

New Fish Cultural Station Is Located In Beautiful Mountain Setting

(Times Staff Photos)

THE SCENES ABOVE depict the fact that the new fish hatchery in the Pisgah National forest is located in one of nature's most beautiful wonderlands. The area was previously known as Johns

Rock Camping grounds, and in the photograph at the right Johns Rock itself furnishes a magnificent backdrop for the administration building. The extended raceways, which are filled with Rainbow, Brook and Brown trout, can be noted in the center. Other facilities of the hatchery included a workshop, five residences, paved parking lots, dams on Davidson river and Grogan's creek and garages.

4-H Drive Underway In County

A Transylvania 4-H Development fund committee has been set up to raise the county's part of a statewide million dollar goal, Jim Davis, county agent, announces today.

Transylvania quota is $2,500, and already several fine contributions have been received, Mr. Davis says.

Charles L. Russell is chairman of the group, and serving with him are John Anderson, vice chairman, and C. M. Douglas, secretary-treasurer.

According to Chairman Russell, the 4-H Development fund is to be used for strengthening the camp program across North Carolina.

The statewide campaign is headed by Bill Garmon, former assistant county agent in Transylvania, and he reports that some $200,000 of the million dollar goal has been subscribed.

Civic clubs, industries and others in Transylvania have already been contacted, and the drive will be carried into all parts of the county.

This district has already received $40,000 which was used to complete a new swimming pool and kitchen at Camp Swannanoa to enable the camp to meet health requirements, and some minor improvements at Camp Schaub, near Waynesville. These two camps are attended by Transylvania county boys and girls.

The camp program is one of the highlights of the 4-H boys — Turn to Page Five BREVARD STREET FORCES have been busy during the past few days paving and repairing a number of the streets. The new tar distributor can be noted above in operation at the corner of Hilt street and Lake View drive. It was purchased recently on sealed bids by the town for $4,700. The truck on which it is mounted and the truck at the right, which is equipped with a spreader gate for even distribution of stone, were recently purchased by Town Manager Tom Henry from the State Highway Department for $250 each. Another large saving was made when the five to eight-ton tandem roller at the right was secured for five per cent of the new cost. (Times Staff Photo)

Publisher Reports From Moscow, Travels Described

By Mrs. Ed M. Anderson

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of articles written by the publisher of this paper, who with her daughter, was a member of the East-West Europe Study Mission sponsored by the National Editorial Association.)

Moscow — (Special) Having been well fed in Helsinki, the group boarded the Finnair jet to find within the next two hours a full dinner was served. Just after midnight they landed in Moscow and after going through the necessary passport checking the members were told they were invited to the large restaurant on the second floor to a dinner. The food was different and appetizing, so perhaps there never had been a group arriving in the capital of the USSR so well fed. Meeting the visitors at the airport, directing us to dinner and giving instructions from the beginning was the guide, Lidya Murhina who was to accompany the group, constantly.

Intourist, 1 Gorky St.

It might be well to explain that in this country where all property and facilities are owned and operated by the government, "Intourist" is the organization of the USSR in charge of all tourists. Lidya was the representative assigned to the NEA group. She informed us that the hotel assigned to the group was the Metropol. Boarding Intourist busses, this group of newspaper people arrived at the hotel in the early hours of the morning too sleepy to be excited.

Many To Attend Dedication Of New Hatchery In Pisgah Forest

Town Is Saving Money On Paving Of Its Streets

BY STAFF WRITER

Many Brevard citizens expressed surprise last week at seeing Town Manager Tom Henry performing various duties in the paving operations being done by the town forces.

Since none of the town workmen had had any experience in paving, Mr. Henry performed each job as he instructed them.

Actually, the paving process is an expensive and difficult one; but through the purchase of special equipment and the instruction of the local force, Town Manager Henry is saving a great deal of money for the town.

Paving was begun on Apple-tree street on Tuesday of last week, and Robinson street, Hilt street, and Lake View drive have now been completed.

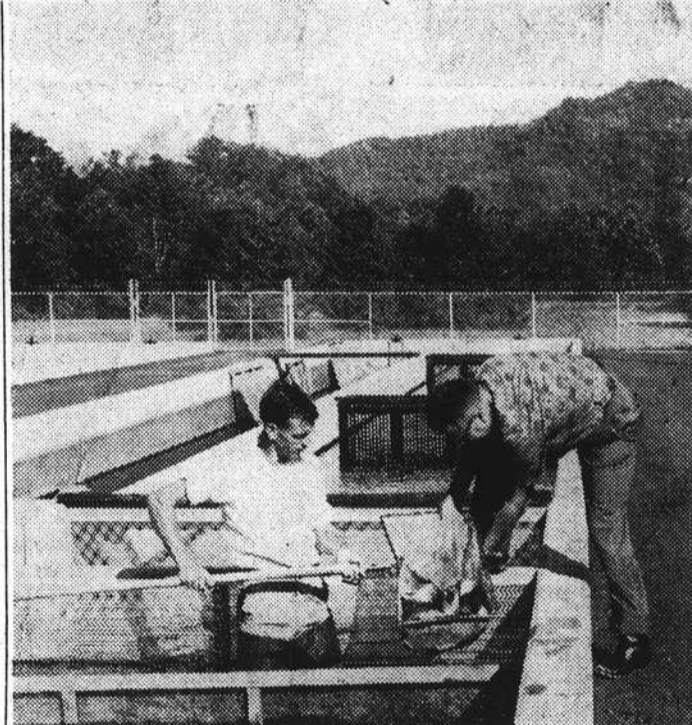

Seal coating has been done on Morgan, Duckworth and Oakdale streets, and a number of other streets are scheduled for — Turn to Page Ten

Wilson To Close Office For Week During October

George Wilson, the driver's license examiner here, will attend a special school in Chapel Hill during the second week of October.

Mr. Wilson reminds all persons whose licenses expire during that period to come in prior to that time for their examination.

His office will be closed on October 10, 11 and 12.

MAURICE BRYANT, manager of the new fish hatchery in the Pisgah National forest, is pictured at the right inspecting some of the large Rainbow trout which will be used to stock Western North Carolina streams. The inventory as of the first of the month revealed that there are some 455,000 Rainbow, Brook and Brown trout now being reared at the hatchery. Mr. Bryant cordially invites the public to attend the dedication of the new hatchery next Wednesday morning. (Times Staff Photo)

Directors of the Transylvania United Fund will meet Monday night, Sept. 26, at 8:00 o'clock in Gaither's Rhododendron room to approve the budget for 1961. President Gil Coan announces today.

J. M. Gaines is the general campaign chairman, and the drive will begin on October 4th, following a kick-off breakfast.

This will be Transylvania's sixth year under the "United" way, and all indications point to a successful campaign.

President Coan urges all citizens to give "once for all" when they are solicited in October.

James M. Wulpi, the executive director, is now making plans to open campaign headquarters on South Broad street.

RETURNS HOME

W. F. Short, a patient at Memorial Mission hospital for the past two months, has returned to his home and is improving satisfactorily.

Event Is Slated Sept. 28th

Approximately 1,200 persons are expected to attend the formal dedication of the new fish hatchery in the Pisgah National forest next Wednesday, September 28th.

The event is sponsored by the United States Department of Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service and Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife.

The Buncombe county Wildlife association and the Brevard Chamber of Commerce are hosts to the events, which will be attended by many state and federal dignitaries.

Bill Scarborough, of the Buncombe group, is chairman of the program committee, and Charles L. Russell and John I. Anderson are the official delegates from the Brevard organization.

Special music for the event will be furnished by the Brevard high school band, under the direction of John D. Eversman.

Ralph H. Ramsey, Jr., Transylvania county attorney, will give the address of welcome.

The dedication ceremony will begin at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, when the local band will give a 25-minute concert.

This will be followed by the presentation of the colors by the American legion color guard, the invocation and the address of welcome.

After four short addresses by representatives of the Pisgah National forest, the state, the North Carolina Wildlife — Turn To Page Five

Young Democrats Club Will Meet Tuesday Night

The Transylvania Young Democrats club will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday night, Sept. 27, in the court room.

According to President Jack Hudson, the meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock, and it will be highlighted by the election of officers.

Plans for the General Election campaign will be discussed, and he urges all young Democrats and others interested in the club to attend.
