Book And Plate Club Hears Reports, Reviews

The Book and Plate club held its November meeting with Mrs. Julius Sader and heard reports of the defensive driving course and the district meeting in Hendersonville. Plans for the Christmas project were included in the business session.

The program, given by Mrs. R. E. Matthews, consisted of two non-fiction books which had been, or were, on the best-seller list; namely "How to Avoid Probate" by Norman Dacey, and "The New Industrial State" by John Kenneth Galbraith. She pointed out the first named book had sold 700,000 copies, but that the Legal Profession had taken steps against it because the author was practicing law without a license. The second book deals entirely with the economic world in this country, and while eminently readable it is a book by a professional economist in which economics is treated with a cavalier disdain.

The club will meet with Mrs. Robert T. Gash in December and the program will feature Christmas music.

Miss Sitton And Mr. Case Are Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sitton, of route 2, Horse Shoe, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Julie Mae, to Larry W. Case.

A 1963 graduate of West Henderson high school, Miss Sitton is now employed by Olin Mathieson Chemical Cor-

Republican Women To Conduct Pie Sale

A home-made pumpkin pie sale will be conducted the day before Thanksgiving by the County Republican Women. This is a fund raising project and all materials are being donated.

Locally grown pumpkins will be used exclusively.

Pies will go on sale in front of Austin's Art Studio at 11:00 a.m. Wednesday, November 22nd.

Those who wish to reserve pies in advance may do so by calling co-chairman Mrs. C. R. McCall, 862-4821 or Mrs. C. C. Johnson, 883-3308. Pies will be delivered, if requested.

In order to avoid disappointment, early reservations are suggested.

Jaycettes Hear Of Christmas Food Ideas

The Brevard Jaycettes met for their November meeting at Colonial Inn with President Freda Morrison presiding.

An interesting and timely program, "Christmas in the Kitchen," was presented by Miss Jean Childers, Home Demonstration Agent for Transylvania County. Miss Childers discussed many gifts and decorations made from household items, to make the kitchen more cheerful during the Holiday season.

Mrs. James A. Davis was welcomed as a new member, and Pat Beswick as a guest.

After a short discussion, the club voted to sponsor a Brownie Troop.

Mrs. Charles Weiss, welfare chairman, announced that, after many hours of hard work by the members and their husbands, the Clothing Closet is now ready to reopen in the new location. The Clothing Closet is now located on the second floor of the Sheltered Workshop Bldg. on East Main St.

The Halloween candy sale was reported to be a big success and a good profit was made for the underprivileged Children's Christmas Party.

President Morrison read a letter from Rev. Earnest W. Barnes explaining the Transylvania Council of Social Services. After discussing the opportunity to more efficiently serve the Community, the club decided to become an associate member of the Council.

The Jaycettes have been invited by their husbands, the Jaycees, to a Buffet supper at Berry's Restaurant Nov. 18.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Steve Morrison, for a Christmas party and exchanging of gifts.

DAF Luncheon Set Nov. 29th

The DAF monthly luncheon and card party will be held at Gaither's Rhododendron room, Wednesday, November 29th, at 10:00 a.m. Cost, including luncheon, is $2.25. For reservations call: Mrs. R. A. Galle, 883-6006; Mrs. E. F. White, 883-3308; Mrs. G. Pooyer, 883-6813.

Mrs. Ingram Talks To Fortnightly Club

The Brevard Fortnightly Club met on November 9th at the home of Mrs. Connie Sewell on Maple Street.

Fourteen members and a guest, Miss Rheumma Carter, were present.

Following refreshments, the meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. W. H. Ingram, Jr., presented the program on Islam, another in the series of study on Religions of the World.

The religion, Islam has three million followers in the modern world. The name Islam is sometimes called Mohammed-ism for the prophet Mohammed and means submission to God. The followers worship what they refer to as the true God, Alla.

The beginnings of the religion were in the year 571 A.D. when pilgrims came to Mecca to worship at the Black Stone which they believed fell from heaven.

News From The Garden Clubs

Green Valley
The Green Valley Junior Garden club has had a busy time since the club resumed their meetings after summer vacation.

In September the members met with their counselor—Mrs. John Prugh—to plan their yearbook and programs for the next eight months.

The officers for the 1967-1968 year are:

President, Allison Sanders
Vice President, Geraldine Emerson

Secretary and Treasurer, Anne Cook

Historian, Sandra Conrey.
On October 13, the Junior Garden club met with Nancy Paxton on Park View drive.

After the routine business, the girls went downtown and planted 15 hyacinth bulbs on the court house lawn beneath the "Welcome to Brevard" sign.

On November 16th, the Juniors met with Geraldine Emerson on Neely road. With the supplies collected by the girls, they made tray favors for Thanksgiving for the patients in the Transylvania Community hospital. The girls will serve on the Coffee cart at the hospital Thanksgiving day.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Cindy Ramsay on Neely road. Mrs. Prugh will conduct the program on "Christmas Arrangements and Decorations."

Brevard

The Brevard Garden club will have a Christmas workshop Friday, November 17th from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Paul Owenby. Mrs. Frank Moody is co-hostess.

Miss Buchanan from Asheville will give the program on "Christmas Decorations."

Transylvania

The Transylvania Garden club will meet Friday, November 17th at the home of Mrs. George T. Perkins, Sr. Co-hostess is Mrs. A. E. Norville.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Shepard from Hendersonville will give the program on "Birds." They will show colored slides along with the lecture.

All club members are urged to attend this interesting meeting.

Sylvan Valley

The Sylvan Valley Garden club will meet with Mrs. Fred Owenby on Monday, November 20th at 8:00 p.m. Mrs. Clifford Frady will be co-hostess.

Miss Jean Childers, the Home Extension Agent for Transylvania county, will present the program on "Christmas Decorations."

Women's League Slates Meeting

The League of Women Voters will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, November 16th at 10:00 a. m. in the First Methodist church.

Members of the League will present a program on election procedures. Mrs. George Spicer will discuss "Precinct Participation on the Grass Roots Level"; Mrs. Harry Hill, "The Structure of Political Parties"; and Mrs. John Eastes will give a resume of the North Carolina League's publication, "Democracy and Our Election Laws."

The public is invited to attend and take part in the discussion.

A short business meeting will follow the program.

Mathatasian Club

China Painting Is Theme Of Program

A program of special interest was given at the meeting of the Mathatasian club on November 8th with Mrs. J. O. Davidson.

Mrs. Marius Wells introduced her mother, Mrs. D. M. Weatherly of Asheville, as guest program leader and her program on china painting was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Weatherly began china painting in 1914, and is quite expert at the art today as was evidenced by her display of beautifully painted china. She explained in detail the mixing of paints with oil and the process of several bakings to insure true and fast colors. There was great interest in the program.

Mrs. Al Watson, president, presided at the meeting. The Welfare Committee, composed of Mrs. J. O. Davidson and Mrs. Shuford Snyder reported on a family chosen to be given food during Thanksgiving week. Members were asked to bring food to Mrs. Davidson by Saturday, November 18th. This same family will be remembered with food, clothing and gifts at Christmas.

The club voted to take membership in the Transylvania Council of Social Services and lend our support to the services of this worthy organization.

A social hour was enjoyed during which the hostess served delicious refreshments carrying out the Thanksgiving theme.

The club will meet again on December 13th with Mrs. Jack Trantham and Mrs. C. E. Buckner will be leader of the program on "Christmas Literature."
