

Country Carnival Saturday

Plans for Brevard Little Theatre's Country Carnival which will be held Saturday, August 11th, at Robin Hood's Barn in Sherwood Forest have been completed, according to Maggie Masters and Mel Everingham, co-chairmen.

Beginning time is set at 11:30 a.m., and the day will end in time for the regular Saturday night square dance at 8:30 p.m., to be called by Earl Powell. General admission, which includes the Variety Revue, is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children. The Country Carnival is another B.L.T. project to benefit its building fund.

The use of Robin Hood's Barn has been donated by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dehon as a special contribution to the building fund.

Everyone attending the Country Carnival is urged to dress in costume appropriate for the occasion and a prize will be awarded for the costume considered most representative.

It is emphasized that this gala day of entertainment is for the entire family. Children's amusements will include a free ride on the Biltmore Dairy train, as well as performances by the famous horse, Trigger. Pony rides will be available at the regular price. A baby-sitting booth will be set up for the convenience of those attending with small children.

The baby-sitting service will be furnished free of charge, and all children under six years of age.

Principals To Report For Duty Monday

Transylvania county school principals will go on duty on Monday, August 13th, and they will be at their schools from that date until school opens.

Supt. Wayne Bradburn urges persons who have moved into the town and county and having children of school age to report to the principals in the areas where they reside.

Students going to school in the town and the county for the first time should register prior to the opening date.

If they are in doubt as to which school they should attend, they should contact the Board of Education office in the court house.

All students will report on the 24th. Buses will run at the usual time in the morning and will return the children home around noon.

Monday, August 27th, is the first full day of school.

According to Mr. Bradburn, the Board of Education will meet Tuesday night, August 14th, at 8:00 o'clock in his office.

Two Banking Firms Seeking To Establish Facilities Here

The Northwestern bank has made application to the supervising authorities of banks in North Carolina for permission to establish a bank in Brevard and at Rosman.

The Northwestern bank serves Western North Carolina with 38 convenient offices.

J. B. Wahman, executive vice president, was in Brevard this week and issued the following statement:

"We feel that Brevard and Transylvania county will support two banks — a national bank and a state bank. The Northwestern bank will materially help the industrial growth and in turn the small businessman and the individual."

"We solicit the support of the public in our application before the Commissioner of Banks of North Carolina."

The Northwestern bank was organized on July 1st, 1937, and Edwin Duncan is the president.

Resources as of December, 1961, totalled $129,755,367.63.

The Northwestern bank has operated in Henderson county for the past 30 years and in Buncombe county for 21 years.

Cato's ladies' ready-to-wear store, located on West Main street and the newest addition to the business district of Brevard, will open its doors Thursday morning of this week at 9:00 o'clock.

The grand opening of Cato's on Thursday morning is the result of months of planning and preparation by the company to bring to the people of the Brevard shopping area the latest in ladies' and children's fashions at moderate prices.

The store's interior layout was designed by Cato's architects to give customers the same ease and convenience in shopping which they find in the most modern stores in any city. The completely fluorescent-lighted store, with its modern facilities and attractive decor, is planned to provide pleasant surroundings which will appeal to its customers.

W. H. Cato, Jr., of Charlotte, and president of Cato Stores, Inc., said, "Our company is very pleased and happy to be coming to Brevard. It is always a source of pride."

Although many items, ranging from antiques to automobiles, have been donated, there is still a drastic need for more.

The squad feels severely handicapped in its service to the public by the lack of certain vital life-saving equipment and is making this sincere plea for support.

Call 883-3580 to have contributions picked up, or drop them by the collection depot in the old Crafton Motors building between 6:00 and 9:00 p.m.

Many items of interest to the public have been collected including radios, wrist watches, electric ranges, automatic washers, furniture, hunting trophies, books, baked goods, photographs, antiques (some with marble tops), pictures, power tools, and many, many valuable articles.

In addition, through the generosity of McCrary Chevrolet, they will offer to the highest bidder a fine used automobile.

Auctioneering will begin at 7:00 p.m. on Friday evening and at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday afternoon. "Come and bring your family!" they say.

Although afternoon temperatures have averaged reaching just over 85 degrees this past week, accompanying high humidity has caused much mid-afternoon discomfort for those not blessed with air conditioning or a shade - tree with a built-in breeze.

Early morning low readings have averaged 61 degrees, with rainfall for the week totaling 3.10 inches, a figure higher than the total rainfall for the past month.

Station manager Al Martin announces today that WPNF will offer extensive coverage during the forthcoming football season.

"In addition to carrying the entire Brevard senior high school schedule, we plan to carry the games of the University of North Carolina, a few of the N. C. State contests, and possibly several of the Rosman high school games," Mr. Martin said.

In past years, the local station has carried the local high school games and most of the Carolina games.

"The N. C. State contests to be made available to us are the result of a new network affiliation with the Carolina Radio Network, and we are most happy to announce that Bill Currie, former long-time associate of Ray Reeves, will be handling the broadcasts," Martin added.

In conclusion, he stated: "Because of the interest generated by the contests, we will be carrying the local high school games and most of the Carolina games."

Array Of Artists To Appear With Noted Symphony

The 17th annual Brevard Music Festival begins Friday with its largest symphony orchestra in history and a new 26-piece ensemble called the Sinfonietta.

An outstanding array of artists, headed by violinist Joseph Fuchs, will team with the 90-piece Festival Symphony and the Sinfonietta for four concerts during the weekend. A similar schedule will follow each weekend in August.

The orchestra is made up of members of the faculty and students of the Center's Transylvania Music Camp, which ended Sunday, 20 players from the new Advanced Division, the 18 top campers selected from auditions and a half dozen members of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

Fuchs, a frequent soloist with the New York Philharmonic and veteran of three European tours, will give two concerts. Friday evening he will play Walter Piston's Violin Concerto, which was written for him under a grant from the Ford Foundation. Sunday afternoon he will play Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto, E Minor.

Friday's orchestrations will be Beethoven's Leonore Overture No. 3 and Franck's Symphony in D Minor. James Christian Pfohl will conduct.

Saturday afternoon's guest artists will be Mildred and Gerald Snyder, piano duo, of Ft. Lauderdale. They will play Francis Poulenc's Concerto, D Minor, for Two Pianos. The orchestra, conducted by Emil Raab, will play Beethoven's Coriolan Overture and Henry Cowell's Symphony No. 2.

The Sinfonietta, which will be available for tour after the Festival, will make its debut Saturday evening, playing Griffes' The White Peacock and Vittorio Giannini's Suite from "Love's Labor Lost" under Pfohl's baton. Joseph Lawton of Hartsville, S. C., one of four Brevard Music Campers.

A Good Weekend To Invite Friends Here

Dr. James Christian Pfohl, director of the Brevard Music Festival, urges Transylvanians to invite their friends from out-of-town to spend the weekend in Brevard.

He suggested that music lovers arrive in time Friday evening for the 8:15 concert, then Pisgah National Forest and picnic there Saturday morning and early afternoon, attend the 3:30 and 8:15 Saturday concerts, have a leisurely or church-going Sunday morning and then wind up by attending the 3:30 Sunday afternoon concert.

A special price on tickets for all concerts during a week-end was also announced. Regularly $10.00, the book of four will be sold for $8.50.

Forest Service To Show Free Movies Saturday

Free movies will be shown Saturday evening, August 11th, at 7:45 p.m., at the ranger station on U. S. Highway 276.

Recreation, wildlife, timber management and other activities on National Forest land will be included.

All interested persons are welcome. "Smoking Ban" notices will be given to the children and folding chairs or blankets should be brought for seating.
