

Response To UF Is Good

Contributions continue to pour into the Transylvania United Fund, and J. M. Gaines, the general chairman, urges all solicitors to complete their rounds as soon as possible.

Town employees duplicated their giving last year by participating 100 per cent in the new drive, Mr. Gaines adds.

Mayor B. H. Freeman was the first to congratulate the town forces on their "giving once for all".

Rosman high school, Rosman Elementary and Straus completed their drives during the past week, and Mr. Gaines also gave special thanks to the following: WPNF, post office employees, Dr. B. E. Greer, of Greenville, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. George B. Gross; Grapette Bottling company, of Asheville; and, Blue Ridge Trucking lines, also of Asheville.

Charles L. Russell reports that the UF drive will probably be completed this week at Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, and these contributions should make the thermometer on the court house lawn "zoom up."

The campaign headquarters at 5 Broad street will close next Saturday and solicitors should report in by that time.

First Baptists Set Dedication Service Sunday

A "Service of Dedication" of the music ministry of the First Baptist church will be held at the evening worship hour on Sunday, October 30th, at 8:00 p. m., with special music sung by each of the graded choirs. This will be the first performance by the children's choirs since their organization this new year.

Some 130 boys and girls will demonstrate some of the things they have learned in the music ministry of their age group. The choirs to participate are: Beginner Music activity, Celestial choir, Carol choir, Crusader choir, and Chapel choir.

Mrs. Erwin Schranz is director of the Beginner music activity group, with Mrs. Leo Aiken as assistant; Mrs. W. Harold Killian directs the Celestial choir, and Mrs. Bud Hunter serves as assistant; and Ray E. Childers, minister of music and education of the church, directs the Carol, Crusader and Chapel choirs.

Johnny Bradburn will be the organist for the service with the choir pianists assisting at the piano.

Eastatoe Is Top Community In Transylvania, Awards Made Monday

The Eastatoe community, a progressive section of upper Transylvania, has been adjudged as the first place winner of the 1960 Rural Development contest in the county.

The announcement was made at the Awards banquet on Monday night at the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, and a check for $200 was presented to the Eastatoe community.

The Cedar Mountain community, a winner in previous contests in the county, won second place and was awarded $100.00. Pisgah Forest, top community last year, was third, and received $50.00.

Freeman Hayes, chairman of the Transylvania board of commissioners, and Morris McGough, executive vice president of the Asheville Agricultural council, made the awards.

The principal address of the evening was made by R. W. "Bob" Long, specialist in community development from State college, Raleigh.

County Agent Jim Davis presided, and the invocation was by Rev. Dan Wallen.

Introductions were by Randal J. Lyday, and some 90 persons attended the auspicious occasion.

The Eastatoe community is now in the Western North Carolina Rural Development contest, and the awards will be made in Asheville on December 3rd.

Cedar Mountain will represent Transylvania in a new division of the WNC contest.

Prizes will be offered in this category for the community having the best youth program.

Winners in the other division of the Transylvania contest this year were as follows:

Saturday Is Last Day For Registration

Tom Wilson, chairman of the Transylvania county board of elections, reminds all voters that Saturday is the last day to register for the General on November 8th.

The books will be open from 9:00 a. m., until sunset, and the following Saturday will be challenge day.

Mr. Wilson urges all newcomers, persons who have become 21 years of age since the last election and others who have moved from one precinct to another to be sure to check with the registrar and register this Saturday.

"If there is any doubt in your mind whatsoever, please check with the precinct officials," he requests.

Coleman Wins Contest

Carol Coleman, 6th grade student in Mrs. Pickelsimer's room, won the first place ribbon in the Halloween Poster contest held at Brevard Elementary school.

Patty Willis, of Mrs. Bagwell's 4th grade, won the second place ribbon.

Mrs. R. J. Lombardo, art contest chairman of the PTA was in charge of the arrangements for the competition. The judges were Mrs. Donald H. Hill and Mrs. Ralph Palmer, assisted by Prof. Kenneth DuBois of the Brevard College art department.

First, second and third place ribbons were awarded in each room, and many of the winners are now on display in the windows of Brevard's merchants. Carol Coleman's picture is at Austin's Studio and Patty Willis' is at Duke Power company.

Blue ribbon winners and their grades are as follows: 1st grade, Paul Goldsmith; 2nd grade, Gary Allison, Martha and Nancy Combs; 3rd grade, Charles Carr, David Carter, Cheryl Scammell and Dick Stricker; 4th grade, Amelia Cox, Robert Riddle, Bill Siniard and Patty Willis; 5th —Turn to Page Six

TO HELP THE WORLD'S CHILDREN, black cats and goblins of all sizes will ring doorbells on Monday night, October 31st, to "trick or treat" for UNICEF.

From 7:00 to 8:30 p.m., Transylvania children will fill their containers with pennies, nickels and dimes to aid this worthy cause. The black cat pictured above is Leonard Monteith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Monteith. (Times Staff Photo)

Girl Scout Council Honors Founders This Saturday

The Pisgah Girl Scout Council will "honor the past, serve the future" when it presents founders of local troops in the 13-county area to Girl Scouts, Brownies, and adult volunteers at a Juliette Low Founder's Day program at William Randolph School in Asheville at 2:00 o'clock on Saturday, October 29th.

Some 600 Girl Scouts are expected to attend, and scouts from each county represented will present pins to their founders.

Among those to be honored are Mrs. H. Harold Vogler, of Winston-Salem, formerly Miss Elizabeth Zachary of Brevard, who founded the first Girl Scout troop in Transylvania county in 1924.

Miss Annette Patton was the first assistant, and Miss Bertie Ballard was also among the first adults working in girl scouting. Mrs. Spalding McIntosh, Jr., is currently preparing a history of Girl Scouting in Transylvania county, and asked that anyone who has any information which might be useful to contact her. Halloween goblins, witches, black cats, and skeletons will be ringing doorbells in Transylvania county on Monday evening, October 31st.

But the "trick or treat" they will be seeking is not the traditional candy, gum, apples, and other goodies.

For the first time, the youngsters of Transylvania will be asking for contributions to UNICEF. This is the United Nations Children's fund organization and it is appropriate that the children of the United States are collecting money to aid less fortunate children in other parts of the world.

The UNICEF program in Transylvania county is a part of the United Nations Day observance, and Mrs. Walker Milner is chairman.

Church bells will ring at 7:00 o'clock Monday evening, calling all the children to their various churches. There they will be given their UNICEF cartons and tags.

From 7:00 to 8:30 o'clock, they will collect money for this worthy cause, and then return to their churches to turn their cartons of money.

Transylvanians are urged to be prepared when they answer the doorbell on Monday evening and hear "Trick or treat for UNICEF."

Jury Trials Are Now Underway, Verdicts Listed

Many cases are being disposed of this week, as the criminal slate of the October term of Superior court is being tried here in the court house.

The civil docket will follow, and Judge P. C. Fromberger, of Gastonia, is presiding, with Leonard Lowe, of Forest City, prosecuting for the state.

Most of the court's time on Monday was devoted to submissions, and jury trials were heard on Tuesday. As far as it was possible, Wednesday's time was taken up with non-support cases.

When The Times went to press, a jury was hearing the case of State Vs. Ronald Morgan, who was charged with speeding.

Highlighting Tuesday cases were the ones of Howard Patterson, J. Harold Pressley, Jeanie McNeely and Joseph Kenneth Gravelly.

There were found guilty by a jury, and the verdicts were: Patterson, three to five years for breaking and entering and 12 months for larceny; Pressley, the same sentence; McNeely, two years; and Gravelly was put on probation.

WNC Engineers Club To Hold Guidance Day

The Engineer's Club of Western North Carolina is sponsoring its eighth annual Vocational Guidance Day on Thursday, November 3, at Brevard College.

Students interested in engineering as a profession from seventy public and private high schools and junior colleges in the nine counties of Buncombe, Haywood, Henderson, Madison, McDowell, Polk, Rutherford, Transylvania and Yancey are invited to attend the program.

Faculty members from the School of Engineering of North Carolina State College will present the program.

Faculty members from the School of Engineering of North Carolina State College will present the program, explaining the requirements, costs, and awards for entering engineering profession.

At a general meeting Thursday morning the students will hear a panel discussion on the subject "Engineering as a Career" led by Professor W. E. Adams. The panelists, representing different fields in the profession, will include: Professors W. W. Austin, E. G. Manning, C. R. McCullough, A. W. Futral and C. G. Mumford.

After the formal presentation of the information, students will meet with panel members for informal group discussions.

Carnival Set Monday At Pisgah Forest

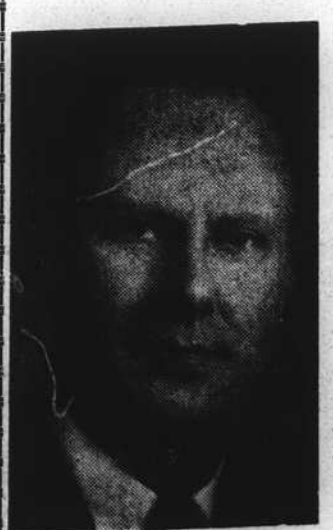

The annual Halloween carnival sponsored by the Pisgah Forest community club will be held on Monday, October 31st, at the club house.

The food booth will open at 7:00 o'clock, and other activities will begin at 7:30 o'clock, according to Mrs. Charles Fudge, general chairman of the event.

Bingo and other games will be played throughout the evening, and prizes will be awarded. Highlighting the occasion will be the crowning of the king and queen.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Gavin Leads GOP Caravan To Transylvania Saturday

The Republican caravan, led by Robert L. Gavin, Republican candidate for Governor, will visit Brevard and Transylvania counties on Saturday, October 28th, at approximately 2:30 p. m.

The Republican candidates for the state offices will be with Mr. Gavin. Included also will be Heinz Rollman, candidate for Congress from the 12th Congressional District.

Mr. Gavin and Mr. Rollman will make a short address from court house lawn.

The Republican Caravan will stay in Brevard approximately 30 minutes and move on to Asheville by the way of Hendersonville.

Fall Harvest Friday At Straus School

Plans for the Fall Harvest supper, sponsored by the Straus School P.T.A., were made at the meeting last Tuesday night.

This will be a baked ham supper and will be served in the school cafeteria on Friday, October 28th, from 4:30 to 7:30.

A transistor radio will be given as a door prize.

The program at the meeting consisted of choral readings and songs by the second and third grades. Parents also visited their children's classes for discussions with their teachers.

Mrs. Lyday's third grade had the largest number of parents attending.

Sanford Will Be At Local Court House Sat. Morning

Terry Sanford, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, will bring his campaign to Brevard this weekend.

Party leaders said a large turnout is expected when Mr. Sanford will appear here in the Brevard court house at 10:00 Saturday morning.

Mr. Sanford will discuss his views on schools, roads, industry and other aspects of his program for North Carolina, with special emphasis on the mountain region.

All interested persons in Transylvania are cordially invited to meet with him at that time.

Many local Democrats are also planning to hear Mr. Sanford when he delivers an address in the Hendersonville court house on Friday night at 8:00 o'clock.
