Need A Club House?

Due to the lack of funds in the recreational budget, the Brevard Country club has been closed by the town of Brevard. However, a group of civic-minded citizens is attempting to keep the club house open for use as a community recreational center.

The only charge the town is making for the use of the club is the cost of the lights, and Boy Scouts of the community are cleaning and renovating the building.

Mrs. Ruth Hill is heading the group that is working to promote the use of the building by various organizations, and interested persons are asked to contact her at 883-2577.

Directors of the Brevard Little Theatre are investigating the situation, and members of the Art League plan painting sessions at the club.

Tuesday night the building was used by the youth group for a square dance.

According to Town Manager Bill Edens, efforts are being made to lease the golf course to an individual or individuals, and it is hoped that this can be done in the immediate future.

Mrs. Hill said that she was indebted to Scoutmaster Woodrow Lucas and Boy Scouts of the troop sponsored by the Presbyterian church for the excellent work they are doing. Any other organizations desiring to lend "a helping hand" are asked to call Mrs. Hill.

Banner Tourist Season Expected, Summer Camps Opening At Capacity

Special Edition To Be Published On June 28th

The 1962 tourist season in Brevard and Transylvania county is expected to be a banner one, a survey this week reveals.

Already the famed Pisgah National forest is crowded on weekends with visitors from many adjoining states.

Motel operators and owners of the restaurants and drive-ins in the community report quite an influx in business.

Practically all of the 18 organized summer camps report a capacity number of campers for the season.

The Transylvania Music camp will have its largest enrollment, and concerts are planned through out the summer season. This is the 26th anniversary, and elaborate plans are being completed for the "best" season.

The American Red Cross is currently holding a highly successful Aquatic school at beautiful Camp Carolina, and other camps are having pre-camp sessions.

Brevard College will also be a popular place this summer, as many conferences and meetings of various groups are planned there.

Each year The Transylvania Times publishes a "Welcome to Campers and Summer Visitors" edition, and it will come out this year on Thursday, June 28th.

Ground Broken For New Parish House

A service of Groundbreaking for the new Parish House was held at St. Philip's Episcopal church last Sunday.

Beginning with the procession with the crucifer, flagbearers, choir, layreader, and rector, the service included the reading of a Psalm and Scripture lesson, and sermon hymn.

In his sermon, Rev. Fred Valentine, rector, pointed out that the day of Pentecost marks the birthday of the Christian church and the historical occasion of the coming of the Holy Spirit upon the disciples.

He related the story of Pentecost. — Turn to Page Four

Methodist Ministers Appointed

Ministers for the Methodist churches in Transylvania county are appointed at the annual conference last weekend at Lake Junaluska.

Mr. Charles Reichard, who has served as pastor of the First Methodist church in Lincolnton, comes to the Brevard Methodist church.

He succeeds the Rev. Courtney B. Ross, who transfers to Elkin.

Mr. Ross will preach this coming Sunday morning here at the Brevard Methodist church, and he plans to move his family to Elkin next week.

At the annual conference last week, the Brevard circuit was — Turn to Page Five

5th Annual Henry Rood Art Workshop Opens At College Monday

Everything is in readiness for the 5th annual Summer Session of the Henry Rood Art Workshop at Brevard College, which opens on Monday, June 18th.

Registration for the workshop will be held at the "barn" on the college campus on Monday morning and in the afternoon as well. Local persons wishing to enroll or desiring further information can contact Mrs. Becky Macfie, telephone 883-2137.

The workshop is divided into two classes, landscape (outdoor) in the mornings and portrait (indoor) in the afternoons.

These workshops have been highly successful during the past four years, Mrs. Macfie points out, and she says that they have given Brevard and Transylvania much publicity.

Street Dances Being Held Each Monday

The summer street dances are now underway in Brevard each Monday night.

Sponsored by the Transylvania Youth association, the square dances are held on the Winn-Dixie parking lot, opposite Brevard college.

Music is furnished by Blaine Emory and his string band, and Harry Ballard is the caller.

Townpeople and visitors are cordially invited to attend the dances, which begin each Monday night at 8:00 o'clock.

Honor Received

Mike Hunter Taking Part In National Science Program

Mike Hunter has been selected as a participant in the National Science Foundation Summer Program at the University of North Carolina for high ability secondary school students.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Hunter, of 216 Grove circle, Brevard.

Mike is a rising senior at Brevard senior high school and is active in extra-curricular activities. He is a member of the student council, the Beta club and was co-chief junior marshal this year. Mike is captain of the band for 1962-'63 and has been solo trumpet for the past two years. He has been awarded a blue ribbon for the past two years in the Transylvania County. — Turn to Page Three

A part of the publicity in the brochure going out to persons living in a wide area is as follows:

"Our group lives and studies at this delightful College in the mountains. We sleep in a new college dormitory and eat in the new college cafeteria. Our class headquarters is located in the Barn Studio on campus. It is actually a barn complete with silo and fitted out for college recreation purposes. Students in the Landscape Class take daily field trips painting the beautiful mountain scenery from nature while students in the Portrait Class paint either from a living portrait model, or from a photograph as they choose. — Turn to Page Eight

Deadline For Entering Miss Brevard Pageant Is Extended

The deadline for entering the Miss Brevard Pageant has been extended to Wednesday, June 27th, Mrs. Barbara Smart, chairman, announced today.

Many entries have been received, she stated, but it was felt that some local girls who have been away in college would enter if the deadline were extended.

Citizens of the community are being invited to nominate candidates for the local beauty crown. A ballot box has been placed in Kearn's, and

Pre-Schoolers Told To Have Physical Exams

Transylvania school officials recommend that all pre-school children visit their family physicians for a pre-school physical examination.

They said today that immunizations should be brought up to date. Children are required to have polio, D. P. T. and smallpox immunizations before they can be admitted to school.

The Weather

By Al Martin, Brevard's Official Weatherman

Through Monday of this week, we had received only one-third inch of precipitation for the week, but an almost unending downpour from Monday evening through the reporting time of 5:00 p. m. on Tuesday afternoon pushed the week's total to just under three inches.

Afternoon highs for the week averaged 78 degrees with early morning lows balancing out to around 59.

High reading for the week came on Wednesday of last week when the mercury rose to 81 and low mark came on Thursday morning when the mercury dipped to 57.

Readings for the week included:

	High	Low	Prec.
Wednesday	81	59	.03

Music Center Task Force Now Busy

A nucleus crew of 20 of the more than 120-member faculty and staff of the Brevard Music Center arrived this week to begin preparations for the opening of the 26th annual Transylvania Music Camp next Thursday.

Heading the task force is Dr. James Christian Pfoh, director of the Center, and Mrs. Pfoh, a member of the piano faculty. They will reside in their new home at the Center.

A newcomer to the staff is

Hugh Cunningham, associate professor of journalism at the University of Florida in Gainesville. Formerly editor of a daily newspaper in Texas and copy editor on the Atlanta Journal, he will be the Center's publicity director. He is accompanied by his wife, Eleanor, and three children, Robert, Kay and Chuck. Robert will be a camper.

Arriving Friday will be Mrs. Rosetta S. French of Tryon, secretary to the Board of Trustees for the Brevard Music Foundation.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Avent returns for her third year as executive secretary of the Center. She maintains Charlotte headquarters of the Center the other nine months of the year.

Another veteran is Joseph Lammers, who is year-round librarian for the Center and teaches piano and pedagogy at Queen's college in Charlotte. He has the tedious task of seeing to it that all music is ordered and on hand for the more than 40 concerts to be presented during the nine-week's season. This is Lammers' fifth summer here.

Assisting Lammers are Larry Whatley, a graduate music student at the University of Alabama, and Gregory Barnes of Portsmouth, Va., a member of — Turn to Page Eight

Local Teen-Dems Off For Raleigh Convention

Transylvania county will be well represented at the first annual Teen-Dem convention this weekend in Raleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Morton and Admiral Ligon Ard will accompany the group to the capital city.

Included in the local delegation of Teen-Dems are: Dennis Ducker, Spencer Macfie, Jr., David Campbell, Lee Dunlop, Mickey Johnson and Bill Medford.

Ducker is a candidate for state secretary of the Teen-Dems, and the local delegation is expected to wage a vigorous campaign in his behalf.

The highlight of the convention will be a Founder's Day banquet Saturday night.

The main speaker of the three-day event will be Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps. Other speakers include Governor Terry Sanford, and state treasurer, Edwin Gill.

Schedule Of Broadcasts Over WPNF Is Carried In This Issue

Readers of The Times and listeners of WPNF are cordially invited to look at the varied schedule of broadcasts heard each week over WPNF. Al Martin, station manager, says the log is carried on page four, third section, of this week's Times.

"In our schedule, we feel that we have something for everyone in the family," Mr. Martin stated. "We have news every hour, late reports on all sports events, and varied musical programs including gospel, country and western and popular."

He further stated that comments from listeners are always appreciated.

Other Programs

The schedule for the Farm and Home hour is as follows: Thurs-

"Story Hour", a weekly summertime feature sponsored by Friends of the Library, will begin its current series this Saturday at the Transylvania County Library at 9:30 a.m. with Charles Moore in charge of the program.

Mr. Moore, well-known local naturalist, will show a group of superb color slides on animals and insects and will tell his young audience of the many fascinating aspects of the animal kingdom.

Co-chairmen for the current series of 16 programs are Mrs. William F. Orr and Mrs. Robert T. Gash. Other features scheduled for the summer include a movie on Williamsburg, a travelogue on the Seattle World's Fair by Mrs. Carolyn Kimzey, a story with sketches by the Rev. Fred Valentine, a program on birds by Mrs. J. H. Mellwain, a feature on foreign dolls by Mrs. E. M. Holder, a puppet show by Adelaide van Wey and a program on Children of India by Mrs. Vasant D. Chapnerkar.

Mrs. Cecil Hill, president of Friends of the Library, and Mrs. Lehman Kapp, librarian, invite all parents to bring or send their children to these weekly programs presented by people of exceptional talents and interests. "Story Hour" posters on display in several of the Brevard stores were made by Stephanie and Connie Lombardo and Penne and Elsie Orr.
