Transylvanians Will Vote In Democratic And Republican Primaries This Saturday

Glenn Echols Elected To Head Lions

Glenn Echols, Documentation and Training Coordinator, Rosman Tracking Station, is the new president of the Brevard Lions club.

Other officers are as follows: Jerry H. Jerome, 1st Vice-President; Ed Bryson, 2nd Vice-President; Bill Hufers, 3rd Vice-President; G. H. Johnson, Secretary; C. E. Chapman, Treasurer; Ed Rice, Lion Tamer; Harrison Tawney, Tail Twister; Steve Cochran, A. B. Barger, Clarence Burnette and Bob Jeffers, Directors; Chester Kilpatrick, Bulletin Editor.

The new slate of officers will be installed at the first meeting in July.

At the Thursday night meeting of the club, Quentin Rathbone will show movies made in Alaska. As usual, the Lions will meet at the Colonial Inn at 7:00 p.m.

AN EXCELLENT EXAMPLE OF "Be Kind to Animals", a special week to be observed from May 5th through the 11th, is told in the picture above. Logan Siniard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Siniard, Park View Drive, Brevard, found three baby bunnies in a nest under a tree in his backyard. Penny Anderson, who lives next door, helps Logan feed warm milk to the bunnies each day. Easter has come and gone, but does anybody need a bunny rabbit? (Times Staff Photo)

Little Interest Being Shown, Voting Is Urged

The Democratic and Republican primaries will be held Saturday, May 4th. All eligible Transylvania voters are urged to make a special effort to vote.

For this is one of the two days Americans can and must avail themselves of the greatest privilege and accept the greatest responsibility of living in a Democracy. It is the day they exercise the God-given and Constitutionally-guaranteed right of selecting the candidates who will be on the ballot in the general election.

Contrary to the farcical elections of the totalitarian regimes which now oppress the majority of the world's people — regimes where party bosses hand-pick the nominees for a one-party ballot — Americans of different political persuasions can select the candidates who will represent their parties in the primary and offer the voters a choice of parties in the elections.

SAMPLE BALLOTS

Printed in this issue of THE TIMES are the four sample ballots. The point should be made here in explanation that, this being a primary election, only those candidates for office of each party who have opposition in their party, are represented on a ballot. If a party candidate has no opposition in his party, he is automatically assured of a place on the ballot in November.

POLLS OPEN 6:30 A.M.

The polls, by state law, will be open from 6:30 a.m. Saturday morning until 6:30 p.m. Saturday evening.

Voters will vote in their precincts, at the same place where they registered, unless the registration and polling place has been moved since their registration. If there is any doubt in a voter's mind as to his place to vote, it may be resolved by telephoning the County Board of Elections office in the Transylvania County Court House.

QUIET PRIMARY

This promises to be a quiet election, probably because there are only 2 races with lively local interest. These are for the office of State Representative, 48th District; William M. Fetzer of Brevard and Robert C. Crawford of Bryson City, both Democrats; and for two of the 3 District Court Judgeships, 29th District; Robert T. Gash and John R. Hudson, Jr., both of Brevard and both Democrats.

69 Per Cent Of Families In Transylvania Are Homeowners

Program Highlights

Returns Of Election Will Be Heard All Evening Over WPNF

By Staff Writer

Home ownership is the order of the day in Transylvania county. In contrast to the situation in many communities across the country, in the local area a large proportion of families now own the houses in which they live.

The ownership rate has been going up in recent years as a growing number of families, who had been living in rented quarters but wanted homes of their own, accumulated the wherewithal to satisfy that desire.

The net result, according to the latest findings, is that approximately 69.3 percent of all dwelling units in the area are now owned by their occupants.

This compares with 63.4 percent in the rest of the United States and 61.6 percent in the State of North Carolina.

The extent of the gain that has been made in the last few years may be gleaned from a look at the 1960 Census of Housing. At that time, only 67.6 percent of the local dwellings were found to all races in the primaries, and particular attention will be paid to races which are on the local ballot.

Other Programs

Schedule for the Farm and Home Hour on WPNF for the following week is as follows: Thursday, station program, Friday, Soil Conservation service; Monday, County Extension Agent Jim Davis; Tuesday, Forest Service; Wednesday, Jean Childers, Home Economics agent.

According to the Weather Bureau's long-range forecast for Western North Carolina, temperatures will average below normal through Saturday.

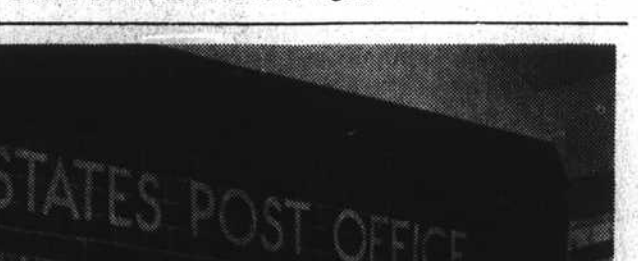

Daytime highs are expected to average 66 to 70, while the lows at night will average in the lower 40's. Little change in temperature, except cooler by Friday.

Precipitation will total one-quarter inch, with occasional rain or showers about Friday.

Temperatures during the past week averaged out at 67 and 38 at the Brevard weather station. There was a total of .70 inch rain during the period.

Temperatures and precipitation for the week follows:

	High	Low	Prec.
Wednesday	67	55	0.39
Thursday	72	33	0.00
Friday	70	28	0.00
Saturday	71	30	0.00
Sunday	64	43	0.00

Chamber Of Commerce Drive For New Members Underway

The annual Membership drive of the Brevard Chamber of Commerce, which was "kicked-off" on April 19th, is in full swing, according to Jerry Willis, chairman of the Finance and Membership committee.

Since that date, many interested individuals and businesses in the community have been contacted, and they have been told of the Chamber of Commerce story and purposes of this important civic organization.

Don Lineberger, Chamber President states:

"We feel that a strong Chamber is necessary to assist in healthy growth of our area which certainly benefits all of us who live, work, merchandise and play here. New members are needed for two basic reasons: Firstly, in most cases membership creates concern and involvement by the member bringing new ideas and voices into our programs.

"Secondly, although we only have one salaried part time employee and most of the Chamber work is done by volunteer efforts, advertising, supplies and some committees require operating funds, and dues are necessary for survival."

As of December 31, 1967 the Chamber membership included a total of 195 members.

Since January 1, 1968, the Chamber is pleased to welcome the following new members:

- Adams, James L., Adams & Adams Real Estate,
- Bailey, Thomas, IV, Tom Field Camp Ground,
- Brown, Garland C., Hayes & Hopson of Brevard,
- Bryson, Carl, County Accountant,
- Dunlop, Mrs. Charles L., The Char-Lee company,
- Hendrix, Bill, Hendrix Sinclair,
- Hill, Robert Noble,

Martin Rice Is Associate Director At Music Center

Henry Janiec, Director of the Brevard Music Center, has announced the appointment of Martin R. Rice of Williams Bay, Wisconsin, as an Associate Director of the Music Center.

Mr. Rice will begin his new duties in July, working on the development and promotion of the Music Center on a national basis. Mr. Rice has had eleven years of teaching and administrative experience at the college level, combining conducting and administrative duties as the Director of the Creative Arts program at George Williams College in Wisconsin, where he was Administrative Assistant to the vice president. Mr. Rice attended the University of Wichita, the University of Michigan and the University of Erlangen in Germany, receiving his Bachelor's and Masters degrees in Music. He is the founder of several choral societies in Park Ridge, Illinois, and Baltimore.

Mr. Rice joins the Brevard

There were no opposition witnesses.

The 11th District congressman explained that his bill would serve two principal purposes:

First, it would delineate boundaries to set the Cradle apart from Pisgah National Forest, although it would still be under Forest Service management.

Secondly, it would provide a means by which interested individuals and private organizations
