Road-E-O Winners Named

The Brevard Jaycees staged a highly successful Teen-Age Road-E-O last Saturday, and a comely Brevard high school girl proved her driving superiority over 14 other participants to walk off with top honors.

Lynne Bryson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bryson, of 294 Maple street in Brevard, combining a tremendous 98 score on the written examination with an excellent score in the actual skill driving competition to earn the right to be called the finest and safest teen-age driver in Transylvania County.

Charles Dunlop, Jr., of 212 Park View drive, placed second, and Carroll Wilson, of route 1, Brevard, came in third.

Driving skill alone was not enough to determine the winner. The tough written examination that each contestant had to pass in order to qualify for the actual driving competition counted half in tabulating the final score.

Highway patrolmen, Bill Sawyer and Gene Beshears, commended the Jaycees on the fine manner in which they staged the Road-E-O.

They commented that the Road-E-O was carried out with the highest regard for the safety of all participants, and that those competing conducted themselves well during the actual skill driving competition.

The top three winners were honored at the regular Jaycee meeting Wednesday. Plaques were presented to each by Tom McCrary, chairman of the Road-E-O.

A Certificate of Achievement awarded by the Manufacturing Chemists' association recognizes the Du Pont company's Brevard plant for having operated the entire year of 1961 without a disabling or time-losing injury.

Word has also been received, Mr. Grogan advises, that the Brevard plant was a winner in the Chemical Section of the National Safety Council's 1961 Safety contest.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, in a letter of congratulations, explained that the Brevard Plant of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & company qualified for the award because of its injury-free period of four years, six months and 2,141,512 exposure hours.

In announcing these two safety achievements, Mr. Grogan had high praise for all Brevard plant employees. He emphasized the fact that no employee has had a disabling or time-losing injury since the organization was formed in June, 1957.

Dr. Schur To Head Olin's New Research Center, Conn.

DR. MILTON O. SCHUR

The Packaging division of Olin Mathieson Chemical corporation has established a new research facility at the Olin Research center, New Haven, Conn., which will utilize the research experience and skills of its own operations and of the corporation's other divisions to create new packaging materials.

In making the announcement, Robert H. Evans, corporate vice president and general manager of the division, said the laboratory's activities will complement but will be outside the normal scope of research conducted by the division's film, forest products and paper operations.

The new laboratory will be under the direction of Dr. Milton O. Schur, the division's vice president for research and development.

Initial projects will concentrate on composite structures and coatings.

In composite structures, packaging materials are combined to achieve packaging characteristics not possessed by any of them singly.

Coatings are used to create specific characteristics in packaging materials required by particular groups of products.

At the outset, close attention will be paid to the development of new materials of paper, film, foil, plastics and adhesives, Mr. Evans said.

The new laboratory will draw upon the experience, production techniques and research skills available from the company's Chemicals, Metals and Organics Divisions, as well as from its cellophane and paper operations.
