Criminal Court Is Adjourned Here, Civil Term Will Open Next Monday

Jerome Named NC Savings, Loan Director

Jerry Jerome, president of Brevard Federal Savings & Loan association, was recently appointed a director of the North Carolina Savings & Loan League. Mr. Jerome has previously served as director and president of the League.

The N. C. Savings & Loan League is made up of most all local Savings & Loan associations throughout North Carolina. The representatives of these associations recommend policy and procedure affecting home ownership and thrift throughout the state.

Mr. Jerome has been in the savings and loan business for 30 years and is known over North Carolina as a pioneer in the field.

The directors of Brevard Federal Savings and Loan are also pleased to announce the appointment of J. F. Aycock to the board of directors to fill the unexpired term of the late J. M. Allison.

Mr. Aycock came to Brevard in the fall of 1938 with the Ecu-

Judge Campbell Presiding, Cases Are Reviewed

The October term of Superior court in Transylvania was adjourned late Tuesday afternoon by Judge Hugh Campbell, of Charlotte, after a brief session.

Marvin McCall, clerk of Superior court, announces that trial of the civil docket will begin next Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

It is expected to take most of the week for trial of these cases.

Verdicts handed down in the criminal court this week were as follows:

Hamilton Brown, charged with possession, was fined $25.00 and costs.

Steven Dennis Garner and Thomas Cox, who were found guilty of escape from prison, were given additional two year sentences.

Frank Owen was given six months on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny of goods valued at less than $100.00.

John L. Cooper was found guilty by a jury of larceny of property valued at more than $200.00. He was sentenced to not less than four or more than six years.

A suspended sentence against Andrew Lusk was put into effect. He was charged with failing to provide adequate support for his minor children.

Ronnie Brewer, charged with a felony, was ordered sent to the Dorothy Dix hospital in Raleigh.

The Grand Jury failed to find a true bill on the kidnapping charges against Garnett McCall and Earl Lance. However, the misdemeanor

Raymond F. Bennett Home After Overseas Assignment

By STAFF WRITER

Following his retirement after 22 years of service, Brevard's Raymond F. Bennett was given a unique task—a 30-day overseas assignment in Europe and principally in northern Italy.

The assignment came immediately after his retirement from Olin Mathieson's Film Operations here at Pisgah Forest and at East Alton, Illinois.

He told The Times this week that it's wonderful to be home after quite an experience overseas.

It is truly a "small world," and the jets are making it even smaller, he declared. And it seems that more jets are being used in Europe than they are in this country. He was much impressed with their Caravelle jet that usually flew at 500 miles an hour and at an altitude of 30,000 feet.

The special assignment came through the Olin International division, and he was in contact with many foreigners.

"I found these persons to be friendly and not mad at anybody. They do business with Russians as well as Americans."

Mr. Bennett explained further that these countries have survived many wars, and they figure that the present squabble is between Russia and the United States.

"They are, though, very much concerned with the bomb explosions and how they local contaminate their crops, water supplies, etc."

Sight Seeing Abroad

Mr. Bennett thought northern Italy beautiful — "an ancient region populated by friendly, religious, family people." He was impressed by the contrasts in the scale of living: "by evident fabulous wealth" in some quarters and meager existence elsewhere.

MacGowan In Recital Friday Night

An organ recital by William MacGowan will be presented on Friday evening, October 27th, at 8:15 o'clock in the Brevard Methodist church.

Sponsored by church and Brevard college, the recital will commemorate the dedication of the Beulah McMinn Zachary organ.

Mr. MacGowan, of Boston, is director of music at the Maple Street Congregational church of Danvers, Massachusetts. He received his B.Mus. and M.Mus. in organ at the University of Michigan, where he studied organ with Palmer Christian and Robert Noehren.

During the past two years, Mr. —Turn to Page Five

Highway Meeting Is Held

Members of the State Highway Commission were told of the extreme need for improvement of Highway 64 at a luncheon meeting here last Wednesday afternoon at Brevard senior high school.

Some 200 persons, representing all communities in this area, attended the meeting, which was called by the Highway 64 Development association.

Various spokesmen stressed the need for improvement of Highway 64, which they described as a "horse and buggy" thoroughfare and a disgrace to the state.

The economy of the region is already suffering because of the condition of this crooked, narrow highway.

Commission members attending the meeting could offer no immediate aid, however, because they must take the matter up before the entire body.

From the State Highway Commission were commissioners Clint Newton of Shelby, Yates Bennett of Burnsville, Jack Kirksey of Morganton and Ted Jordan of Robbinville.

Roger Jackson, the commission's public relations officer,

Now In The Making Special Edition Will Be Devoted To History, Future

The concluding feature of the county's centennial program will be a special edition of The Transylvania Times.

This will be in recognition of the county's PROGRESS from 1861 to 1961, and the edition will be dedicated to the county's progress, with emphasis in Two Directions — the achievements of the PAST and the expectations of the FUTURE.

This special edition is part of the 1961 centennial program. It has been in the planning stage since last February. Four special sections of this newspaper will be devoted to the edition, plus the usual regular sections.

Date of publication will be announced shortly.

Among the subjects whose history and outlook will be covered are:

The County government.
The City government of Brevard and Rosman.
The communities of the county and the organized community clubs.
The Home Demonstration clubs.
Agriculture and the agricultural extension service.
Schools and education; Brevard College.
The Church and Sunday Schools.

Civil Defense
Retail merchandising and service industries.
Production industries.
Clubs and Organizations.
The Tourist and Travel Industry; Pisgah and Highway Improvement.
Real Estate, Home Building, Furnishing, Decorating and Landscaping.
Patriotic and Military Organizations, etc.

Corn's Taxi is now owned and operated by T. T. Loftis, of Brevard.

The former owner, Mack Corn, has retired due to reasons of health.

Mr. Corn has been in business here nearly 20 years, and he expresses sincere appreciation to all persons who have patronized his firm.

He urges his former customers to continue to use Corn's taxi.

Mr. Loftis says that Corn's Taxi will continue to offer prompt, courteous and dependable taxi service. The same staff is being retained.

Discussing Fall-Out Shelters

Public interest in fall-out shelter and bomb protection flashed up like lightning after Russia's firing of the 30 (or maybe 50) megaton whopper on Monday.

Today civil defense plans for Brevard and this county are being considered in a series of conferences in the court house. The discussions began at 10 a.m. in the court room, it was announced by F. L. McCall, county director.

The conferences are being led

Little Theatre Rehearsing Next Comedy

The first production of the Brevard Little Theatre for the 1961-62 season is well into rehearsal with an excellent cast, according to Robroy Farquhar, director.

"A Majority of One" will be given on Friday and Saturday, November 17th and 18th, in the Brevard college auditorium.

Mary W. Lyman will portray the leading role which was played by Molly Berg in the Broadway production. Mrs. Lyman, who lives in Raleigh, and is active with the Little Theatre (here, formerly lived in Brevard).

Last summer she was on the staff at Flat Rock Playhouse and appeared in several productions there.

The part of Koichi Asamo, played by Sir Cedric Hardwicke on Broadway, will be played by Aaron Pittillo, who was assist-

Transylvania Youth To Stage "Trick Or Treat For UNICEF"

Children of primary and junior age throughout Brevard and parts of Transylvania county will participate in the annual "Trick Or Treat for UNICEF" on Halloween night, October 31st.

Church bells will ring at 6:30 p. m., calling the children to report to their various churches to receive their UNICEF cartons and assignments.

The town has been zoned this year to avoid duplicate solicitation, officials of the drive stated.

Soliciting will continue until 8:00 o'clock, when all children participating will meet at the Brevard Methodist church for a Halloween party.

The drive is sponsored this year by the United Nations committee, of which Mrs. Alfred Rhyne is chairman, and the Brevard Ministerial association.

Mrs. Rhyne urges citizens of the county to give to this worthy fund.

The Weather

Cool mornings and mostly pleasant afternoon temperatures have dominated the weather picture in Brevard and Transylvania during the past week. Although the mercury fell below the freezing mark only one morning, it failed to climb above the middle 70s during the afternoon hours. For the most part, afternoon temperatures have been in the pleasant seventy degree range.

Through the weekend temperatures are expected to average somewhat below normal. The normal readings for this area of the state are a high of 64 and a low of 41. We can look for cooler temperatures today and tomorrow continuing through Monday. Rainfall will average around one-third of an inch occurring as scattered showers, possibly today and Sunday.

Readings for the past week include:

	High	Low	Pre.
Wednesday	75	35	0
Thursday	75	40	0
Friday	65	33	.18
Saturday	64	40	0
Sunday	68	44	0
Monday	70	30	0
Tuesday	72	35	0

WPNF's News Broadcasts Well Received By Public

Station Manager Al Martin, of WPNF, announces today that local reaction to the station's policy of world, state or local news every hour on the hour has been extremely satisfactory.

"Both sponsors and listeners seem pleased with our new approach to the news in this period of our history when every hour brings critical developments on the world scene," Mr. Martin stated.

"In addition to the very latest stories from global hotspots, the Associated Press has correspondents covering developments throughout the Tar Heel State.

"Local happenings are reported twice daily, at 7:30 each morning and 6:00 each evening. This news is gathered and edited by the staff of the Transylvania Times.

"We at WPNF would like to thank those in the Times staff who aid us in preparing each of our local news broadcasts," Mr. Martin concluded.

Program Director Bill Hancock announces that WPNF will broadcast the Brevard - Owen high school game Friday night, and the Duke - State college game Saturday afternoon.
