Santa Returns To Brevard Each Weekend

The merchants division of the chamber of commerce held a committee meeting on Tuesday night to finalize plans for the holiday activities in Brevard.

In offering praise to the various committees, it was unanimously agreed that the new Christmas lighting system in Brevard is a vast improvement over former year's lights. Also, that last week's parade was the finest ever held here.

The Santa Claus committee reported that Santa's headquarters have been erected on the court house lawn, in front of the library, and that Santa will be available at his new house each Thursday, Friday, and Saturday afternoons from 4:00 until 5:00 o'clock p.m., to greet his many little friends.

The trade festival committee announced that to assure full success to this year's event, a four-day extension is being effected, in order to give customers four additional days to collect the valuable trade tickets as they do their Christmas shopping. The final drawing will be held at 10:00 o'clock a.m. on Thursday, December 15, at the same location on West Main Street.

A special talk on the history of Transylvania county will be presented over station WPNF on Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock p.m.

As Oliver H. Orr, past president of the Transylvania Historical association addressed the meeting of the Methodist Men's Club on Tuesday night, a radio recording was made for broadcast at this more convenient hour, Bobby Hoyle, station manager announces.

"Mr. Orr is well versed on the history of this county, and as we approach our centennial celebration, this program should be of great interest to all listeners," Mr. Hoyle concluded.

Business Tempo Picking Up, "Trade At Home"

An estimated crowd of 12,000 persons attended the gigantic parade in Brevard last Thursday, and it was said to have been "Brevard's biggest and best".

The event signalled the opening of the 1960 Christmas shopping season in Brevard, and climaxed the parade was Ole Santa himself, riding high atop a beautiful float.

The parade featured the bands of Brevard, Hendersonville and Canton, 12 profession floats, more than a dozen other entries and beauty queens of Brevard high school and Brevard college.

The color guards of the Monroe Wilson post of the American legion led the parade up Main street, down Caldwell, back to Broad and then to the college.

A survey in Brevard reveals that the tempo of shopping has noticeably stepped up, and the stores are well-stocked with Christmas merchandise.

The multi-colored lights, more extensive than ever before, were turned on during the parade last Thursday, and parents are particularly urged to bring the children to town during the evening hours to see the beautiful lights.

Once again the officials of the merchants committee emphasize that it is good business to "shop at home" this Christmas.
