The Times Out On Tuesday

Due to the Fourth of July observance on Wednesday, The Transylvania Times is being published on Tuesday this week.

Readers of The Times are urged to examine this week's paper very carefully, since there are many stories pertaining to the Fourth and the big Sylvan Valley Folk Festival and Beauty Pageant.

Merchants are also featuring specials for the big "Sidewalk Sale," which will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Story Time" Is Popular

"Story of a Patriot," a movie in color, was presented by friends of the Library during the "Story Time" series at the local library last Saturday at 9:30 a.m. Some 50 children and adults attended this movie which is shown several times daily in Williamsburg, Virginia, at the reception center in the restored area. It tells the story of John Fry and his family and how he was torn between his loyalty to Britain and his love for his new home in America during the period when the colonies were having their struggle for independence. The events which preceded and led up to the Revolutionary War and to the drawing up of the Declaration of Independence were shown.

Charles Carter was projectionist for "Story of a Patriot" which was chosen by the "Story Time" committee in conjunction with this week's celebration of Independence Day on July 4th. Rev. Mr. Frederick Valentine, rector of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, will be the story hour guest this Saturday. Mrs. Lehman Kapp, librarian, Mrs. Cecil Hill, Friends of the Library president, and Mrs. Bob T. Gash and Mrs. William F. Orr, "Story Time" co-chairmen, invite all interested children and adults to attend the weekly series of Saturday morning programs during the summer months.

New Class In Driver Training Begins Monday

A new class in driver education will begin on Monday, July 9th, at the Brevard Junior High school. The hours are from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. This class will include classroom and behind-the-wheel instruction, according to Marshall Teague, who is the instructor for the course. Those who signed up for the August 2nd class are asked to check with Mr. Teague if they can take the classes beginning July 9th instead.

Sylvan Valley Folk Festival And Beauty Pageant To Attract Crowds

THE SITE for the satellite tracking station in upper Transylvania county is now being cleared, and the two men above are standing where the huge antenna will be erected. In the picture are Joe Rusnak, the resident inspector, and Paul Shatley, of the Dillard Construction company. At the present time men and machinery are busy clearing, grading and building a road into the site. (Times Staff Photo)

Square Dancers, Bands, Singers On Program

The 1962 Sylvan Valley Folk Festival and Miss Brevard Pageant opens Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock on the Junior High school athletic field. Sponsored by the Brevard Jaycees and Jaycettes, the Festival and Pageant are expected to attract large crowds. Highlighting the event will be the crowning of Miss Brevard, who will be chosen from a field of eight contestants. These lovely ladies will compete in bathing suit and evening gown competition, and they will also be judged on talent. Highlighting the festival will be square dance exhibitions, folk singing, string bands and other musicians. Master of ceremonies for the festival will be Bobby Hoyle. —Turn to Page Eight

Olin Mathieson Picnic Will Highlight The Fourth Of July

Highlighting the Fourth of July observance in Transylvania will be the 21st annual picnic at beautiful Camp Harry H. Straus on Wednesday.

Each year the event is attended by more than 5,000 persons, and the largest attendance ever is expected this year. The day in Brevard and Transylvania will be a holiday, with stores, the bank and the post office being closed.

Town and county offices will also close on Wednesday for the Fourth of July observance. There will be no delivery of city or rural mail on Wednesday, and the General Delivery window will be open from 11:30 to 12:00 noon, according to Charlie Patton, postmaster.

Inns, rooming houses, motels and guest homes are expecting a rushing business this weekend, as thousands of persons from lower elevations come to these. —Turn to Page Five

Much Talent Many Varied Concerts On Program At Music Camp

Piano lovers have a special treat in store this week - end at the Brevard Music Center. Two of the three concerts feature pianists as soloists. Ruth Slenczynska, who began performing publicly at the age of five, will play Chopin's Piano Concerto No. 2 Saturday evening. The brilliant pianist, who revealed her unhappiness as a child prodigy in her book, "Forbidden Childhood," returns to the Center after receiving wide acclaim here last summer. On Friday evening, Dorothy Lewis Griffith of Charlotte, winner of one of this year's four Music Center Young Artists Awards, will play Rachmaninoff's Concerto No. 2. Mrs. Griffith is a native of High Point, N. C. Walter Carringer, artist in residence, will sing Mozart's "Misero! O Sogno, O Son Desto?"

For a musical change on Sunday afternoon, Lino Bartoli of Baylor University in Texas will play William Walton's Violin Concerto, and a mixed chorus and orchestra will join to present John Kester Jones' Spoon River.

The following week on Tuesday evening the Transylvania Concert Band will play a concert and on Wednesday evening both the Hilltopper Symphony orchestra and Concert band as the five - per - week concert schedule continues. Evening concerts are at 8:15. —Turn to Page Four

Prizes Offered Brevard Merchants To Stage Gigantic "Sidewalk Sale"

A town-wide "sidewalk sale," the biggest and best ever staged in Brevard, will be held here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Each participating merchant is giving a handsome prize, and the grand prize will be a $100 Savings Bond. The prizes will be awarded next Monday, and citizens are urged to register at each store, where full details may be obtained. By special permission from the town board of aldermen, the merchants will have tables out on the sidewalk in front of their stores, and special "bargains" will be offered. The merchants committee of the Brevard chamber of commerce has been planning for this unique event for some time, and the businessmen have made special purchases for the "sidewalk sale." Extraordinary values are being offered by the participants. —Turn to Page Four

Site Visited Satellite Tracking Station Work Schedule Announced

In a remote mountainous section in upper Transylvania county, work is proceeding rapidly in clearing a site for the satellite tracking station. Announcement is made today that the power building will be completed by December 1st of this year and the operations building will be completed by the 15th of the same month. Actually, the name of the tracking station is the Rosman Data Acquisition Facility, and the construction is under the direction of Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Maryland. A. W. Huntress is the resident engineer, and Joe Rusnak is the resident inspector. According to Mr. Huntress, construction of the entire site will be completed by February 15th, 1963, with the exception of the paving. When completed, the public will be invited to open house, and this is expected to be held next spring. The beginning of the installation of the antenna will be on October 1st of this year, and other electronic facilities will be installed in December. When the station becomes operational, it will be open to visitors. Mr. Huntress explains that the site in upper Transylvania county met stringent technical requirements. It is free of all noise sources of interference, and it is. —Turn to Page Eight

Program Highlights WPNF Observes 12th Birthday, Rededicated To Public Service

Radio Station WPNF is celebrating its 12th anniversary this weekend, according to Station Manager Al Martin. During the past 12 years, WPNF has maintained a policy of public service to the community and its citizens. "We sincerely appreciate the cooperation of our advertisers and listeners in the past, and we solicit their future support as we at WPNF rededicate ourselves to community service," Mr. Martin said in a joint statement with John Anderson, the executive director. WPNF began its operation on July 6th, 1950, and has striven to present the very best programming including music, news and sports. July Term Of Superior Court Opens Monday

The July term of Superior court opens in Transylvania on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock. According to Marvin McCall, the clerk, there are only 21 cases on the criminal docket, which will be tried first. Trial of the civil calendar begins next Wednesday. Judge J. Frank Huskins, of Burnsville, will preside over the court, and Leonard Lowe, of Forest City, will prosecute for the state. Mr. McCall reminds members of the Grand Jury of the last term that they do not have to serve this term, since the fiscal year ended on June 30th. A new Grand Jury will be chosen.

Entries Are Needed For Carnival

The deadline for entries in the Country Carnival Variety Revue has been extended due to the fact that, to date, only two entries have been received by the Brevard Little Theatre. B.L.T. president, Mel Everingham, urges those who wish to perform in a song and dance routine, instruments or vocal musical numbers, imitations, comedy routines or similar types of light entertainment to submit a short letter giving name and address, age, telephone number, the name of the act along with. —Turn to Page Four
