

MISS BREVARD OF 1967, lovely Carol Coleman, is pictured here being crowned by her predecessor, Connie Gilstrap, while the two members of her court look on. Miss Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Coleman, of Brevard, won out over six other lovely and talented young ladies to earn the right to the coveted title at the annual Jaycee sponsored Miss Brevard pageant at Brevard high school last Saturday night. She will represent Brevard and Transylvania county at the Miss North Carolina pageant next summer. First runner-up in the contest was Mary Louise Ellicock, left, who also won the talent division with a dramatic rendition from the Broadway production, "Night Must Fall." She is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Ellicock, of Penrose. Second runner-up was Judy Parker, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker, of Brevard. The "Miss Congeniality" award, voted on by the contestants themselves, was won by Kim Storrs. (Times Staff Photo)

TVA Chief Will Speak At Annual Banquet Meeting

Aubrey J. Wagner, chairman of the Board of the Tennessee Valley Authority, has accepted an invitation of the Brevard Chamber of Commerce to be the speaker at the annual banquet in 1967.

Mr. Wagner will talk about TVA's plans for the Upper French Broad flood control project.

The banquet will be held in late January or in early February.

The exact date will probably be set at the regular September meeting of the board on the 13th.

Selective Service Information

The draft law requires every man registered with a local board to report any change in personal status to his board.

"Young men have asked us just what changes they should report," J. H. Bradburn, chairman of Transylvania County Local Board, says.

"Generally, anything which has a bearing on classification should be reported."

The chairman pointed to the following things which should be regarded as change of personal status:

1. Current change of mail address should always be sent to the board.
2. Marriage should be reported at once.
3. Pregnancy, births, dependency, and additions to the man's family must be reported.
4. Any and all deaths in a man's family should be reported.
5. If a man and wife are divorced or they no longer live together, this must be reported.
6. Permanent change of job should be reported.
7. Serious injury or physical defect should be reported.
8. If a man becomes a student in a college or university, this fact should be reported.
9. If a man enters the Reserves or National Guard, he should ask his commanding officer to notify his board. He should assure himself that it is done.
10. If a man has attempted to volunteer for armed forces service and has been rejected, he should advise his local board.

Final Term Of General County Court To Open

Transylvania General County court opens its final term for trial of criminal cases on Thursday, September 6th, with Judge Robert T. Gash presiding and William White prosecuting.

Court officials announce that the term will continue until September 15th, when the court terminates.

A back-log of cases has built up since the resignation of Solicitor J. Bruce Morton on May 1st.

Any cases not reached will be transferred to Superior court for trial at the October term.

Coach Is Pleased

Davidson College Gridders Practicing At Camp Carolina

By - Staff Writer

"We eat four meals a day." Head Coach of the Davidson Wildcats, Homer Smith, just folded his hands and looked mean, in a nice sort of way.

From the looks of his Wildcats, (aptly named) they eat those four meals a day raw.

The rough and tumble Davidson Wildcat football team is presently practicing for a tough season ahead this fall out at the spacious grounds of Camp Carolina. They arrived in the county Tuesday morning.

Owner of Camp Carolina, Joseph McConnell, is a past "great Davidson ballplayer," as Coach Smith puts it. Mr. McConnell is also the president of Reynolds Metal company. He has contributed the area for the team practices for the last two years.

"We're ironing out differences now, we're forced to live with each other. This way the boys get to know each other." "They have to depend on each other for entertainment, friendship, companionship and humor. It knits a group to have to draw on each other for this sort of thing."

The camp is good for the team. Coach Smith believes, because it gives the boys a chance to get to know each other. "They have to depend on each other for entertainment, friendship, companionship and humor. It knits a group to have to draw on each other for this sort of thing."

Coach Smith likes the camp idea because it forces the team to be football players all day. "They think football all day."

A Holiday

Labor Day Activities Here To Climax Fine Tourist Season

Labor Day activities in Brevard and Transylvania next Monday will climax a highly successful '66 vacation season here.

Most of the stores, town and county offices will be closed on Monday for the holiday.

Schools will also close.

The Brevard high school band will travel to Hendersonville that afternoon to participate in the big Apple Festival.

According to Postmaster C. Y. Patton, Jr., there will be no delivery of either city or rural mail, and the general delivery window will remain closed. However, there will be special delivery service.

The first Monday meetings of the Town Board of Aldermen and the County Commissioners have been postponed until next Tuesday night.

The First Union National bank, the First Citizens Bank and trust company, Pisgah Industrial Loans and Brevard Federal Savings and Loan association will observe Monday as a holiday.

The Monday night meeting of the Brevard Rotary club has also been cancelled.

George Wilson, license examiner, announces that his office will have a holiday on Monday.

Many picnickers and campers are expected in the Pisgah National Forest, and Ranger Jim Wells predicts that recreation facilities will be crowded.

Gross Farm Income In 1965 Shows Gain In Transylvania

For Transylvania county's farm population, the past year is the best one from a production standpoint in quite a while, according to a national report on farm incomes.

Their showing for the year compared favorably with that of farmers and ranchers in many parts of the country.

By making better use of the modern tools available to them, they were able to boost their production per acre to a higher level than ever.

This was accomplished with the aid of bigger and more versatile machinery and by more effective use of fertilizers and insecticides.

Other factors that helped make 1965 a better year were the generally favorable weather conditions and the higher prices obtained for livestock and farm products.

The results of the year's operations, locally and in other parts of the country, are detailed on page seven.

MAGIC MOMENT—It must have been like an enchanted afternoon for Everett Barton, of Brevard, when he unearthed 31 Indian spearheads and tools while hunting in the mountains. Mr. Barton is himself part Cherokee and finds the treasure an exciting addition to his present collection of Indian relics. (Times Staff Photo)

Everett Barton Discovers Large Axehead Collection

By - Jock Lauterer

"That's what sets me on fire!" exclaimed Everett Barton as he held one of the spearheads from a cache he had stumbled on the other day while hunting in the mountains. "My great-grandparents were full-blooded Cherokees—they could've buried those relics!"

Everett, 29, works at the body shop of Goodwill Motors. He spread his find out on the floor beside a car and told his story.

"I was out hunting the other day. I like to squirrel hunt and I was out with my brother, Earl. Well, we were coming down the mountain after a rain, and the trail had been washed away some."

"I looked down in the trail and saw this thing sticking up. Well, I've been a collector of Indian arrowheads and tools ever since I was knee-high. I looked down and said to my brother, 'That's an axe-head!'"

"He didn't believe it so I dug and pulled it out. Sure enough, it was an Indian tool. When I pulled it out I heard it grate against another rock. So I dug some more."

"We stood there and pulled 31 axeheads, knife blades and chisels outa that hole."

"Honestly they were stacked in there just like a brick mason had laid 'em in there, one on another. Hadn't been touched since the red man put 'em there!"

"Bout wiped me out!" You can imagine, what with my collection. —Turn to Page Eight

Let The Transylvania Times go with you. Enjoy reading your home town paper which is, as you know, chock full of information and news about all the doings in the Brevard area.

Parents — The Times won't take the place of letters to your sons and daughters away at school. Not at all. But it will save you the time and trouble of having to write news items in yourself, and if we do say it ourselves, The Times will give far more news than anyone has time to write.

The cost? Very little; only $3.00 for the entire school term from the time they start until June 1st.

So don't delay, get that school subscription started at once. Mail or bring your remittance and the address to us; we'll do the rest.

Rosenwald Is Converted To Needed Center

Schools in Brevard and Transylvania county opened Monday for the first full week of the 1966-'67 term. Enrollment on the first day in all the schools totalled 4,251, about the same as it was last year, however, this figure is expected to increase after the Labor Day vacation.

Supt. S. H. Helton reported Wednesday that crowded conditions exist at Penrose. Straus, Brevard senior high and at Rosman.

These conditions will be eliminated when the present construction projects are completed by Sept. 13th.

Construction was expected to be completed on all projects by the opening day of school. However, during recent weeks the contractors have been unable to get certain materials, primarily doors.

Supt. Helton is pleased with the conversion of the Rosenwald school to the Transylvania Educational center.

This building now houses the various federal programs, as well as offices for the speech therapist, the director of instruction and the attendance counselor.

The additional space at the center makes it possible for the school system to buy in larger quantities at a considerable saving.

All supplies are received and distributed at the center, and there is also room for teachers to receive "on the job training."

Enrollment by schools is as follows at the latest count:

- Brevard high school - 956
- Brevard junior high - 594
- Brevard elementary - 805
- Straus elementary - 422
- Penrose - 313
- Pisgah Forest - 250
- Rosman high school - 247
- Rosman elementary - 432
- T. C. Henderson - 182

Bus Overtakes, One Student Is Slightly Injured

One of Transylvania's school buses overturned about 7:30 Wednesday morning; however, only one student was slightly injured.

The bus, driven by Cleve Hunter, ran off on a soft shoulder and turned over on its side.

The accident occurred on a narrow, Hill Mountain road, and four students were riding in the bus when it overturned.

Patrolman Bill Sawyer investigated.
