Two Charlotte Youths Are Caught Robbing Store, To Be Tried Here

SUPERIOR COURT TO OPEN MONDAY, MANY ON DOCKET

Judge Patton Will Preside First Week. Craven Will Follow

CALENDAR REVIEWED

A busy two-weeks' term of Superior court opens on Monday, March 30th, here in the Transylvania court house.

Judge George Patton will preside over the criminal docket, while Judge J. B. Craven, Jr., will hear the civil calendar the following week.

According to Clerk of Superior Court Marvin McCall, the majority of the cases involves traffic violations, and the principal case will be that of first degree burglary against Fred Sidney Little and Sandy Lee Garrison, of Charlotte, who were captured breaking into Mack's place at Cedar Mountain last Thursday morning.

More than 50 persons will face speeding charges in court here next week. Most of them were nabbed by the local highway patrolmen, who have been using an unmarked patrol car during the past week.

According to Patrolman Jack Cobe, some 50 more persons have been caught speeding since the —Turn to Page Ten

MACK'S PLACE

TWO CHARLOTTE YOUTHS broke into Mack's place near Cedar Mountain last Thursday morning about 3:00 o'clock, but they were captured while robbing the cash register by Garland and Douglas Corn. Their father, Mack Corn, is shown above showing Sheriff "Scott" Dillingham, how the pair broke the glass and entered the store through the front door. They will be tried here in Superior court next week. (Times Staff Photo)

CORN BROTHERS CAPTURE PAIR, MACK'S PLACE

Little And Garrison Face First Degree Burglary Charges In Court

Two young robbers were caught "in the act" last Thursday morning about 3:00 o'clock as they attempted to rifle the cash register at Mack's place near Cedar Mountain.

The youthful pair, Fred Sidney Little, 18, and Sandy Lee Garrison, 16, of Charlotte, face first degree burglary charges in criminal court here next week.

They were captured by Garland and Douglas Corn, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Corn, and were held at gun point by the Corn brothers, while their father called the officers.

Douglas and Garland were sleeping in the back of Mack's place, a combination service station and grocery store, when they heard glass being broken in the front door.

Apparently, the robbers were unaware of the fact that someone might be in the store, and they proceeded to pry open the cash register.

The Corn brothers, meanwhile, armed themselves with a pistol and a shotgun and watched the robbers from the rear of the room for a few moments.

Although Little and Garrison were armed with a pistol, they made no attempt to use it or to escape. Mr. Corn, who lives in the house adjacent to the store, arrived on the scene and immediately called local officers.

According to Mr. Corn, the youths "sweated it out" some 20 minutes before the lawmen arrived.

Both of them are being held in the county jail, and according to Sheriff "Scott" Dillingham, they have admitted to breaking and entering and larceny of automobiles at Charlotte, at Pickens, S. C., and Walthalla, S. C.

At the time of their capture, they were driving a '56 Ford that had been stolen in Pickens county. "Loot" that they had in their possession. —Turn to Page Five

UF COMMITTEE MAKING PLANS FOR NEW YEAR

First Quarterly Session Held Wednesday, New Directors Are Named

The executive committee of Transylvania's United Fund held a busy session at the first quarterly meeting of the New Year.

Meeting at Gaither's at Wednesday noon, the committee heard various reports and took various action.

The new president, Leslie Grogan, appointed the following members to the executive committee: Robert Baker, Charles Russell and Rev. Ben Ormand.

The service here in the Presbyterian church will begin promptly at 6:15 o'clock and it will be conducted by Rev. Ben Ormand, the pastor.

Special music is being planned. Carl Hart, president of the Brevard Jaycees, cordially invites the public to attend the sunrise service here. Sponsorship of the Easter Sunrise Service is an annual project of the Brevard Jaycees.

TWO FIRES OVER PAST WEEK

The Brevard fire department answered two alarms during the past week, and damages were reported to be at a minimum. Last Thursday afternoon a chimney fire was reported at the Jack Frady residence in the Little River section, and the firemen kept the blaze from spreading. Tuesday afternoon they battled a woods-brush fire off Rice street.

Round-Up Is Made. Schools To Close On Friday And On Monday

Transylvania churches are planning many special services during the Easter week end, and the town and county schools will be closed on Friday and on Monday for the observance.

Several offices in the town and county will be closed on Monday, as will the bank and the post office.

The tax collector's office will be open on Monday, C. M. Douglas, the tax collector, announces.

Brevard college will observe the spring holidays all next week, closing at noon on March 28th, and resuming classes again on Monday, April 6th.

The initial event of the Easter observance here was a concert of sacred music here last Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church by the Brevard Civic chorus, which was conducted by Prof. Nelson Adams and M. Thomas Cousins.

Many churches in the town and county are planning parties and egg hunts this Easter week end.

At Methodist Church

Special Holy Week services are being held at the Brevard Methodist church, and climaxing them will be a Maundy Thursday Holy communion service Thursday evening.

WPNF Program Highlights

Easter Sunrise Service To Be Heard, Plans Being Made To Air Baseball

The Easter Sunrise Service on Sunday morning at the Brevard-Davidson River Presbyterian church will be broadcast over WPNF Sunday morning, beginning at 6:15 o'clock, Bobby Hoyle, station manager, announces today.

Sponsoring this public service broadcast are Citizens Telephone company and WPNF. "We are carrying this program because there are many sick and shut-ins who will be unable to attend and would love to hear the service," Mr. Hoyle declared. Mr. Hoyle also announces that WPNF is making plans to broadcast big league baseball again this year.

"We know that this is good news to thousands of our listeners," he commented.
