College To Graduate Largest Class In Exercises Sunday

Sermon At 11:30, Diplomas To Be Awarded At 3:00

The largest graduation class in the history of Brevard College will participate in commencement exercises this weekend here on the local campus.

There are 192 candidates for graduation, and several events are planned for Saturday and Sunday, President Emmett K. McLarty announces.

Dr. Harold W. Hutson, Provost at the American University in Washington, D. C., will deliver the commencement sermon at Brevard College, May 12.

Having served as an educator in North Carolina and as a member of the WNC Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, Dr. Hutson has served in his position as provost at the American University since 1964.

A native of South Carolina, he received the BA degree from Wofford College, the BD degree from Duke University, and Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago.

Participating in the 11:30 service will be the Reverend Brunson Wallace, pastor of Brevard Methodist church; the Reverend E. Wannamaker Hardin, Jr., Business Manager of the college; the Reverend W. Louis Miles, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

JEFFREY LEA, center, winner of the Olin Mathieson Charitable Trust merit scholarship, is congratulated by W. F. Taylor, Jr., Director of Marketing for Fine Papers for Olin's Ecusta Paper Division. At left is Harry Corbin, principal of Brevard high school, and at right are Jeffrey's parents, Dr. and Mrs. David C. Lea. Dr. Lea is director of Research and Development for the Ecusta Paper Division.

Voting Was Light In Primaries Last Saturday, Run-Offs Seen

Local Results In Election

The canvass of votes in the Democratic and Republican Primary election of last Saturday was completed about noon Tuesday. The following is a list of the contests, the candidates and their total number of votes in Transylvania county:

N. C. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVE (48th District); Democrats:
Robert C. Crawford	681
William M. Fetzer	1082
DISTRICT COURT JUDGE (29th District); Democrats:
Wade B. Matheny	430
Forrest I. Robertson	503
Robert T. Gash	1477
W. Harley Stepp, Jr.	435
John R. Hudson, Jr.	1439
W. R. Sheppard	518
UNITED STATES SENATOR; Democrats:
Fred G. Brummitt	71
Sam J. Ervin, Jr.	1618
John T. Gathings, Sr.	102
Charles A. Pratt	117
GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA; Democrats:
J. Melvin Broughton, Jr.	594
Reginald A. Hawkins	110
Robert W. (Bob) Scott	1234
LT. GOVERNOR; Democrats:
Mrs. James M. Harper, Jr.	246
Frank M. Matlock	152
H. Pat Taylor, Jr.	1437
STATE TREASURER; Democrats:
Shaed High	523
Edwin Gill	1245

Like the rest of North Carolina, Transylvania had a light vote cast in the Democratic and Republican Primaries last Saturday.

Actually, less than 2,000 Democrats voted, and there were about 600 Republicans casting ballots in the county.

Also, Transylvania voters favored Lt. Gov. "Bob" Scott, as they did across the State of North Carolina. A second primary may be called by the second high man, Mel Broughton.

While Brevard's William Fetzer defeated his Democratic opponent here in the race for House of Representatives, Crawford was the winner in the district.

Also, of local interest was the race for District Judge in the 29th District.

Wade B. Matheny and Forrest Robertson of Forest City, led the ticket and were elected. There appears to be at this time a run-off for the third judge.

Robert T. Gash, of Brevard, was third highest, but he did not have a majority, which was 6,280 votes. He was short by 427 votes.

Hendersonville attorney W. Harley Stepp, Jr., one of the candidates who may be in the position to call the runoff for the third seat, checked the vote totals with clerks of court in the counties involved and

Rebel 400 From Darlington To Be Heard Saturday, WPNF

Again this year, WPNF will join with a large network of stations to broadcast to local racing fans the thrilling Rebel 400 stock car race from Darlington International Raceway, at Darlington, S. C.

A veteran broadcasting crew will be on hand again to present this thrilling broadcast, and it is always a pleasure for the local station to make it possible for Transylvania county racing fans to keep up with their favorite drivers in this big race.

Local sponsors who make the broadcast possible over WPNF include: Citizens Telephone company, Pisgah Industrial Loan company and Sledge Radio and Television.

The Rebel 400 broadcast on WPNF begins at 2:00 p.m. Saturday.

As announced previously, a special series of "Protestant Hour" programs will soon be heard over WPNF. These programs will be heard during the period of May 12 to June 16th.

The speakers to be heard during the special series are as

Methodists Change Time Of Services

Due to the Commencement sermon at Brevard College on Sunday morning, worship services at the Brevard Methodist church will be held earlier than usual.

The schedule is as follows:
Sunday School—9:30
Morning Worship—10:30

Rev. Brunson Wallace, the pastor, says the latter service will be concluded in time for members of the congregation to attend the college commencement service at 11:30 if they desire to do so.

Jaycees To Sponsor Annual Teenage Rodeo

Transylvania county teenagers will have an opportunity to demonstrate their all-around driving knowledge and ability in an Auto Rodeo to determine the county's safest and most skillful young drivers.

The contest will be conducted Saturday, May 18, at Brevard high school by the Brevard Jaycees as another project designed for the betterment of the community.

The competition has been expanded this year to include separate contests for boys and girls, and entry forms are available at both Brevard and Ros-
