shows West Main street as lighted up by the old street lights. Actually, one of the new mercury vapor lamps gives off almost three times as much light as an old incandescent one. (Photos by Austin)

Many Attend Dinner

The Republican Lincoln Day dinner, held last Saturday night at the Masonic temple, was reported the most successful in this county in recent years. Kent Coward, attorney of the Sylva firm, Monteith, Coward and Coward, was the speaker, pinch-hitting for Hugh Monteith. Mr. Monteith was prevented from speaking because of provisions of the Hatch Act, under which he was not released until April 1st. He had been serving as assistant district attorney.

Mr. Coward first pointed out shortcomings of the Democratic administration both nationally and in this state. There has been much dissatisfaction and criticism, he said, even among Democrats of Western North Carolina and throughout the state.

He added that the trend of the national party has been toward socialism and the welfare state, and that the party has gone off and left the Democrats of the South.

He told the Republicans present they will do their Democratic friends a favor by inviting them to register Republican this spring and actively join the party which, nationally and locally, more nearly represents their

Commissioners Act On Advice From Raleigh

The Transylvania commissioners told members of the Board of Elections that they were not in a position to finance a new registration of voters in the county at this time.

A joint meeting of the two boards was held at the regular April meeting of the commissioners this week in the court house.

Quoting from a letter from G. A. Jones, Jr., assistant attorney general, Raleigh, County Attorney Jack Hudson said:

"The Board of Elections can make expenditures only upon and in accordance with the approved budgets submitted to the Board of County Commissioners in the same manner as all other departments and agencies."

He said that if the commissioners approved an appropriation now of some $700 for a new registration that the commissioners would be libeling themselves to a suit by any citizen to recover this amount of money for the taxpayers.

The commissioners agreed that a new registration should be held, and they said they would try to set up funds in the next budget for that purpose.

The commissioners authorized Ralph Lyday, chairman of the Board of Elections, to attend a meeting of members of Boards of Elections in Chapel Hill.

Coroner Donald Lee Moore and Dr. James Sanders discussed the County Medical Examiner plan of North Carolina with the commissioners. This plan is used in conjunction with the office of the coroner, and the purpose of it is to have a medical examiner available along with the coroner in cases of deaths that he is called in on.

It was decided to give the plan a year's trial at no cost to the county, but a record of expenditures would be kept. At that time the commissioners would decide whether or not to continue same.

Murder Case Settled

A murder and a $5,000.00 robbery case were both settled in the current April term of Superior Court in Transylvania county. Verdicts were handed down by Judge Harry C. Martin, of Asheville.

Paul Williams, Negro, pled guilty to first degree murder of Harold Mooney and was given a life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Raleigh. Leola Mooney, who also pled guilty to first degree murder of Mooney, was given a similar sentence.

Annie Mae Williams, in connection with the same case, was found guilty and was sentenced to two years in the state prison.

In the $5,000.00 safe robbery at the Crest store in Brevard recently, the following sentences were handed down by Judge Martin.

B. F. Patterson was sentenced to 36 months in the county jail.
