ASC Urges Farmers To Report

Farmers who have completed conservation projects approved earlier this year under the 1963 Agricultural Conservation program are reminded today to file their report of performance for cost-share assistance.

Glenn A. Whitmire, chairman of the Transylvania ASCS committee, points out that the earlier such reports on completed practices are filed, the sooner the ACP payment can be made. With spring conservation projects completed and the cost-shares received, it will be easier to concentrate on other work that needs to be done.

Mr. Whitmire said that if a farmer has received approval for a practice which he later finds he is unable to carry out, —Turn To Page Seven

Young Artists Will Be Heard On Programs

The Virginia Federation of Music Clubs will play host this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 26th, 27th, and 28th, to the annual "Federation of Music Clubs Weekend." Music clubs from 6 states will be represented when the ladies gather to enjoy the weekend music at the Brevard Music Center.

Two of the guest artists are winners of the competitions sponsored by the Federation of Music Clubs. Alan Rogers, young lyric tenor of Chicago, will appear as the result of having won the young artist division in the national finals this spring. Joan Weiner, 14-year-old pianist from Falls Church, Virginia, will share the concert with Rogers.

Other guest artists for the weekend are Robert Sylvester, Jeanette Peorello, Eugen Talley - Schmidt and Edward Vito.

First Concert

Performing on Friday night, July 26th, with the Brevard Music Center Symphony under the direction of Herman Neuman, Music Director of WYNC, Rogers will sing four arias. His selections are "Il lamento" from Cilea's "L'Arlesiana"; "Il mio tesoro" from Mozart's "Do Giovanni"; "Che gelida manina" from Puccini's "La Boheme"; and "La Danza" by Rossini.

Miss Weiner, 1962 winner of the Stillman Kelly Scholarship Award which is given by the National Federation of Music Clubs, will be returning to the Brevard Music Center for her second year. Sharing the stage with Alan Rogers on Friday night, Miss —Turn To Page Three

Audubon Colony Has Interesting Film Monday

The story of America's endangered wildlife will be told in an all-color film, "The Long Flight Back" which will be presented at 3:00 p. m. Monday, July 29th, at Robin Hood's Barn in Sherwood Forest at Cedar Mountain.

Kenneth Morrison, of Lake Wales, Florida, will personally narrate the film which is the third in a series of five Audubon Nature Theater films which are being presented this season under the sponsorship of the Audubon Colony at Sherwood Forest on Cedar Mountain.

"The Long Flight Back" features a detailed sequence on the Whooping Crane, one of the rarest birds in the world.

Also pictured are the remaining flocks of colorful roseate spoonbills in Florida and Texas, the largest herd of buffalo left on the continent and the concentration of wild flamingos on the island of Great Inagua in the Bahamas. This unusual motion picture was taken by about a dozen of America's leading wildlife photographers.

Admission to Monday afternoon's program is by contribution to the Audubon Colony of $1.00 for adults and 35c for children.

Water Cut-Off Set Thursday, Pisgah Heights

The water will be turned off in Pisgah Heights area Thursday night at 10:00 p. m. to allow water department workmen to make two cut-ins on the main line serving the Brevard Manufacturing Company plant.

A new line has been installed around this new building to replace the original one. It is expected that the work will not take more than about eight hours and that service can be restored by 6:00 a. m. Friday.

Retired People Are Organized

The first meeting held for the establishment of a Transylvania chapter, American Association of Retired Persons, was held Tuesday morning in the Transylvania Community Center.

J. M. Gaines was named chairman of a nominating committee with G. H. Lyday, Miss Gail Scott, Miss Martha Boswell, J. R. Hamlin, Lambert Bagwell and Irving R. Kendall, as members.

George R. Chester, of Hendersonville, WNC organizer, spoke on vital points regarding the national organization's services.

C. W. Bradburn, president of the Brevard Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the group, calling them persons of experience and "know how" who will contribute specific values to the community.

Great Need Seen For Housing Facilities In Town And County

Do you have a house for rent in Brevard or Transylvania county?

Local realtors, the Brevard Chamber of Commerce and the personnel coming here to man the satellite tracking want to know.

Joe Kaeser, manager of the RCA division which will operate the tracking station, told the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday that some 65 to 70 persons will be employed at the space installation by Sept. 1st.

The bulk of this group will be here by August 15th, and they will be needing a place to live, Mr. Kaeser stated.

Some 15 local persons will be employed.

In the group coming to the town and county will be approximately 10 single men, 25 with a wife and one or two children and 15 with wives and larger families.

Mr. Kaeser also announced that Bob Lentz would be the project coordinator, and he is expected to assume his duties here in the next two weeks.

Chamber of Commerce officials are making a plea for persons having seasonal property to make it available to these people on a temporary basis.

Mr. Kaeser said that persons employed at the tracking station would be community-minded, and he stated that they were looking forward to moving to this fine section of North Carolina. They will come here from all parts of the country.
