Wednesday Club Ends Year With Two Meetings

The Brevard Wednesday Club ended its yearly schedule with two meetings this month.

Mrs. Dean Brownell was hostess to 17 members and one guest at her home. After routine club business, Mrs. Lehman Kapp presented a talk on the world celebrated, and perhaps the most admired man of our times, Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

Having read six books in preparation for her program, Mrs. Kapp was able to give each member present an insight into this man behind the myth and legend. Dr. Schweitzer left two monuments: a system of ethics concerning reverence for all forms of life, and his thriving hospital deep in French Equatorial Africa.

Mrs. Kapp said she would try to depict the true man, which she did to the enjoyment of the group.

As Dr. Schweitzer had given up a promising career in music to become a doctor, recordings of Schweitzer playing Bach on the organ were heard in the background.

The group met again on May 28th at the home of Mrs. Robert Kimzey at River Bend Farm for a picnic luncheon. After a relaxing and leisurely meal on the lawn, the members adjourned to meet again in September.
