

TWO ACCIDENTS, due to the ice and snow in Transylvania, are pictured above. In the top picture is a heavy road scraper of the State Highway department, which slid off the slippery highway in the Pisgah National forest. William C. Mann, who was the driver, was uninjured in the accident. He had been plowing the deep snow off US 276 from the Pink Beds to Wagon Road Gap. Two college students, Kent Dorsey and Michael Sweeney, miraculously escaped injury when the car they were driving, which is shown in the bottom photo, went out of control on the ice and snow near Cedar Mountain, wrapping itself, finally, around a tree. (Times Staff Photos)

$50,000 Grant Is Made To College, Earmarked For New Science Building

A & P Reopening Thursday In New Location

The Brevard A&P super market, which was destroyed on February 7, by fire, will reopen on Thursday morning of this week in its new temporary location at 41 East Main street in the Schulman building.

The building, which was formerly occupied by a super market, has been completely renovated and repainted.

It has been stocked with new merchandise, and the temporary location is across from Belk's.

Harry Sellers, the manager, cordially invites the public to come and to register for free prizes.

On Saturday night of this week a Dermeyer electric fryer will be awarded, and other prizes and the dates they will be given away are as follows: Westinghouse roaster oven, March 5; and, a White sewing machine on March 12. Between now and that time eight punch bowl sets will be awarded.

Mr. Sellers says that 10 food baskets will also be given away each week for the next three weeks.

Concerns Damaged By Fire Now In Other Quarters

The two businesses adjoining the A&P super market, which was recently destroyed by fire, have moved into new locations.

Owenby Brothers Amoco service has purchased Brevard Amoco station on Caldwell street.

Fred and Henry Owenby, the owners, cordially invite their customers to visit them at their new location.

Gene Wilson, the former owner of Brevard Amoco, has moved his radiator and tire repair shop to 315 North Caldwell street, next to Pis-

Lambert Is District And State Corn Growing Champ

Carringer Will Sing With NC Symphony

Appearing with the North Carolina Little Symphony at three Western North Carolina concerts

Hugh N. Lambert, prominent farmer of route 1, Brevard, has been declared the champion corn grower in Western North Carolina as well as in the entire state of North Carolina. For being the State Corn champion, Mr. Lambert was awarded a $50 Savings bond and a certificate by the North Carolina Seedman's association. Last Saturday afternoon Mr. Lambert was honored at the 100-Bushel Corn club luncheon in Asheville, which was sponsored by the Farmers Federation. At that time he was awarded $100 for being the district winner. According to Mr. Davis, Mr. Lambert will be the principal speaker at the annual Transylvania 100-Bushel Corn club banquet on March 4. Another Transylvanian was honored at the luncheon in Asheville's George Vanderbilt hotel last Saturday. He was James Arthur Whitmire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitmire, of the Calvert section of this county. Young Whitmire was the top FFA member at the meeting, and he was presented with a $25 award. The Calvert youth produced 134.9 bushels of corn on an acre of land. Young Whitmire, who is a member of the Rosman FFA, was accompanied to the banquet by B. E. Keisler, agricultural teacher at Rosman. Whitmire will also be honored at the Transylvania banquet along with Mr. Lambert on March 4. The event will be held in the Straus school cafeteria. —Turn to Page Ten

Mr. And Mrs. Grier Beam Are Donors, Background Given

A gift of $50,000 to Brevard college from Mr. and Mrs. Grier Beam, of Cherryville, is announced today by President Emmett K. McLarty.

A trustee of Brevard college, Mr. Beam is president of the Carolina Freight Carriers corporation, of Cherryville.

The $50,000 gift is to be directed toward financing the construction of a new science building at the college. It will be paid over a period of four years.

According to Dr. McLarty, Mr. Beam has proved his friendship to Brevard college over the years by his generosity and interest. He is a graduate of Weaver college, one of the institutions which merged to form Brevard college.

Follows $100,000 Challenge Grant

On January 8, of this year a challenge grant was made to Brevard college by the Mary Reynolds Babcock foundation, Inc., of $100,000, to be paid when the college has raised $200,000 for the purpose of constructing a science building.

Two gifts have been received by the college toward meeting this challenge.

The Delphian Society, a local college social club, presented Dr. McLarty with a check last week. The club cancelled one of its social functions in order to make the contribution. In expressing appreciation to the representatives of the club, Dr. McLarty recalled that the name of the society is derived from the ancient oracle of Delphi, renowned for its wisdom and its divination into the future, forecasting coming events. Dog Clinics Are Scheduled In Transylvania

Plans are now being made for the annual series of dog clinics in Transylvania county, which will begin on March 8th, Wade Bagwell, the dog warden, announces.

The schedule of clinics will include vaccination stops at practically every community in the county. The first is set for Little River at Merrill's Store, and 26 clinics will be held through April 21st.

"Since January 1, 1958, three-year chick embryo vaccine has been used in this county to protect dogs against rabies. Hence all dogs vaccinated since that date and issued a 1958 (red), 1959 (green) or 1960 (yellow) N. C. State Board of Health vaccination tag do not need to be vaccinated during 1960. All other dogs must be vaccinated," Mr. Bagwell stated.

A complete schedule of clinics is carried on page eight, second section.

"The Thirteenth Chair," a murder mystery by Bayard Veilier, will be presented as the second production this season of the Brevard Little Theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings in the Brevard college auditorium.

The play was originally scheduled for last Friday and Saturday, and was postponed due to illness in the cast, according to Jim Hicklin, president of the group.

A large and outstanding cast of players has been assembled for the production. Making their local debut will be Fred Reig, Ted Gambol, Pat Price, Jane Thomas, Peggy Toole, Bob Templeton, Dick Burnette, Gertrude Summey, Don Roberts and Tom Watson. Previous performers include Pat Fuleihan, Emma Lou Truesdail, Mel Everingham, Ray Burgin, Doris Medd and Martha Sader.

Robroy Farquhar, known to many as the veteran director of the Vagabond Playhouse at Flat Rock, is the director. Jean Dixon,

Supplemental Funds Favored By P-TA Group

The need of additional money for various phases of the Transylvania county school system was recognized Tuesday night at the February meeting of the Brevard junior high school P-TA.

The members of this group of well over 100 parents and teachers expressed the desire to provide an ever improving educational system for the young people of this county. In order to do this, it is felt that supplemental funds must be obtained.

A resolution pointing up the feelings of this active organization was adopted and reads as follows:

"It is recognized that the school system of Transylvania county needs supplemental funds in order to prevent the quality of education provided from deteriorating and in order to keep up with modern developments in the field of education.

"To be able to retain well qualified teachers, and to be able to attract additional well qualified teachers in the county, a supplemental financial inducement must be offered.

"To be able to provide a high quality county school system, sufficient money must be available for adequate maintenance, renovation —Turn to Page Four

Many Transylvanians Will Aid In Heart Fund Drive On Sunday

Encouragement for Heart fund volunteers on their door-to-door march in Transylvania and throughout the nation on Heart Sunday, February 28th, came today from religious leaders of all principal faiths, according to Walter Straus, Heart Fund chairman of Transylvania county.

Many North Carolina ministers will mention the significance of the day in church bulletins or from their pulpits. In this county, approximately 50 volunteer collectors will take part in the afternoon neighborhood visits to accept individual gifts to the Heart Fund. "Our gifts will make us the partners of those research scientists who are working to find out more about the causes and cures of the heart and blood vessel diseases," said Mr. Straus. "We can't all do heart research or treat heart patients, but we can give generously to support the search for better methods of caring for heart disease victims."

Typical of the statements was the following: "The Twelfth Annual Heart Fund campaign turns —Turn to Page Ten
