

TRANSYLVANIA CAMPERS take several trips through the Pisgah National forest each year, and it is always a delightful outing. A stopover at Sliding

Rock, above, is always a must. Swimming and lifesaving are prominent features of all the camps. (Photo by Austin)

Camp High Rocks Enjoys Privacy In Mountain Locale, Program Is Varied

By - Staff Writer

High Rocks is situated on 110 acres of beautiful mountain woodland in Western North Carolina. White pebbles lining the trails and logs clearing the pathways give one a feeling of complete privacy and seclusion and provide an opportunity for a return to nature.

Built on the shores of a 12-acre lake, High Rocks is a private camp for boys 9-16 and girls 10-16. Located near the Pisgah National Forest and the Great Smokies, the camp lends opportunity to carry out a deep woods program. Constantly "on the go", the boys show a great deal of enthusiasm about tripping both by foot and water. These tips are the rewards for interest and participation in related activities. This is the most unique and enduring experience that High Rocks offers.

The chief interest at High Rocks is the individual with efforts to develop initiative, self-reliance, and resourcefulness as well as the skills in various sports. High Rocks seeks to bring to each of its campers a physical, mental, and spiritual refreshment. Complete instructional coverage and planned incentives are a vital part of the program.

In addition to the waterfront activities, High Rocks offers a carefully planned program that includes tennis, riflery, archery, and crafts. The program is carried out in an atmosphere of non-regimentation and is free from high pressure competition.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumner M. Williams, the owners and directors, feel that camp life is a key step in a child's education. Mr. Williams is a mathematics instructor at Furman University during the winter months. The camp is small, limiting the enrollment to 110; however, the size permits the highly individualized philosophy of High Rocks to be carried out.

There is one counselor for every four campers at High Rocks who are chosen not only for what they can do and teach, but also for what they are. Important values are often caught, and true leadership is a combination of skill, friendliness, and experience.

Burgiss Glen Has Aims Of YWCA Where Outdoor Living Is Stressed

By Staff Writer

The YWCA purpose states well the aims and goals of Burgiss Glen Camp, located south of Brevard: "To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians."

Hugging the mountain side with a hilly terrain, Burgiss Glen covers an area of 187 acres with a two-acre natural lake. Mrs. Robert Garren is the new camp director although she has been associated with the camp for several years. She and her husband have directed the family camp sessions held at Burgiss Glen later in the summer. She says, "We are trying to give young people an experience in simple, outdoor living."

A member of the American Camping Association, the camp also emphasizes water skills and nature studies. A nature trail with a variety of plants and fern was provided for the beauty of the camp and for studying by the Carolina Foothills Garden Club in Greenville. A series of well-developed hiking trails offers hours of exploration and fun. Rim of the World completely surrounds the camp and Chestnut Ridge Trail is marked with logs covered with moss. The trail to Burgiss

Glen mountain feels the tramp of many feet every day.

A very impressive sight is High Heaven, the outdoor mountain chapel at Burgiss Glen. It was constructed by campers, and vesper services are held there daily.

A feeling of nature and rustic living is exemplified by the names of the various structures throughout the camp. The cabins are named for plants and people. The dining hall is Rhoda Den, for the flower and in memory of Miss Rhoda Haynesworth, who was earlier affiliated with the camp. Often visited is the Bee Hive, the busy camp store; and Heal-All, the camp infirmary, has the fewest callers. Woodland, the outdoor theater, is the scene of drama and fun. There is a creek separating the stage and seating area.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bradley, the program directors, planned a special Fourth celebration. Field activities during the day will be climaxed by a serious consideration of the meaning of Independence Day in the evening.

Later in the season Burgiss Glen will be a family camp of an informal type with flexible schedules and good conservation.

Individualism Is Stressed In Program At Camp Eagle's Nest In Lower County

By - Staff Writer

Eagle's Nest, situated near Pisgah National Forest in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina, provides an ideal place and climate for a summer camp. The geographical setting is healthful, invigorating, and beautiful.

Eagle's Nest Camp is operated by Eagle's Nest Camp, Inc., a membership organization, a non-profit organization, chartered under the laws of North Carolina for educational, literary, and charitable purposes. The camp accepts campers from six years of age who are grouped at Eagle's Nest according to school age.

Dr. and Mrs. Alex Waite, camp directors, show a great deal of pride in expanding the camp's philosophy. The aims of Eagle's Nest are growth and happiness of children in an atmosphere of freedom and discipline with opportunities to learn and for guidance. One of the principles of the program is respect for individuality as all activity schedules are made out by the campers who accept the responsibility of carrying out their program and reaching its objectives.

Located east of Brevard near Pisgah Forest, the camp is equipped with a library, ceramics, arts and crafts center, woodworking facilities, campcraft and handicraft centers.

The camp holds 125 campers, boys and girls, with 35 counselors. The camp has two lakes, one for fishing, which is stocked, and one for swimming, complete with docks. Campers also enjoy canoeing on the lake and on the Davidson River.

The camp is equipped with a baseball diamond, several putting tees, volleyball courts, basketball areas, 10 tennis courts, two riding rings and a stable, a rifle range, archery course, and a football and soccer field.

For the campers, Eagle's Nest is a world in itself. In this extraordinarily complete environment, the feelings of the camper become involved in many ways. Looking out from a mountain top, watching the turbulent motion of a waterfall, a horseback ride in the woods, and communing with nature is all a part of Eagle's Nest. All campers at Eagle's Nest are rich in opportunities and experiences after a summer of outdoor living.

Revival Begins At East Fork

Revival services will begin on Sunday, July 9th, at East Fork Baptist church. The visiting minister will be the Reverend Bobby Gibson of Leicester.

The pastor, Reverend J. W. Jackson, invites the public to attend.

ADMINISTRATORS NOTICE

State of North Carolina
County of Transylvania

Having qualified as the administrator of the estate of Belle P. Corn, deceased, late of the county of Transylvania, North Carolina, this is to give notice that all persons having claims against the estate of the deceased to present them to the undersigned administrator at Pisgah Forest on or before the 30th day of December, 1967 or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to the said estate will please make immediate settlement.

This the 30th day of June, 1967.

CHARLES L. CORN
Administrator Estate of Belle P. Corn deceased

7-64tc

When you think of prescriptions, think of VARNER'S. adv

ATTENTION... Voters Of Brevard PLEASE... Take A Few Minutes And Read This Message

You May Be Very Glad You Did, Or You May Be Very Sorry You Did Not

Only Facts Are Presented... No Opinions, False Statements Or Half-Truths

★ Read ★ Study
★ Judge For Yourself
THEN VOTE
"FOR" LEGAL CONTROL

★
YOU are asked to think and judge for yourself whether or not an ABC store will help or hurt the future of our town
YOU are asked to read and study the facts and then make your decision
ONLY facts are presented. Remember that almost every citizen will personally be affected by the outcome of the ABC election on Saturday

IF you want more liquor control—you will have it with an ABC store

IF you want to help keep taxes down and water and sewer charges down—the ABC store will do both

IF you want more and better schools, community recreation facilities, better water and sewer services, better streets, a better library, and other improvement for which there is very little money today—the ABC store will certainly be a big help

IF you want to keep vast sums of money at home that are now going to neighboring towns and cities—vote for an ABC store in Brevard.

WITHOUT the ABC store profits—

★ TAXES will go up!

★ WATER AND SEWER CHARGES will go up, or

★ TOWN SERVICES will go down.

This Message Is Sponsored By The

Local Committee for Legal Control