"Protest" Vote Recorded In Bond Election Tuesday, Canvass Thursday

Two Issues Pass Locally, 14 Precincts Report

With 14 out of 18 precincts reporting, Transylvanians voted against eight of the 10 proposed bond issues in Tuesday's statewide election.

Across North Carolina, all of the measures were disapproved.

This stunning vote came as a rebuke to the Sanford administration, which was calling for the issuance of $61,665,000.00 in bonds to provide for capital improvements for state institutions and agencies.

The Transylvania vote will be canvassed Thursday morning at 11:00 o'clock here in the Brevard court house.

The four boxes which did not report in on Tuesday night were Gloucester No. one and two, and Hoxback No. one and three. A light vote was expected in these precincts.

The results of the 10 issues with 14 out of 18 precincts reporting are as follows:

No. one, capital area buildings, 550 for, 1003 against.

No. two, state training schools, 789 for, 782 against.

No. three, college bonds, 735 for, 828 against.

No. four, community colleges, 703 for, 858 against.

No. five, archives and history, 543 for, 1001 against.

No. six, port bonds, 603 for, 942 against.

No. seven, mental institutions, 923 for, 653 against.

No. eight, local hospitals, 773 for, 809 against.

No. nine, natural resources, 642 for, 901 against.

No. 10, agricultural research, 640 for, 899 against.

Local returns were reported to the Court House Tuesday night and an election party was held over WPNF.

Transylvania Goes "Over The Top" In '62 United Fund Drive

The Transylvania United Fund reached its goal of $28,500 this week.

In making the announcement, John Bailey, the general chairman of the campaign, said that Transylvania can now take its place with other leading counties of the state who have recognized their welfare responsibilities.

John A. Ford, the UF president, said that he was proud of his fellow Transylvanians who have responded so generously in this worth while program.

"I wish that it was possible for me to thank each person, each agency and every organization contributing, but it is impossible for me to do so.

"I want to express my deep gratitude to all through the press and over the radio."

Outstanding gifts received this week came from the following:

W. S. Sagar, Raymond F. Bennett, Houston furniture company, Baxter and McConnell Oil company, Grapette Bottling company and Sealtest Foods.

The United Fund office on South Broad street will remain open during the morning hours for the convenience of solicitors who are still getting in their returns.

Legion To Hold Annual Party Saturday Night

Members of the Monroe Wilson post of the American legion and the legion auxiliary will hold their annual membership party on Saturday night.

The gala event will get underway at 7:30 o'clock in the legion Memorial building, and Commander Charles L. Russell says all legionnaires and auxiliary members who have paid their 1962 dues by that time will be admitted free.

Cash prizes totaling some $400 will be awarded.

Following the awards program, a dance will be held with music being furnished by "Dump" Rutherford and his Rhythm Makers.

Several Matters Are Acted Upon, County Commissioners

Transylvania County Commissioners approved the State Highway project to relocate portions of the Island Ford road and the bridge over the French Broad river.

During periods of high water, these stretches of road are flooded and are impassable. The bridge is a narrow one.

The action of the commissioners was taken at the November meeting here in the court house. At that time they appointed

Planning Survey Of Brevard Proposed, Allocate $15,000

A resolution calling for a comprehensive city plan to be made by the Western North Carolina Regional Planning commission was adopted at the meeting of the Brevard Board of Aldermen on Monday night.

A federal grant of $10,000.00, together with $5,000.00 to be provided by the town of Brevard will pay for the cost of the plan.

This resolution was made at the request of the uniform planning board and will include topographic base maps, city surveys of present land use, projections of population growth, and a land development plan to be attained by 1980.

Included in the plan will be a street thoroughfare plan and suggested zoning ordinances to assist the town in attaining the goals set out in the comprehensive plan.

In other action the Board appointed the following to a recreation commission for the town: John I. Anderson, temporary chairman, Mrs. James A. Aycock, Don M. Jenkins Mrs. J. A. Macfie, and E. F. Tilson.

The commission, which is expected to begin functioning immediately, will determine policy and assist the Board in the operation of the playground and pool at Franklin Park and the Brevard Golf course. They will also work with the planning board in designating areas to be acquired and improved for new recreational facilities in all areas of the town.

Plans for the proposed renovation of the Town Hall office were presented by Town Manager Bill Edens. It will include an improved collection and reception area, a new office for the mayor, and additional space for general office activities and meeting space for the Board of Aldermen.

Specifications for the work, which will cost some $1700.00, were drawn by Henry C. McDonald, local architect.

No action was taken on request for a stop light at French Broad and North Broad streets. The town manager explained that the highway commission, through a previous study, determined that the traffic flow was insufficient to warrant a light.

The manager was instructed to request a new traffic flow count, since recent street improvements have resulted in an increased use of French Broad street.

The manager was instructed to take steps to eliminate the congestion existing at the intersection of Morgan street and South Broad caused by the signs designating left turn lanes there.

The Board of Aldermen accepted the proposal of the Arnold Insurance Agency for providing all the town's insurance coverage for the ensuing year.

The bid of Goodwill Motor company for a 1962 Catalina Pontiac Police special was accepted.

Education Week Is Observed

Brevard and Transylvania schools are joining this week in observance of American Education week.

Wayne Bradburn, superintendent, invites parents to visit the schools this week and observe the education process in action.

He stresses the important role that education plays in a free society.

Supt. Bradburn continues:

"If education lags, the nation will lag in every area essential to its well being and future education. In this space age, we cannot afford anything less than quality education. The task of providing this has been assigned to the schools, but the cooperation of every citizen is essential if we are to produce the best possible results."

An interesting feature, with pictures, on improvements being made in Transylvania county in the educational facilities is carried this week on the front page of the second section.
