Cathey's Creek News Reported

By MRS. KEN RILEY

CATHEY'S CREEK — Christmas was spent very quietly in our section with some visiting and no accidents reported.

The sick and elderly folks wish to express heartfelt thanks to the Cathey's Creek Baptist church for the fruit baskets and gifts from the church on Christmas eve. They were much appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Auburn Cison from Easley, S. C. and sons visited Mr. and Mrs. Carley Mann over the weekend.

Visitors at the John Mann residence for the holidays included Mr. and Mrs. Grady Lance and family of Ashland, Ky., and Mrs. Edna Danielson and family of Atlanta, Ga.

Christmas day visitors of the Alvin Fowlers were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McKinney and Jean Shook of Asheville.

Charles Barton of Newport News, Va., spent the holidays visiting relatives here.

Ward Breedlove is still improving from a very long bout with shingles.

Your writer wishes to express New Year's greetings to all the readers of this column. May each one be most richly blessed.

The President's Commission on Heart Attack, Cancer and Stroke quotes the estimate that two million living Americans have suffered a stroke, with two of every three strokes victims surviving the initial stroke.

A CHRISTMAS STOCKING, containing 50 one dollar bills, was presented last Friday afternoon to Miss Bronith Brown, who resides on Whitmire street, by John I. Anderson on behalf of Radio Station WPNF and the sponsors of a special Christmas promotion. Miss Brown is an employee of the American

Thread company, and she said the money was a good Christmas present. Her name was drawn from a box that contained all the names of those persons who registered at Miller's Laundry, Mims and Lyday, Brevard Jewelers, Varner's and at Patterson's while Christmas shopping. (Times Staff Photo)
