

Bryant Given Honor

By - Staff Writer
Maurice Bryant, manager of the National Fish Hatchery in the Pisgah National Forest, has been named the recipient of the North Carolina Wildlife Federation's 1962 Conservation award for this region.

A handsome trophy and certificate were presented to Mr. Bryant at the recent convention of the federation in Durham.

Governor Terry Sanford was the principal speaker of the occasion.

In making the presentation to the local wildlife specialist, the federation had this to say about him:

"While employed by the Wildlife Resources commission, Mr. Bryant played an outstanding and leading role in developing more efficient methods of mountain trout production.

"By experimental work with trout foods, disease control and other factors in trout management, he was instrumental in producing more pounds of trout at a lower cost per pound.

"He is presently in charge of the National Fish Hatchery, operated by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service, where in cooperation with the Wildlife Resources commission, he has had an important part in doubling the amount of trout being stocked each year in North Carolina mountain trout waters."

A native of New Hampshire, Mr. Bryant began work with the Fish and Wildlife service in the early 40's. He came to Transylvania in August, 1957. Prior to that time he was in the regional office in Atlanta, Georgia, for some two and one-half years, and before then he was with the North Carolina Wildlife Commission.

Planning Musical

Brevard Little Theatre Group Makes Final Push

The annual membership drive of the Brevard Little Theatre will be conducted on November 8th, it is announced today by Mrs. Jane Johnson, chairman.

"At present we are some $600 short of the $2,000 goal which we have tentatively set as being necessary to meet our budget requirements for three productions this season. However, we hope that within the next few days, when all of the individual members have been contacted, this shortage will be considerably decreased."

Mel Everingham, BLT president, expressed confidence that the people of Brevard will give full support to Brevard Little Theatre, which is striving to provide first-class entertainment for the entire family.

"We feel that we have made great strides during the past year," he continued, "for at the beginning of last season we were operating on a deficit budget. Since that time we have not only been able to operate on a pay as you go basis but have started a building fund through money-making projects such as the bake sale and Country Carnival.

"This year we are especially dependent on a successful membership drive in order to produce a musical show of the same high calibre as 'The Mikado', which was given two seasons ago. In conjunction with the Civic Choruses and a group of local musicians, plans are currently being formulated.

"It is imperative that we find a suitable location in which to give the musical, and this will require a considerable outlay of funds and volunteer labor for either renovating or constructing a stage and providing suitable staging equipment."

Mrs. Johnson stated that anyone who has not been contacted concerning renewal of membership or anyone who wishes to become a new member of BLT may do so by calling her at 883-3308. Patronships are from $25 up, sponsorships $10 and individual memberships are set at $3.50. Student tickets are $1.25. These prices represent considerable saving over the accumulative cost of buying tickets for the separate performances. A bonus Flat Rock Playhouse punch is also included. Thus, the ticket holder is paying an average of 88c per performance, rather than the regular $1.50 BLT single admission.

Rehearsals for "Charley's Aunt" are progressing satisfactorily, according to Robroy Farquhar, director, who urges everyone to make plans now for seeing this laugh-filled farce which will be given November 16 and 17 at the American Legion hall.

BUILDING NAMED: A Park Avenue skyscraper was named recently in honor of one of the nation's leading industrial corporations. The 22-story office building at 460 Park Avenue, New York City, will now be known as the Olin Building in honor of the major tenant, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation. Located on the northwest corner of Park Avenue at 57th Street, the building is owned by Tishman Realty & Construction Co., Inc. Constructed in 1955, the building attracted world-wide attention when its entire aluminum facing was installed in a single working day.

Olin Lauded County Reaching Goal In '63 United Fund Campaign

Elks Plan Dance On December 5

Brevard Elks are planning a big benefit dance on Wednesday night, December 5th, it is announced today.

All proceeds from the event will go for the Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Roger Davis, Taj Hanna, and Andy Brown are in charge of arrangements.

Music will be furnished by Tommy Allan and his famous orchestra, with Jeanne Carroll as vocalist.

The Allan band made quite a hit when it was here before, and all indications point to a good dance on December 5th.

The fine response from management and employees of industry in Transylvania County has enabled the directors of the United Fund campaign to push the big thermometer on the Court house square up close to the goal of $30,664.

The total pledges from the Olin Corporation and its employees are the largest since the Fund began seven years ago. This fact reflects the fine community spirit of this large organization, John Bailey, president, pointed out.

The same community interest is shown by the DuPont Company. While the silicon division of DuPont has considerably fewer employees than last year, the per capita gift is as high as ever. Special comment should be made of the Construction division which is building the addition to the plant. These employees are to be in Brevard only until the job is finished and come from other communities where United Fund drives are being held; yet they have responded materially.

Hallmark Using Olin Film On Gift Packaging

Before his transfer to converter sales of Olin, Ed Behringer learned from Hallmark Cards, Inc., that the competitive cellophane being used to package gift papers seemed to distort the true color of the papers. He arranged for samples of several Olin film types.

When Charlie Walker took the account over from Behringer, he followed the tests and now has 100% of this business.

Hallmark is using "V" 250 for the application and is very pleased with the film's clarity and performance.

Blue Devils Rated No. 1

The Brevard Blue Devils are rated the number one AAA high school football team in North Carolina in this week's prep gridiron poll, conducted by the Charlotte Observer.

A panel of 46 high school coaches from all over the state vote every week on their choice of the outstanding teams in North Carolina. Using a point system that gives five votes for a first place choice, four for second place, etc., the Blue Devils rounded up 118 votes.

Shelby was second with 108 votes, and rounding out the top five were Lincolnton, 98 votes; Roxboro, 90 votes; and Lumberton, 76 votes.

The Blue Devils were rated number one in the poll several weeks ago, but were replaced the following week by Roxboro. No other team from this area made the top 15.
