

LINE BOOK REVIEWS

FROM THE TRANSYLVANIA COUNTY LIBRARY FOR FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

MAIGRET AND THE WINE MERCHANT by Georges Simenon. While the famous detective, Maigret, is looking for a murderer, the murderer is seeking him. A different novel of suspense.

LEVKAS MAN by Hammond Innes. The Greek island of Levkas is the setting for this fascinating, adventurous new book involving two anthropologists in search for the origins of man.

HOUSE AND GREEN BUILDING GUIDE. All sizes, prices and styles for 54 houses and plans — what you need to know to build your new home.

TAR HEELS TRACK THE CENTURY by Pocahontas

Wright Edmunds. A fascinating book about ten North Carolinians such as Andrew Jackson, James Duke, Thomas Wolfe, etc.

NEWS FROM THRUSS GREEN by Miss Read. A story of a small English village, of its inhabitants and their sorrows and joys.

Rotary Leadership Camp To Be Held At Brevard College

He's Cal Carpenter

(Continued From Page One)

Local Writer Has Second Article In National Magazine

Brevard writer and Feature Editor of The Transylvania Times, Col. Carpenter, has published the second of his stories which have appeared in a national magazine this year.

Appearing in "Air Force and Space Digest", Col. Carpenter's article, "Retire, Regroup, Resume," was published in January. A second story about Col. Carpenter's Army pilot training days in 1942 entitled, "Is Your Seat Belt Fastened?" is being published this month.

"Air Force and Space Digest" is a nationally circulated "slick" magazine. It is published by the Air Force Association and is considered by many a "club" magazine for all military and civilian flyers as well as defense and commercial industries associated with aeronautical or space activities.

Local readers may obtain

CAL CARPENTER

copies from news stands or subscribe through the Air Force Association, Washington, D. C.

Two prominent Brevard ministers will be heard Tuesday morning. They are Rev. James A. Davis, and Rev. G. Daniel McCall.

Joe Wells will be the speaker at the Tuesday luncheon, and he will speak on "Leadership and Communications".

Speakers for the Wednesday programs are as follows:

Robert H. Massengill, Jr., of Olin Corporation

N. H. Alford, of Du Pont

John Quigley, Special Agent of the F B I.

Interesting sessions are also planned Thursday morning with Dr. Joanna Byers and Dr. Alfred Elwell as the speakers.

At the Thursday luncheon Rev. Harry A. Viola will be heard.

Leading the Friday morning session will be Rev. Art Fore, and Richard Froesch, of Charlotte, will be heard on the luncheon program.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Curing a Teenage Scourge

I AM sure that all adolescents will be interested in knowing if there is any new form of treatment for acne.

As for myself, I can tell you that acne is ruining my social life.

Dear Miss H.: I believe that the day is not too far off when this scourge of the adolescent will be totally prevented.

Many doctors are researching methods to prevent, control and cure acne. Recently, Dr. Albert M. Kilgman of the University of Pennsylvania developed a Vitamin A acid treatment that shows much promise.

Moreover, there has been great enthusiasm for the use of certain hormones, both as a preventive, and as a cure.

Antibiotics have also been used with fair success, in addition to rigid hygiene of the face.

Are there any drugs or vitamins that can prevent graying hairs? All of us in the family seem to turn gray after the age of 35.

Dear Mr. V.: Premature gray hair is an inherited family tendency.

known way yet by which we can manipulate chromosomes and genes to alter this.

High concentrations of Vitamin B were once thought to prevent graying, but this has no basis in fact.

Food fads, special diets and expensive "mail order miracles" are valueless.

Many people feel that gray hair on a young face is attractive. But for those who are really unhappy with their gray hair, there are numerous safe coloring agents that can disguise the gray.

Is it possible to be allergic to alcohol? After one drink, I get violently sick.

Dear Miss V.: Such a reaction to alcohol may well be an allergic response. The tolerance to alcohol varies in a great many people.

You are fortunate to have learned about your sensitivity at an early age and would be wise to avoid alcohol.

You will find that your social life will be unaffected; on the contrary, considering your reaction to alcohol, it should be enhanced.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH: Because summer is coming and possible power failures with it, learn to freeze food properly.

Dr. Lester Coleman has a special eye-care booklet available for readers of this column called, "What You Should Know About Glaucoma and Cataracts."

Unfortunately, there is no

Concrete Planters In Town Add Touch Of Beauty Here

(Continued From Page One)

Masons Confer First Degree Thursday Night

An Emergent communication of Dunn's Rock lodge will be held in the Masonic Temple on East Main street Thursday, June 3rd beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

This announcement comes from Clifford W. Frady the Worshipful Master.

The purpose of the meeting will be for conferring the Entered Apprentice degree which will be conferred by John C. Nicholson, Senior Steward, and he will be assisted by M. M. Feaster, Jr., Senior Deacon.

The lecture will be given by T. Ralph Parrish, Past Master, which will be illustrated by showing picture frames. The presentation of the lamb skin apron will be made by James Whitmire. The charge will be delivered by Randall Waldrop.

When in need of job printing, call The Transylvania Times.

Women's Club

Mrs. Fritz Merrell, Sylvan Valley Garden Club and

Mrs. T. D. Vaughn, Transylvania Garden Club.

The rich mountain soil was provided and placed in the planters by the Job Cop. There will be brass plaques on each planter with the respective club name. The plaques were contributed by Brevard Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Sincere thanks to all who made this very worthwhile project possible, says Mr. Himes.

Each member of the community can assist in this cause by keeping litter out of the planters.

delivered by Randall Waldrop.

Mr. Frady states the lodge has purchased a new film for the lecture which is much improved over the previous film and urges the members to make every effort to attend the meeting and extends a cordial invitation to all visiting Masons.

Rescuettes Will Hold Bake Sale Saturday

The Brevard Rescuettes will hold a bake sale Saturday morning, June 5th, in front of Ward's News Stand.

The sale will start at 9:00 a. m. and last until all baked goods are sold.

Proceeds from this sale will be used to complete the kitchen at the Brevard Rescue Squad building.

Last Rites For Mrs. Curlee Slated Friday

Mrs. Mary Hilda Cox Curlee, age 51, of Whitmire street extension, Brevard, died in the Transylvania Community hospital early Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Curlee was born in Henderson county, December 3rd, 1919, but had lived in Transylvania county for the past 48 years. She was a member of the ladies auxiliary of the Brevard Fire Department and regularly attended the Brevard Church of God.

Survivors include the husband, Clarence Curlee; two daughters, Miss Doris Curlee of the home and Mrs. Brenda Lance of Brevard; two sons, Edward of the home and Lewis of Brevard; Mrs. Curlee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cox of Brevard; one grandchild; two sisters, Mrs. Paul Simpson of Brevard, and Mrs. Clarence Fowler of Easley, S. C.; and one brother, Harold Cox of Brevard.

Funeral services are to be held at 2:00 p.m. Friday at the Brevard Church of God. Rev. James H. Hamblin will officiate and burial will be in Pisgah Gardens.

The family will receive friends at the Funeral Home from 7:00 until 9:00 o'clock Thursday night, and the body will remain there until taken to the church for the services.

Frank Moody Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to the many friends who showed us so much kindness during the illness and death of our loved one, Carrol J. Phillips. Mary Tinsley Phillips, wife Ricky, Penny, Tracy and children

Smokey Says

... along with women and children!

TRY THE TIMES WANT ADS

Jaycees Install New Officers, Stan Tucker Is Now President

(Continued From Page One)

presented to Peter P. D'Angona and the Jaycee of the Year was Stanley B. Tucker.

Life Memberships in the Brevard Jaycees were presented to John K. Smart, Jr., and Charles R. Weiss, both past presidents of the Jaycees, who are retiring from active membership in the chapter.

The Brevard Jayceettes, the Mitchell - Bissell Company,

The Transylvania Times, Radio Station WPNF, Dr. Milton V. Massey, The Brevard Jaycee Sheltered Workshop and the American Association of Retired People were cited for their valuable assistance to the Jaycees during last year.

When you think of prescriptions, think of VARNER'S, adv.

Many To Attend Camps In Area, College Is Busy

(Continued from Page One)

named at beautiful Etowah Valley Country club.

Several local golfers will play in the Pro-Am next Wednesday, and the Hughes Sports network will be at the club filming the tournament for tv.

Daily radio coverage will be given to the event, which is described as the biggest of its kind ever in Western North Carolina.

DOROTHY MANNERS' Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — In the 11 years since she burst forth as "Lolita" at age 15, Sue Lyon has crammed a lifetime of living, some of it good, some bad, some of it boring.

Married at 17 (to Hampton Fancher III), she was divorced at 18. Before she was 22, she had been teamed in front of the cameras with such "giants" as Richard Burton, Helen Hayes, Lillian Gish, George C. Scott, and even worked with that wonder-boy of directors, John Ford.

Until her recent co-starring role with George Hamilton in "Sweet November" came along, she seemed to have decided to give up acting and become a real estate broker.

"I simply refuse to sit around and wait for roles to come my way. When I'm not active, I go up the wall," she said.

She is blonde, blue-eyed, baby doll-faced. She's anything but baby doll-minded.

"Sue is so excited and delighted you are going to interview her," said her charming public relations lady. Sue was so excited and delighted, she didn't show up. She had "felt lousy and overslept." So we tried again. When asked if she really had been serious about maybe turning realtor as against her more glamorous acting career, which I was given to understand she LOVES, she said, "What I really love is WORK. It's the only thing I do. I do love acting—but I won't sit idle for it."

The youngest of five children born to Sue Kerr Lyon and Jack Lyon in Davenport, Iowa, Sue remembers the days of her early childhood as "crazy poor."

"Mother — oh — she had a string of depressing jobs, knee-scraping soul-killing jobs. Then she had to come home to do housework and take care of us kids. That's how I got started in the movies. We were sitting around, worrying about bills, and we tried to fit the movie among us. I was the youngest and blondest — and when I could model, so I had to get lucky."

Modeling led to "Lolita," followed by "Night of the Igmanas," seemingly a brilliant and successful beginning. Almost too good to be true. It was. An automobile accident put her in and out of a wheelchair for two years. Then love came along and put her in and out of marriage in just over a year. "I had a lot of time to think," she said.

Thinking led her to one of her most satisfying projects, SUE-PAX, INC.: "The idea back of it is to help people help themselves." Working out of a New York apartment with a corps of volunteers, the SUE-PAX group signed 300 sponsors dedicated to helping poor people get a job, hold a job or use a job.

"We gave them everything but pity. You don't ever GIVE anything—it takes too much from the person who gets it. You make him pay for something. Feel sorry for someone and offer alms—he begins to feel sorry for himself, and quits."

Sue enjoyed her stay in New York, where she lived in a penthouse apartment with her two cats, Coffee-Cat and A.C. (After Coffee-Cat). In New York, she also worked with the Harlem Youth Employment Service. "Some day I'd like to manage an orphanage big enough for every child who needs a home."

Her present home is a garden-enclosed house on the top of Benedict Canyon which she shares with her girl friend and the girl friend's small daughter. Sue has "adopted" just to keep her hand in while awaiting the management of a full orphanage. "I'd like to marry again and have at least five children of my own and five adopted," she said.

The first part of that ambition (to have five of her own) has been forestalled temporarily by breaking up a "steady" romance with David Sidel, Lillian Gish restaurateur.

The fact that marriage and a romance or two have gone sour for Sue does not discourage her: "I've lived a lifetime at 25 — and I still have a lifetime ahead of me."

Advertisement for Houston's Furniture Company featuring 'THE FORWARD LOOK... in Chrome & Glass' with images of tables and chairs. Includes text: 'Houston's presents... THE FORWARD LOOK... in Chrome & Glass', 'CASARD HIGH POINT, N. C.', 'IN STOCK Cocktail Table 54" x 22" x 15"', 'NOT IN STOCK Lamp Table 24" x 24" x 20"', '3 for $99.00', 'PURCHASED SEPARATELY... $119.00', 'Cocktail Table $49.00 / Lamp Table $35.00 / End Table $35.00', 'HOUSTON FURNITURE COMPANY', 'SERVING WNC FOR OVER HALF A CENTURY', '53-55 E. MAIN ST. DIAL 983-3400 BREVARD, N. C.'