Sherwood Forest Establishing Audubon Residential Colony

Establishment of the first Audubon residential colony in the nation at Sherwood Forest, near Brevard, is announced by Arthur M. Dehon, director of Sherwood Forest.

Mr. Dehon said that the Audubon colony is located in a 950-acre wildlife sanctuary in the heart of Western North Carolina's scenic segment of the Blue Ridge mountains.

Audubon Society members and others with a hobby or professional interest in the out-of-doors are eligible to establish permanent homes or vacation cottages at Sherwood Forest, where they will have neighbors who share their interest and who likewise appreciate a setting where natural beauty is retained and man's intrusion is kept to a minimum.

The Audubon colony is being developed under the direction of an advisory board chairmanned by Ken Morrison, National Audubon Society lecturer, vice-president of the Florida Audubon Society, and former editor of Audubon Magazine.

Plans being formulated for next summer's activity at the colony include field trips, led by a resident naturalist, through Sherwood Forest as well as near-

Ellis Revis was found guilty of non-support and was given a suspended sentence.

Marjorie Dills Galloway pled guilty to reckless driving and had to pay $25.00 and costs.

On a similar charge, Henry C. Tucker pled guilty and had to pay $25.00 and costs.

Larry David Hunnicutt had to pay costs when he pled guilty to reckless driving.

Labor Survey Is Being Continued

A labor survey is being continued by the Rosman and Brevard Chambers of Commerce.

At the present time, they are trying to determine how many persons in Transylvania have had experience as a weaver on tape looms, label looms, ribbon looms, and narrow fabric looms.

The information desired is as follows: Name, address and experience.

Persons can write either to the Rosman Chamber of Commerce, Box 154, Rosman, or the Brevard Chamber of Commerce, Library Building, Brevard.

Rescue Squad Issues Traffic Statement

The Brevard Rescue squad would like to express to the public its reasons for not directing traffic at the football games.

The Rescue squad was not organized with the intention of performing any duties which are the function of a law enforcement agency.

The Brevard squad has not been trained in traffic management and does not have the authority to direct traffic in such numbers as are present at football games.

"We are on call at any time to serve where any emergency exists endangering human life and should such an emergency arise we would like to be free to answer the call. There are other

Brevard College Will Begin New Term Thursday, Enrollment High

Construction Of Gymnasium Now Nears Completion

Brevard college opens the 1962-'63 term on Thursday with a capacity enrollment of some 420 students.

According to President Emmett K. McLarty, the local education institution is looking forward to one of its most successful years.

Registration was held on Wednesday, and classes begin Thursday.

This year's sophomore class represents 85 percent of last year's freshman class, and Glenn Hardesty, director of admissions, says that more than 500 applications were received from high school and other students desiring to go to Brevard college for the first time.

The new student body here is a selected one.

Dr. McLarty says that several teachers have been added to Brevard's fine faculty.

The new physical education plant is fast nearing completion, and it is hoped that the building and indoor swimming pool can be put into use in the immediate future.

The Transylvania Times will publish its annual Brevard college "welcoming" issue next week.

Interesting features, welcoming messages and a listing of the students will be carried.

Bank Commissioner Will Hold Hearing In Court House Friday

Ben R. Roberts, commissioner of banks in North Carolina, has called a hearing here in Brevard on Friday, September 14th, at 10:00 o'clock in the court house to consider applications of Northwestern Bank and First Citizens Bank and Trust company.

Both institutions desire to establish banking facilities in Brevard. Northwestern has also made application to establish a bank at Rosman.

Officials of both banks are busy this week contacting citizens in the town and county, requesting support at the hearing.

Brevard's First Union National Bank appears to be remaining neutral in the fight.

It was learned from a reliable source that both Northwestern and First Citizens have optioned sites in Brevard for a bank.

A ruling on the applications is expected to be made when the full banking commission meets in Raleigh on October 17th.

At Last Session Chamber Of Commerce Directors Take Action

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening at Gaither's with 17 members present.

E. H. Paxton presided as temporary chairman, pending a complete organization of the club and elections of officers.

The club heard a brief talk on the applications of engineering in the field of municipal operations by the Town Manager Bill Edens.

At the close of the meeting, a steering committee was selected to prepare a proposed constitution, by-laws and to present nominees for officers in the new club at the next regular meeting.

The Engineers Club of Brevard is open to graduate engineers and those who by experience and training have become proficient in the applications of engineering principles to all facets of endeavor. All persons in the Brevard area are invited to attend the next monthly meeting and become acquainted with the aims and purposes of this new organization.

Jaycees Launch Campaign For Scholarship

In order to raise money for their college scholarship fund, the Brevard Jaycees are asking for donations that will enable some worthy Transylvania county student to attend college.

Tickets are being given with each donation, and a brand new 1963 Chevrolet pick-up truck will be awarded to a donor on December 24th.

The Jaycees have long been seeking some way of making a college scholarship possible, and this method was decided on at a recent meeting.

"We encourage everyone to contribute to this worthy cause," stated Jaycee President Tom McCrary, "because we feel that everyone will want to take part in a project that will enable some Transylvania boy or girl to attend college who might otherwise be unable to go."

"We also feel that most everyone has use for a pick-up truck," he continued, "and that they will want to combine the possibility of becoming the owner of a brand new truck with the chance to help someone through college. Only the participation of many people will make this project a success."

Tickets given in return for the donations may be secured from any Jaycee, and they will be distributed until 5:00 p.m. on Christmas Eve, at which time the truck will be awarded.

Spotlight On Sports During Weekend Over Station WPNF

Sports takes the spotlight on WPNF this weekend as two football games and a special sports broadcast are aired.

Thursday afternoon at 5:40 Western Auto presents "Player of the Week" with a special award to an outstanding player in the preceding week's Brevard High school football game.

Thursday evening at 7:15 Bill Norris and Al Martin will take to the air to describe the Rosman-Edneyville high school grid-iron battle. Prior to the game, interviews with Coaches Bill Cathey of Rosman and Bill Bell of Edneyville will be featured in the 15 minute warm-up.

On Friday night, Ken Fry and Herb Turner of WHCC in Waynesville will describe the Brevard-Waynesville football encounter to be played on the Mountaineer's home field.

On September 22nd, WPNF will begin a series of University of North Carolina football broadcasts as Bill Curry of the Carolina Radio Network does the

Mrs. Al Ream Resigns, LOWV Board

Mrs. A. Bruce Brown, president of the Brevard League of Women Voters, announces she has accepted the resignation of Mrs. A. M. Ream from the board.

This is in keeping with the non-partisan policy that no board member shall be a candidate to hold an office in any political party.

Mrs. Ream has filed as a candidate for the school board in the fall county election.

Brownell To Speak To Accountants

The Asheville area chapter, National Association of Accountants, will hold their first technical meeting on Tuesday, September 18th, at 6:30 o'clock in the Battery Park Hotel.

The speaker for the evening will be Philip C. Brownell, vice president and general manager of the Ecusta paper and film operations, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, at Pisgah Forest.

His subject will be "Management and the Accountant."
