Mrs. Schmidt Has Article In DAR National Magazine

Mrs. Howard Schmidt, of the Waightstill Avery Chapter, DAR, is the author of an interesting article entitled "Famous Trees of North Carolina," in the current issue of Daughters of the American Revolution magazine, which is published by the National Society, DAR.

"This is the first time that a member of our group has had an article published in the magazine, and we feel it is quite an honor for Mrs. Schmidt," Mrs. T. C. Galloway, regent of the local chapter, stated.

Monarchs of the forest witnessed many stirring events in the founding of the Old North State, stated Mrs. Schmidt in the article; some of them are standing today—perpetual monuments to our intrepid pioneers.

In the article she lists trees now famous as landmarks including the Battleground Oak and the Revolutionary Oak, both in Guilford county; the Marryin' Tree on the Mitch-

Rollman Swaps Demo Donkey For GOP Elephant

Heinz Rollman, of Waynesville, German-born shoe manufacturer who ran a strong second in last year's Democratic Congressional primary, has switched to the Republican Party. He changed his registration from Democrat to Republican in his Waynesville precinct on Oct. 10, Haywood county election officials said Monday.

Rollman's defection was received with mixed reaction in the 12th Congressional District. Democratic Party officials withheld any critical comment while Republican leaders expressed general satisfaction. The general consensus among competent political observers is that only strong opposition from industrial and business leaders will keep the Republican nomination from him in 1960.

Rollman's decision to switch party affiliation followed a series of conferences with Republican Party leaders including GOP State Chairman William E. Cobb of Morganton, National Committeeman J. E. Broyhill of Lenoir, District Chairman Orville Coward of Sylva, and county chairmen in the 12th district. He met with Chairman Coward and county chairmen in Dillsboro Sept. 29.

These Republican officials said they welcomed Rollman into their party but all insisted they had made no commitments.

Brevard College Trustees Are Given Progressive Report At Annual Fall Meet

Brevard college trustees adopted a budget of nearly one half million dollars, discussed plans for future development of the school and heard one of America's leading administrative consultants at the fall meeting of the board here.

President Emmett K. McLarty reported to the board that the college is enjoying one of its best years in the past decade.

He praised the high calibre of the student body, which is over 400 and said the college has one of the finest faculties and staffs in history.

The budget of $474,183 was approved at the spring meeting and was formally adopted at the fall session. All indications point to the school operating "in the black" during the ensuing year.

Dr. Thomas L. Jones, administrative consultant of the Association of American colleges, spent three days on the Brevard college campus last week and he reported to the board that the local institution is doing a marvelous job in the field of education and religion.

The possibilities and potentialities of the local college are unlimited, he predicted. He also lauded the trustees and the assistance they are rendering, and he concluded his inspirational address with several recommendations.

Edwin L. Jones, of Charlotte, the chairman of the board presided over the meeting, which was concluded with a luncheon for the trustees and their wives. Some 30 members of the board were in attendance at the meeting.

Solicitors Busy

United Fund Thermometer Beginning To Climb Rapidly

The huge thermometer on the court house square indicates that the United Fund has started in earnest as the first plateau of $5,000 has been reached.

"Many solicitors are rapidly covering their assignments," said John A. Ford, campaign chairman, "and I urge that all of them complete their list as soon as possible."

An outstanding report of the week was made by Don Blankenship, who organized the solicitation at the DuPont plant. His report indicated that over 173 Pledges were made, with most of them on the payroll basis.

"We have many employees who live outside of Transylvania county," said Mr. Blankenship. "They, of course make their pledges in their local communities."

Leslie Grogan, plant manager of the DuPont here and president of the Transylvania United Fund reported that the company donation had been increased substantially this year. "We must all do a little bit more this year in order to meet our budget," he said.

A report from the United Fund office on Main street indicated that many contributions this year had been raised over last year.

Other outstanding pledges were received from the following this week:

Eugene Bishop, Perkins Oil company, Bryant Electric, Bridges Coal and Oil company, Brevard Lumber company, Lucy M. C. Moltz, Brevard Elks, Mr. and Mrs. George Gross, R. L. Daniels, Henry C. McDonald, Southern Dairies and others.
