

Thomason Calls For Run-Off

Rev. B. W. Thomason, who ran second high in the race for House of Representatives in Transylvania's Democratic Primary on May 30th, is calling for a run-off election.

It will be held on June 27th, simultaneously with second primary for the governorship of the state when Judge Richardson Preyer will be opposed by second high man, Judge Dan K. Moore.

In the local house race, Jess A. Galloway was high man with 1,654, Thomason's vote was 1,560, and Ligon Ard received 1,007 votes.

In a statement this week, Mr. Thomason said:

"Since a second Democratic Primary will be held in Transylvania county in Governor's race, I am asking for a second primary for House of Representatives.

"In the May 30th Primary, three men were elected as members of the Board of County Commissioners, and if I am elected in the second primary, I will not introduce a bill to add two additional members.

"I am asking all Democratic citizens who believe in responsible government to support me in this second effort. I am running as an individual candidate on my own merits, and I have made no concessions to any groups."

Public Invited To Elks' Flag Day Ceremony

Cleaves Johnson, exalted ruler of the Brevard Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, today invited the public to attend the lodge's Flag Day observance to be held Sunday, June 14th, 2:30 p. m., at their building on Elks Club road.

Mr. Johnson said that the Brevard Lodge will be one of more than 2,000 Elks Lodges across the nation honoring the flag on the 187th anniversary of its creation by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

Exalted Ruler Johnson also announced that the lodge will participate in the July 4th "Let Freedom Ring" observance.

Bells across the nation will be rung simultaneously to commemorate the 188th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The bell ringing observance, held for the first time last year, was originated by two Connecticut men, Eric Sloane and Eric Hatch.

Vincent H. Grocott, of Santa Barbara, Calif., chairman of the Order's Grand Lodge Americanism committee, in a letter to Exalted Ruler Cleaves Johnson, urged cooperation in the observance.

APPROXIMATELY 2,500 PERSONS attended the "Open House" at the Brevard Du Pont plant last Saturday. Albert B. Morrison, plant manager, describes the event as highly successful. Tours of the plant were conducted from 10:00 a.m., until 7:00 p.m., and the visitors also enjoyed various displays and exhibitions. Families of employees toured the plant last Friday.

Approximately 2,500 Persons Tour Du Pont Photo Products

Some 2500 persons toured the local Du Pont Photo Products plant last Saturday and saw firsthand how x-ray film is made.

The recently remodeled and expanded plant is located on a 1200-acre tract some 15 miles south of Brevard.

Albert B. Morrison, plant manager, termed the open house a success.

The first stop on the tour was the power house. From there visitors toured the casting and stretching department.

Next on the tour was the storage area. Then visitors toured the shops and laboratories, and, finally, the shipping area.

Certain parts of the plant—those concerned with coating—are kept dark at all times, and these areas were not open for public inspection.

After touring the plant, visitors were treated to refreshments and to a "magic show" conducted by Arthur Smart. The show was similar to the Du Pont show at the New World's Fair.

Among the chemical "tricks" performed was the actual making of nylon.

Visitors were impressed by the cleanliness in the plant, an essential factor in the manufacture of the film. Special machines cleaned shoes of any possible dirt before people entered "clean areas".

Visitors also commented on the minimum of noise in the plant. Quiet is maintained in the working areas by keeping noisy

Brevard's City Hall Damaged By Early Morning Fire On Wednesday

Brevard firemen didn't have to go far to answer a fire alarm Wednesday morning at 4:00 o'clock. The smoldering blaze was in the rear of the City Hall, where the fire trucks are kept.

The blaze was confined to the water department supply room, but there was some water and smoke damage to other rooms in the city hall.

The fire was discovered

Outstanding Achievement

Brevard Branch Of Duke Power Given Safety Award

Duke Power company's Brevard branch has been awarded a special five-year safety performance award by the Southeastern Electric Exchange. The branch has completed five years without a disabling injury.

The award is presented in recognition of interest and achievement in accident prevention among workers of small departments, plants, divisions etc., which find it difficult because of their size to qualify for million-hour awards.

Keith Arledge, Duke district manager, says of the award:

"I'm particularly proud of John Clark and his staff. This matter of safety is a 24-hour business. One unthinking moment can spoil a perfect record—and worse than that, it can mean a terrible disablement or even death. We can all be proud of Brevard's accomplishment."

"Your accomplishment cannot be overemphasized," Duke President, W. B. McGuire, told the Brevard staff. "You're setting an example that common sense tells us we must all follow."

Beauty Pageant Being Planned

The Brevard Jaycees and Jayettes are accepting applications for the annual "Miss Brevard" pageant, which will again be held in conjunction with the Sylvan Valley Folk Festival over the Fourth of July weekend.

The big pageant and folk festival will be held in the Brevard College gym on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, July 2, 3, and 4.

Several Transylvania girls have already entered the pageant, which is open to those with the following qualifications:

The entrant must be single and never married, divorced, or had marriage annulled.

Her age on Labor Day, 1965, shall not be less than 18 nor more than 27 years.

She must be a high school graduate by Labor Day, 1965, of good character, and a resident of Transylvania county for the past six months, unless she is enrolled in college.

All girls interested in competing for the "Miss Brevard" crown and a chance to represent this county in the "Miss North Carolina" pageant, are asked to contact Jaycee Oscar Grant for further information.

Ruth Ellen Hunter is the reigning "Miss Brevard", and she will compete in this year's "Miss North Carolina" pageant in Raleigh next month.

The Jaycees and Jayettes are presently making plans to make this year's Sylvan Valley Folk Festival and Miss Brevard Pageant the biggest and best yet. They anticipate a record number of entries in square dance and talent competition in the folk festival, as well as a large number of entries in the beauty pageant.

All persons interested in performing in the festival or knowing any groups that might be interested, are urged to contact John K. Smart, Jr., president of the Brevard Jaycees, for further information.

Many Improvements Are Now Being Made At The Brevard Music Center

New Auditorium Going Up, Change Entrance

The past few days, with almost ideal building conditions, have seen steady progress in the Brevard Music Center's building program.

Concertgoers this summer will find new additions and improvements on all areas of the Center's grounds.

The much needed new auditorium is taking shape and the giant stage for this beautiful structure is well underway, giving some idea already of the size of the performing facilities that will be available when it is completed.

The paving for the new road and entrance into the grounds will be a reality within a few days and visitors will be treated to a cool tree-shaded ride as they enter the camp by the new road through what was formerly known as the Dehon property.

Traffic will leave the camp through the old entrance which has been widened.

Along the new road into camp, following the shaded stream, can be seen a new rehearsal hall which is scheduled for completion within the next two weeks.

New faculty houses are being constructed in the same area and 14 new practice cabins are being placed at various points on the grounds.

All roads at the center are being widened and paved. New

The Weather

Another hot and dry week left Brevard and Transylvania county with little precipitation in the record books for this period.

Daily high and low readings ranged from 44 to 91 degrees, with average readings of 80 and 51.

The slightly over one-tenth of an inch of rain which fell Friday night and early Saturday morning did little to settle the dust throughout the area.

Daily readings were as follows:

	High	Low	Prec.
Wednesday	74	45	.01
Thursday	73	44	.00
Friday	79	46	.00
Saturday	77	58	.10

Methodist Ministers Appointed

Ministers for the Methodist churches in Transylvania county were appointed at the annual conference last weekend at Lake Junaluska.

Only one change was made in the appointments. The Rev. Charles Reichard, who has served the Brevard Methodist church for the past two years, was appointed to the Purcell Methodist church in Charlotte.

The Rev. Brunson Wallace, formerly at the First Methodist Church in Newton, was appointed to succeed Mr. Reichard.

Mr. Reichard will preach his last sermon at the Brevard Methodist church this coming Sunday morning, June 14th.

The Rev. Joseph Reeves was reappointed to St. Timothy, and the Rev. Zeno Wright was reappointed to Rosman.

School To Reopen Monday

Summer school for Transylvania students will be held at the Brevard Junior High school from June 15th through July 24th.

Classes will be held daily from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. The cost per course will be $35.00.

Any other subjects or grades will be taught for which there is sufficient demand, according to Mr. McGuire.

Program Highlights

"Summer Treasure Hunt" To Be Heard Daily On Radio, WPNF

Another "Summer Treasure Hunt" is being planned at WPNF according to station manager, Al Martin.

"Due to the wonderful response during last year's series of contests, many of our sponsors were pleased to have the chance to participate again this year," Mr. Martin stated.

Those merchants who are co-operating in the contest this year are as follows:

Mrs. White's Kindergarten Class Learns About Flying, Community

By Staff Writer

"I just volunteered for this", said Mr. Wilkie.

A little girl giggled.

"This is just one of the many places we visit", said Mrs. White.

Someone blew a toy horn.

"It's taking off", yelled 6 or 7 children in unison.

The horn blew again.

Mrs. White's kindergarten class was visiting the Brevard airstrip.

Harvey Wilkie, a pilot for 20 years who recently received his commercial license, was showing the children the instruments in the cockpit and explaining, in a general manner, what makes the plane fly.

"I did this last year when my son was in Mrs. White's class, so I volunteered again this year", said Mr. Wilkie.

The horn blew again.

Mrs. White's philosophy is that the child learns through experience. She believes that there are many things right in the town that the child does not understand and that parents passing banks, post offices, etc., do not have time to explain to the child how these work or what they do.

"I think the child can learn about the world by learning about the community", said Mrs. White. "We have visited the bank, the post office, a
