HOLLY WILLIAMS pauses from her lunch to "have her beauty struck." This surfer girl is one of the most active students on campus. Why did she leave Hawaii for Brevard? Read below.

Holly's From Hawaii!

How many people on campus do you know that have lived in Hawaii almost all their lives? Not many, but Holly Marie Williams can say that she has. Born in Nanakuli, Hawaii, Holly knew very little of Brevard, but decided to take a chance on coming here and is very glad she did.

Holly, whose home is now Hollywood, California, is a well known figure on campus. Her friendly smile and personality make her a friend to everyone. This year she is doing a fine job as President of the Euterpean Society. She is also a Big Sister, a member of the Women's Athletic Association and was on the honor roll for the first half of the semester this year.

Her favorite course is chemistry, but she enjoys biology and excitedly states that she will take microbiology and marine ecology this Christmas in the Bahamas.

Holly likes working with people, sewing, and studying. When living in Hawaii she was an avid surfer and still enjoys all athletic events.

After graduating this spring, Holly hopes to enter the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She hopes to become a physical therapist, and would like to serve in the Peace Corps for two years.

Holly feels that Brevard is wonderful and says, "Out of all the places I've been, it is here that I've found the warmest and friendliest people."

Brevard College is indeed fortunate to have such an attractive and well-rounded person as Holly Williams on Campus.

Miss Linda Smith Selected For Study-Tour

Miss Linda Smith of Brevard, a student at Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, has been selected for membership in Wesleyan's New York Seminar for the 1968 academic year. This seminar is a tour-study program of New York City, with particular emphasis upon the United Nations.

Members of the seminar will seek to increase their knowledge of the world situation, our American Society, by contacts within the United Nations, and cultural institutions in a metropolitan city. They will participate in weekly discussions and lectures on world affairs, to be culminated by a tour of New York, March 20-25.

Miss Smith is one of 29 selected by a faculty-student committee for membership in the seminar. Selection was based upon grade-point average and upon the committee's evaluation of the individual's application.

Horse Aids Recruitment
A horse standing in the middle of the road resulted in two new 4-H Club members for Lincoln county. Here's how.

Two county extension agents were returning to Lincolnton following a club meeting when they spotted a horse standing in the road. David Choate, assistant agricultural extension agent, got out of the car and led the animal to the nearest house.

The horse didn't belong to that family, but to the neighbors down the road. The lady of the house called her neighbor. A short time later, two women came over in a pickup truck to get the horse. One woman tried to ride the animal home, but without a bridle. She couldn't get the horse headed in the right direction.

Choate found a length of chain, and put it around the horse's neck so the animal could be led. Finally, the two women agreed that the best way to get the horse home was to tie the chain to the tail gate of the truck and make him trot.

After getting the horse home-ward bound the two agents visited with the family. "Both the girl and boy indicated they would like to join 4-H and signed up right on the spot," Nancy Clinton, assistant home economics extension agent, said.

Novel Hats

Mrs. E. E. Thompson, Plymouth, uses her imagination and materials on hand to create her hats, relates Gretchen C. Davis, associate home economics extension agent, Washington county.

Recently, Mrs. Thompson made a green wool hat. She used an olive green man's tie as a band and gold earrings to complete the trim.

Tree For United Nations Day

In observance of United Nations Day, October 24th, members of the Boonville Homemakers Club, Yadkin county, planted a magnolia tree at a new consolidated high school.

Irene Brown, home economics extension agent, explains that through the years Boonville club members have observed this day by planting trees at public places.

"We now have more than 10 beautiful trees growing on school grounds, at the medical center, church grounds and community parks," Mrs. W. E. Brooks, club president, added.

Japanese Potato

A new vegetable is being introduced to the homemakers of Orange county — the Japanese potato.

According to Mrs. Bonnie B. Davis, extension home economics agent, the Japanese potato is closely akin to the pumpkin and sweet potato. It's very rich in vitamin A.

Mrs. Dave Breeze, Hillsborough, Rt. 2, found out about the vegetable from her sister in Virginia who grows them.

Q. What's the name of this meat cut?

A. Pork arm steak.

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?

A. It comes from the shoulder section of pork and is sometimes referred to as a shoulder steak. The cut is distinguished by a round bone or arm bone, which gives the cut its name. It is this bone which makes this steak different from that with the blade bone which is long and slender.

How is it prepared?

By braising or broiling. For braising, the pork arm steak is browned first in its own fat or in lard or drippings. The drippings are then poured off and a small amount of liquid is added. A tight cover and approximately 45 to 60 minutes cooking time are needed for steaks cut 1/2 of an inch thick.

Pork steaks may be broiled indoors or out, provided temperature is kept moderate. When cut 1/2 inch thick, the total broiling time is 35 to 40 minutes.

Turn frequently to assure even browning.

Thanksgiving is breathing down our necks, and most folks want to have company and a super-fine dinner. First comes the turkey, of course, and then you ponder about what stuffing to use. Today I have a new stuffing for you to try, and have made up the rest of the meal with these special recipes. Your company will heap praises on your head and you and the entire family will be delighted.

Cornmeal Mush Turkey Stuffing

3 cups cornmeal
2 cups cold water
6 tbs. shortening or bacon drippings
1 1/2 qts. boiling water
1 tsp. sage
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 medium onion, grated fine
6 whole eggs, beaten
1 lb. hamburger meat
6 slices dried bread (soaked in water, with water squeezed out)

Make cornmeal mush by adding cold water to the cornmeal until it is nearly moist enough to pour. Put the bacon drippings or shortening in the boiling water and slowly add the cornmeal, stirring constantly to avoid lumping. Cook over high heat, stirring continuously to keep from scorching, until the mush tastes done and is very thick. Cool slightly. Add

Rose Of Sharon Salad

1/2 cup water
1/2 cup vinegar
1 cup sugar
2 3-oz. pkgs. raspberry-flavored gelatin
2 cans tomato soup
1 pkg. unflavored gelatin dissolved in 3 tbs. water
1 green pepper, chopped
2 cups grated cabbage
1 onion, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
Dash of pepper
Salt to taste

Combine water, vinegar and sugar, and bring to a boil. Add —Turn to Page Seven

Helpful Hints

To keep stainless steel sinks and stove tops from looking smeary or water-spotted, rub with a paper towel dipped in a little mineral oil, then wipe dry.

The top of a wooden-handled chisel won't splinter if a round metal furniture glide is tapped on when the chisel's new.

Last summer Marge said to George (for the hundredth time)

I WANT A HEATING SYSTEM THAT WILL KEEP ME COMFORTABLE ALL WINTER LONG.

ALL RIGHT, WE'LL GET A NEW HEATING SYSTEM. BUT ONLY IF WE CAN FIND ONE THAT'S EASY TO INSTALL. AND ONLY IF IT'S ECONOMICAL TO OPERATE, AND DOESN'T GIVE ME ANY TROUBLE.

So they talked to a Duke Power representative who told them, among other things, that electric heating is growing in popularity every day. Today, it's being installed in more new homes and apartments served by Duke Power than any other type of heating. When Marge and George selected flameless electric comfort heating he recommended an Electrical Modernization Dealer. Before you could say Jack Frost, Marge and George had electric comfort heating installed in their home.

They've been living happily ever after.
