Modern Physical Education Building To Be Constructed On Campus Of Brevard College

Local Debaters Win, To Enter District Finals

Both the affirmative and the negative debating teams of Brevard Senior high school won unanimous decisions last Friday in the first round of the state triangular debates.

The affirmative team, consisting of Kay Foster and Jim Davidson, debated against the Erwin High School negative team in the local school auditorium.

Jon E. Anderson and Al Ross, who make up the negative team, defeated the affirmative team of Erwin High school at Erwin.

Both teams will represent Brevard later in the spring in the district contest which will be held at Appalachian State Teachers college, Boone.

The query being debated this year is: Resolved, that the United Nations should be significantly strengthened.

Mrs. Harry Clarke is the advisor this year, and she expressed much delight over the double victory of the local debaters last Friday.

Work Underway On Enlarged Athletic Fields

With construction proceeding rapidly on the modern science building at Brevard College, plans were approved at a meeting last Saturday of the Buildings and Grounds committee for the immediate erection of a new physical education plant.

Architect Henry C. McDonald submitted the plans which show the latest thinking in gymnasium construction.

This physical education building will include a tournament sized swimming pool, shower, locker and dressing rooms, as well as a class room, offices, training rooms, and areas for other indoor sports.

The principal basketball court has an area of 50 by 94 feet, and there are two cross courts. Seating capacity in the new gymnasium will be 1500.

Mr. McDonald hopes to have the completed plans and specifications ready for the advertisement for bids by April 20th.

Awarding of the contract will follow after the general meeting of the trustees of the college in May.

Construction is expected to commence shortly thereafter, and Mr. McDonald says that six to eight months will be required to erect the building.

According to Dr. Emmett K. McLarty, president of Brevard college, work has been started on the all-weather tennis courts, track and runways. The baseball field is being marked off, and spring practice, under the direction of Coach Gil Coan, is being held on the old baseball field at the present time.

The proposed gymnasium will be erected on the flat lands north of the present Campus Center building.

Rabies Vaccine Clinics Begin

The 1961 series of dog vaccination clinics was started in Transylvania this week, and they will continue through April 20th.

The first clinic was held on Tuesday in the Little River section at Merrill's store.

The second is slated for Thursday afternoon from 2:00 until 3:00 p.m., in the Blantyre section at the Neal Hawkins road junction.

The next will follow immediately in the Enon section at Bill Owenby's store until 4:00 o'clock. Saturday the clinic will be held at Pisgah Forest at the schoolhouse from 4:00 until 5:30 p.m.

On March 21st it will be held at Lyday's store at Davidson river from 3:00 until 4:00 p.m. According to Walter F. Hart, director of sanitation in Transylvania, the clinic schedule has been arranged for the convenience of as many people as possible.

The vaccine being used this year is of the three-year type, and the cost at the clinic is $1.00. Different color tags have been used in the clinics during recent years. —Turn to Page Ten.

THE BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS COMMITTEE of the Board of Trustees of Brevard college gave the green light to the constructing of a new physical education building on the campus of the local institution. Olin Mathieson Building New Quality Control Laboratories

The growth in sales volume and the increase in types and kinds of paper manufactured and sold has greatly increased the amount of testing required by Ecusta Paper operations' high quality standards.

To meet these requirements Ecusta is constructing new quality control laboratories at Pisgah Forest, according to A. J. Loeb, division vice president.

When completed, the new facilities will provide space for a physical testing laboratory, an IBM equipment room, a print testing laboratory and associated offices.

The 5,500 square-foot addition being erected on the roof of the inspection department.

Equipment is being installed in the print testing laboratory so that Ecusta lightweight printing papers may be tested under a wide range of humidities and temperatures, duplicating most conditions found in the printing industry.

The same conditions will be closely controlled in the physical testing laboratory.

The addition of this new space will also result in much needed office area for the sales service and records sections.

W. F. Taylor, Jr. is serving as project manager.

Potts Introduces Bill To Establish "Home Rule"

A bill to establish "home rule" for Transylvania county was introduced Monday night by Rep. Jack H. Potts, of Brevard, fulfilling a campaign pledge.

Mr. Potts' bill adds Transylvania to counties governed by general statutes which empower boards of county commissioners to determine the number of deputies, clerks, assistants and other employees in the offices of the Clerk of Superior court, register of deeds, sheriff and other county officers.

The statutes also give power to the commissioners to fix all salaries, travel allowances and other compensations for such appointees.

At present the power to make these decisions in Transylvania is vested in the General Assembly, a provision which means, from a practical standpoint, that the representative from the county has the power.

Mr. Potts made the "home rule" pledge a major plank in his successful primary campaign against former representative James C. Gaither.

Campbell Opens Esso Station

Charlie Campbell's Super Esso service station opened Wednesday at the intersection of East Main street and Johnson.

A number of prizes will be given away by Mr. Campbell to persons stopping in at the station between now and April 15th. First prize will be 150 gallons of gasoline, and second and third prizes are 25 gallons of Esso.

Mr. Campbell says the station has been newly stocked with Esso-Adgas products, and he pledges to his customers: friendly and courteous service and guaranteed work.

He is also offering pick-up and delivery service, and he says the station will remain open sufficient hours to serve the motoring needs of the public here.

Prominent Teachers Added To Faculty Of Music Camp

New additions to the teaching staff of Transylvania Music Camp, as announced by Dr. James Christian Pfohl, include names of prominence in the field of music.

Celebrating its 25th anniversary season, Transylvania Music camp will open on June 22 and close on August 6.

The traditional Brevard Music Festival will be held August 6 to 27.

New faculty members include Clemens Sandresky, dean of Salem College School of Music, piano instructor; Dr. Elwood Keister, University of Florida,

Equalization, Review Board Meets Monday

The board of equalization and review will meet on Monday, March 20th, in the commissioner's room here in the court house.

The time of the meeting is 8:00 p. m.

According to C. Lewis Osborne, clerk of the board, the purpose of the meeting is to hear complaints in regard to valuations placed in real property.

Reports Heard At Chamber Of Commerce Meet

Directors of the Brevard chamber of commerce held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in the Transylvania County library.

During the meeting, which was presided over by President "Buddy" Melton, several committee reports were heard and discussed by the group.

Grover McPherson, Transylvania county soil conservationist, was on hand to discuss the proposed construction of 18 headwater dams in the county. He showed an interesting series of color slides that described the actual construction of a dam similar to ones that might be built in this county.

Lewis Hamlin and Willis Brittain, members of the committee set up to study flood control in the county, accompanied Mr. McPherson to the meeting.

Dr. E. K. McLarty, president of Brevard college, thanked the group for its financial assistance in sending the college basketball team to participate in the National Junior College Tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas.

Dr. McLarty also gave an informative report concerning recent physical and academic growth at the college.

The directors regretfully accepted the resignation of Eugene Morris from the board. —Turn to Page Four
