, 3,902 LAST YEAR

Biggest Gain Said At Brevard High School. Other Figures Given

CAFETERIAS OPEN

Transylvania's schools opened on schedule this week, and a full day of activities began on Wednesday.

An increase in total enrollment was noted over last year's opening, and the largest number of students in history was reported at Brevard high school.

According to district principal, Robert Kimzey, the number of students attending on Wednesday morning was 727.

Total enrollment in the Transylvania school system was reported by Supt. Wayne Bradburn as being 3,952. Last year the schools opened with 3,902 students.

Supt. Bradburn expects the total figure to approach 4,000 during the next few days.

The enrollment at the other schools was: Penrose—317; Straus—391; Rosman elementary—502; Rosman high—277; T. C. Henderson—216; Brevard elementary—1,017; Pisgah Forest—289; and, Rosenwald—216.

In addition to Brevard high, other schools reporting a sizeable increase in enrollment included Rosman high school, Brevard elementary and Rosenwald, Mr. Bradburn stated.

Students went to school for a half day on Tuesday, and cafeterias opened on Wednesday.

Mr. Bradburn was high in his praise of the teachers and principals on Wednesday for handling of the opening of school so smoothly.

"Parents can rest assured that their children are receiving the best of care and treatment at our schools," he declared.

SAMS TO SPEAK AT GOP BANQUET

Candidate For Congress Will Be Heard Next Wednesday In Masonic Temple

Harold Sams, of Asheville, the Republican candidate for congress from the 12th congressional district, will be the principal speaker at the county-wide dinner meeting of Republicans in Transylvania county on Wednesday evening, Sept. 10th, at 7:00 o'clock in the Masonic temple.

The dinner is being sponsored by the Transylvania county Young Republicans club.

Gerald Owen is in charge of ticket sales, and he can be reached at 2-5511 during the day or at 3-4231 at night.

All Republicans in the county are invited and urged to attend the banquet.

College Preparing For Opening Of New Year, Facilities Are Expanded

McLarty Says Institution In Better Position Than Many Other Schools

BY STAFF WRITER

Recent expansion of facilities at Brevard College means that Brevard College is better prepared for increased enrollments than many other colleges, according to President Emmett K. McLarty.

In the last two years, Brevard College has opened a new wing to the women's dormitory with space for 100 students, and a new men's dormitory with space for 100 students.

With the increasing interest in engineering and science, which seems to appeal mostly to men, the space in the men's dormitories is this year coming to be at a premium.

Enrollment of women has increased, too, but there are still facilities for 50 young women. The Annabel Jones Hall, the new dormitory for women, named in honor of the wife of the chairman of the board of trustees, is one of the most beautiful and modern dormitories to be found in the south, Dr. McLarty explains. A spacious, beautifully furnished foyer, with a functionally designed fireplace at one side, and a recreation hall furnish facilities for social occasions.

A kitchen adjoining the foyer enables the young women to prepare refreshments for parties and get-togethers. The new wing of the dormitory has suite arrangements of two rooms each, with commodious closet and bathroom facilities for each suite. Lovely natural wood furnishings, and varied color schemes make the rooms most attractive.

Brevard College is fully accredited and, with its high standards of admission and academic work be—

School On Alcohol Studies To Open On Monday At The College

A School of Alcohol Studies, sponsored by the Western N. C. Conference Board of Temperance, opens Monday at Brevard College, according to Rev. Ray Swink, the director.

The purpose of the school is to train resource persons for district and local church activities, to provide an opportunity for exchange of ideas on this major social issue and to develop new techniques in handling current temperance problems.

Resource personnel in the school will be as follows: Dr. O. Floyd Feely, Jr., instructor in Psychology

City Fathers Hold September Meeting

The Brevard board of aldermen meeting, postponed from Monday night until Tuesday, because of Labor Day was uneventful with little business to come before the board.

A group of citizens appeared to complain about the loud sounding of horns at the drive-ins late at night. The board agreed to appeal to the drive-in owners to put up

Routine Matters Are Discussed By The County Board

The Transylvania county board of commissioners discussed several routine business matters at the regular September meeting Tuesday morning at the court house.

The board accepted, with regrets, the resignation of Bill Garmon, assistant county agent. Mr. Garmon has entered Clemson college, where he will work on his master's degree.

Mark Osborne and Walter Hart appeared before the board in regards to a plumbing code for the county, similar to that of the town of Brevard. The county attorney

Patrolman Warns Against Passing Of School Buses

Patrolman Jack Cabe today warns Transylvania motorists that it is against the law to pass a stopped school bus while it is receiving or discharging school students.

The law specifically says that vehicles approaching in any direction must stop. Persons violating this law can be fined not to exceed $50, or imprisoned not to exceed 30 days.

Since school opened on Tuesday, Patrolman Cabe says that many motorists have not heeded this law, particularly on the new four-lane highway from Pisgah Forest into Brevard.

"The law applies to a four-lane highway just as it does to a dual one," Patrolman Cabe points out.

He concluded by saying: "Do not pass a school bus when the stop sign is out!"

One Highway Accident Reported. Brevard Band Makes Hit, H'ville

The Labor Day week end was quietly observed in Transylvania, with all stores being closed, as well as town and county offices.

According to the Highway patrol, only one accident was reported on the highways of the county.

A record number of visitors was noted in the community, and the recreational areas of the Pisgah national forest were filled to overflowing.

Many Transylvanians attended the Apple Festival parade in Hendersonville Monday afternoon, and the Brevard high school band, dressed in new uniforms, complete with Bermuda shorts, made a big hit with the crowd.

Patrolman Jack Cabe reported that a convertible, driven by Ben Bolt, of Lake Toxaway, overturned Saturday night on the Old Toxaway road. The car was practically demolished, and the driver suffered minor injuries.

Among the local persons attending the Southern 500 race at Darlington Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Few Lyda, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Mitchell, Bill McKelvin, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cassell and son and Marty Osborne.
