New Administration Building To Be Constructed, Brevard College

$100,000 Grant Of Grier Beam Is Now Matched

The construction of the Beam Administration building on the campus of Brevard college was authorized by the Board of Trustees at their annual fall meeting last Friday.

This beautiful structure will be erected in the quadrangle with the new Science building, and construction will begin in the spring when weather conditions permit.

This building is named in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Grier Beam, of Cherryville, whose challenge grant of $100,000.00, initiated the most recent capital funds drive.

Matching funds of $125,000.00 were raised by the Board of Trustees under the able direction Allen H. Sims, of Gastonia, who is chairman of the board.

The trustees approved other long-range projects at the important meeting last Friday.

The present cafeteria will be enlarged to serve 50 per cent more students, and the $500,000 Campus Center building will be remodeled to become the music building.

It will be named the Dunham Music center in memory of the late H. A. Dunham, of Asheville, who gave considerable money and real estate to the college.

Plans were formulated for the building of a new library, and efforts were launched for

Many Reunions

Homecoming At College Is Slated This Weekend

Homecoming will be observed at Brevard college this weekend, and a number of activities have been planned for the returning students.

The classes of '35, '39, '43, '47, '51, '55, '59, and '63 will hold reunions, and a luncheon and general meeting is planned for 1:00 o'clock in the faculty dining room.

Glenn Hardesty, director of public relations, will be in charge of the meeting.

Members of the Clisophic and Delphian societies will participate in a cross country meet at 2:30, followed by the homecoming basketball game at 3:00 o'clock between the 1963-64 Tornados and stars of former teams.

The homecoming dance, carrying out the theme of "Fall Fantasy", will begin at 8:30 in the Campus Center building. Music will be by The Plaids, of Charlotte, and Homecoming Queen Sue Rising and her attendants, Vicky Roveneano and Rosemary Webb, will be presented.

Registration for the day's activities will begin at 10:00 o'clock in the Campus Center building, and coffee will be served in the faculty lounge.

Special Session Of Legislature Said Stormy

Transylvania's Representative William Leonard introduced a second Republican proposal for redistricting in the special session of the General Assembly on Tuesday.

It would give Guilford and Mecklenburg three senators each, and Forsyth, Wake and Cumberland two apiece.

The House took no action on Governor Sanford's measure on Tuesday, but the Senate handed the administration a setback.

President Clarence Stone ruled that the bill would have to be packed off to a subcommittee.

The special session is expected to last all this week, and as The Times went to press Wednesday, there appeared no chance of a quick adjournment.

Firemen's Banquet Thursday

Members of the Brevard Fire Department will be honored Thursday night at the annual Fireman's banquet, sponsored by the local civic clubs.

The big event will be held at the Brevard Country club, beginning at 7:00 o'clock.

The Rotarians will be the host club this year, and members of the Kiwanis and Lions club will also attend.

Jim Conroy, of the General Adjustment Bureau, of Asheville, will be the principal speaker, and his subject will be "Castastrophes".

A professional engineer, Mr. Conroy has been with the Adjustment Bureau for the past 18 years.

Prior to that time, he was with the National Government. RCA Victor and New York Shipbuilding corporation.

He served for 4 years with the Air Force during World War II. Gil Coan will introduce the speaker, and Robert W. "Buddy" Melton is the program chairman.

Final Check-Out Tests Being Made At Tracking Station

WAYNE BRADBURN, Transylvania County Schools superintendent, was elected president of the Western Carolina College Alumni association during homecoming activities last weekend. He will serve for a one-year term. Mr. Bradburn is active in civic and church affairs. He is a member of the First Baptist church, serves as president of the Brevard Chamber of Commerce, and is on the board of directors of the Kiwanis club, Transylvania County Youth Organization and Salvation Army. He is a past president of the Toastmasters club, United Fund, and Western District Superintendents, NCEA.

NASA's new Rosman, North Carolina tracking and data acquisition site is now undergoing check-out tests in preparation for the formal dedication of the $5 million site on Saturday, October 26.

Governor Terry Sanford will be host to a group of state, congressional and NASA officials at the public dedication.

Key speakers will include the Governor, Senator Sam J. Ervin, Jr. and Senator B. Everett Jordan. NASA representatives will include Dr. George L. Simpson, Jr., assistant administrator for technology utilization and policy planning, and Dr. Harry J. Goett, director of the Goddard Space Flight Center, NASA, who has immediate responsibility for the new tracking site.

Congressman Roy Taylor will be master of ceremonies.

The Brevard High school band will furnish the music.

The public ceremonies are scheduled to start at 1:45 p.m., Saturday, October 26th.

The new tracking site will be used to acquire scientific data from NASA scientific satellites some of which may be orbiting the earth some 60,000 miles up.

County Booths At State Fair Are Top Winners

Transylvania county is much in evidence at the State Fair in Raleigh this week.

In fact, two local booths, which are attracting considerable attention, are first place winners.

They are the Transylvania 4-H booth and the corn display of Hugh N. Lambert, the state corn growing champion.

The 4-H display is a mountain scene divided into four areas.

The theme is:

"Farm Recreation Equals Income for 4-H Members".

The areas depict swimming,
