There's nobody like your new baby

Of course, there isn't. But will your baby always be "someone special?"
A great deal depends on how well you safeguard your child's future — making sure there will always be funds for higher education, for example.
There's where I come in. I can show you how to safeguard your child's future through a carefully planned Metropolitan Life Insurance program. Don't you owe it to the adult you want your child to be?
