Sometimes there is a tendency to become impatient with our rate of spiritual progress. We feel that we should move ahead more speedily. But soul unfoldment is not measured in terms of how fast or how slow but of how deep is our awareness, how great is our understanding. As we grow and develop in understanding, we are capable of receiving more light. Where before our eyes were closed to Truth, now we see how all of our experiences have been part of God's good plan for us.
