McCall Brothers Found Dead At Site Of Still

The bodies of two brothers were discovered early Monday morning at an illegal whisky still in the Balsam Grove section, the Transylvania County Sheriff's Department reported.

Chief Deputy Ed Owen identified the two men as Doyle McCall, in his 40's, and Artelleus McCall, 44, both of the Balsam Grove Community.

Deputy Owen said the body of one of the brothers was found at the still site and the other 100 yards away on a path.

A gallon of white whisky was found with each of the bodies, he said. The still was located on Bruce Ridge about 10 miles northeast of Rosman.

There was no evidence of foul play, Owen said. Dr. Marius Wells, medical examiner, has ordered autopsies on the bodies and a chemical analysis of the whisky.

City Crews To Give Free Cleanup Service

City spring cleanup time will soon be here again.

Following the successful spring cleanup campaigns of the last two years, the Town of Brevard Street and Sanitation Department will repeat the campaign again this year from April 6th through the 17th.

Brevard residents will again be offered the opportunity to get rid of unsightly debris, trash and brush without hauling charge.

According to Mrs. Opal C. Armentrout, Town Clerk, residents of Brevard are encouraged to call Town Hall for FREE pickup of trash and other debris, including tree shrubs cuttings, during the cleanup period. Abandoned car bodies will also be picked up without charge.

Except for old car bodies, all material to be picked up must be placed as near the pickup points as possible to help with the expected heavy workload. All material should also be boxed or put together in amounts of a size or nature that can be loaded by hand.

"The Town administration," says Mrs. Armentrout, "is issuing an invitation to all residents to participate in making Brevard a more beautiful community."

The results of the election showed that of 1,965 eligible voters, 1,850 cast ballots—909 for the union, and 910 against the union. Twenty-three votes were challenged and eight were void.

Shortly after the election, on May 20, the union filed with the office of the Acting Regional Director of Region 11, NLRB, a petition objecting to the conduct of the company during the election period. In accordance with the Board's Rules and Regulations, a thorough investigation of the union's challenges and objections were conducted by a Board agent, and both the union and the company were given full opportunity to present evidence bearing on the issues involved.
