LARRY BURCH

Martin Remains As Director Of Athletics

Brevard College has named one of its own graduates to be the new head basketball coach succeeding long-time head coach Leighton W. "Chick" Martin.

Larry Burch, an all-time great as a player at Brevard in the mid-1960's who has served as Martin's chief assistant and scout for the past three years, has been appointed head coach at the two-year Methodist-related institution.

Coach Martin, who has been Brevard's head coach for the past 16 seasons, will remain as full time athletic director. He will also take on additional work in classroom instruction.

Throughout his tenure as head coach at Brevard, Martin's teams have always been a factor in determining the Western Carolinas Junior College Conference basketball champion. His teams have compiled an outstanding 240-172 overall record, including three WCJCC regular season championships, and have been overall regular season runners-up on another three occasions.

His team of 1960-61 advanced to the National J-C Athletic Association tournament in Hutchinson, Kan., and finished the season ranked 13th nationally.

The Tornadoes of 1963-64, paced by Burch's brilliant play, also advanced to the national tournament at Hutchinson and were ranked ninth nationally at season's end.

"I'll miss being on the bench," Martin said when he announced his replacement, "But I'm most pleased with and seeded after May 15th.

Ann S. Robertson Is The New Golf Pro At Sherwood Forest

Ann S. Robertson, outstanding professional golfer from Sarasota, Florida, is the new Pro at the Sherwood Forest Golf course.

She has already assumed her duties at Sherwood.

Mrs. Robertson, whose husband, Richard N. Robertson, is managing editor of the Sarasota Herald, and their two daughters, Katherine and Laurel, ages 17 and 14, have been coming to Transylvania for many years. They have a summer home in the Slick Rock section of the county.

Mrs. Robertson has a long list of victories both as an amateur and as a professional golfer. She played her first major tournament, the Tampa Open, at the age of 15. She turned pro the first time in 1953 and played the Florida tour. Later she returned to Brevard as Martin's assistant in the fall of 1968, and has worked hard to help maintain the school's record of basketball excellence here.

As a result of the mutual respect existing between Player and Dunlop, Vice President MacDonald predicts that Player's membership on Dunlop's staff will work to Player's competitive advantage and will assist Dunlop in product and market development.

Player is one of only four golfers to have won the modern Grand Slam, The Masters, The PGA Championship, The U. S. Open, and the British Open. And, at 34 years of age, there are still many record accomplishments in Gary's future. Development work will begin immediately on the creation of tired to raise a family. In 1960, she got her amateur standing back to play in the state tournament.

When she was first an amateur player, she was semi-finalist in the Florida tournament in 1948 and 1950, and semi-finalist in the North-South tournament in 1950.

She won the city championship of Bradenton on two occasions, and in 1950, she was the city champion of Tampa.

She has also been the club champion of Palma Ceia Country club and the Forest Hills Golf Course, both in Tampa.

She has many plans for the Sherwood club this spring and summer.

She plans to teach individuals and groups, and she is especially interested in teaching juniors and helping the new golfer to start out right.

She will be holding tournaments throughout the spring and summer, with the first one slated on May 29th and 30th.

Mrs. Robertson is only teaching at the present time because of recent back surgery, but she hopes to start playing about June 1st.

The attractive Floridian can hold her own in the men's league too. While an amateur, she had a handicap of two, playing from the men's tees.

She emphasizes that the tournaments that she will be holding will interest the average golfer as well as the better player.

She cordially invites Transylvanians out to Sherwood Forest.

"It's a beautiful golf course and it's in perfect condition," she proudly told The Times.
