4-H Auto Safety Program Successful

The final event for the 4-H Automotive Safety Course was held recently at the Carolina Tire Company in Brevard. Various contests were held, and included such important things as used car judging, car parts identification, a safety quiz, and identification of road hazards and road signs.

The 4-H program is not a driver training program, but is designed to supplement school driver training courses by teaching driver responsibility, traffic laws, safety and desirable driver attitudes. The 4-H program's major objective is to develop proper attitudes toward safe driving.

Transylvania County was selected to pioneer the new short term approach working closely with the high schools and junior high schools.

Local people in or associated with the automotive industry were recruited to serve as volunteers, and various organizations gave their support to the program which lasted for

With nearly a week of temperatures in the high 80's, Brevard's temperature averages during the past week were 85 and 56, with comparatively little rainfall.

The long-range forecast for the area calls for continued warm temperature readings throughout the last of this week, though they should not be quite so high as the past few days. Afternoon thunder-showers are quite likely each day.

Extreme temperatures during the last seven days were 89 on Sunday and 50 on Wednesday.

Weather data for the week was as follows:

| | High | Low | Prec. |

Pickelsimer Announces

Transylvania Now Has All Private-Line Telephones

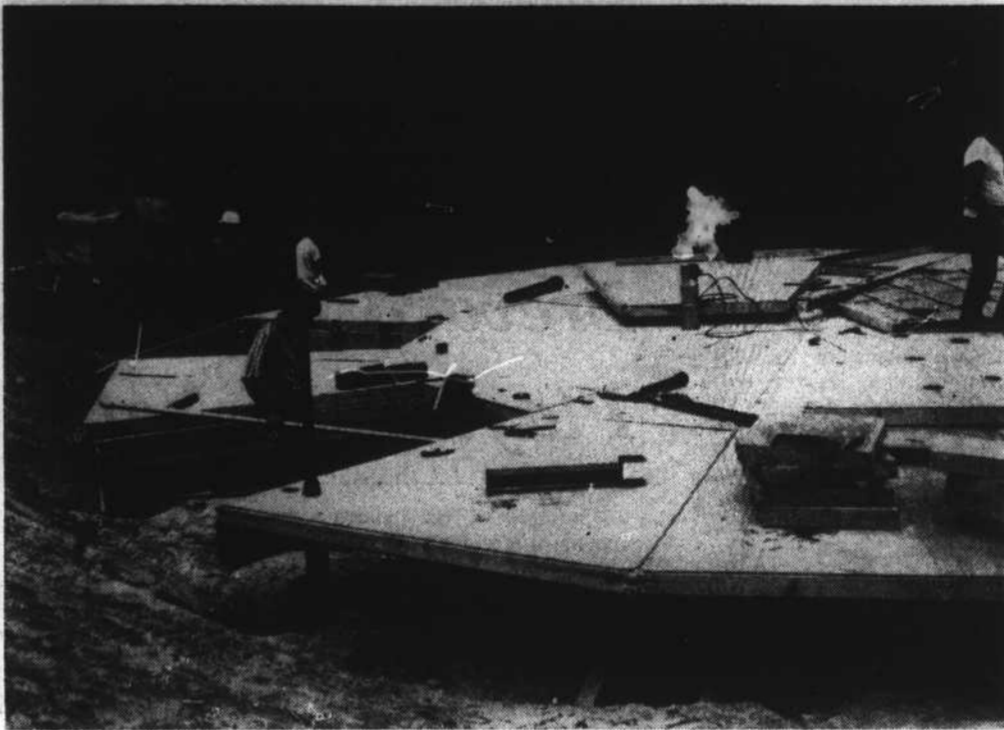

Citizens Telephone Company recently completed work which upgraded all telephone subscribers in Transylvania county to private lines, according to an announcement by C. W. Pickelsimer, Jr., Vice President and General Manager.

Citizens thus becomes the first telephone company of any size in the state of North Carolina to provide all their customers with this grade of service.

Mr. Pickelsimer expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of all subscribers during this period of construction and transition.

He also stated that Citizens Telephone Company has embarked on another program of study to insure that facilities will be available to maintain the highest standard of service in future years.

This announcement comes from Mrs. Helen L. Peeler, the Executive Secretary.

Realtec Will Offer 2,500 Home Sites

The purchase of 3,900 acres of land surrounding the famous Connestee Falls south of Brevard by Realtec, Inc., of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, is announced this week.

Plans for the development of a new year-round recreational community of more than 2,500 home sites at the Connestee project is planned, Stanley Whitcomb, Executive Vice President of Realtec, stated in the announcement.

Realtec is a subsidiary of Certain-teed Products Corporation, Valley Forge, Pa., one of the world's largest leading producers of building materials. Certain-teed stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Realtec handles land acquisitions and development Group.

Last week Realtec announced the acquisition of an additional 5,000 acres, including Sapphire Valley Inn and Country Club and golf course in Sapphire, a 45-minute drive from the Connestee Project.

"These projects are the first steps in a series of well-planned and researched investments which Realtec will carry out in behalf of the Urban Development Group of Certain-teed Corporation," Mr. Whitcomb said. "All our efforts are within the scope of Certain-teed's long range program which will provide planned communities for America's growing population while preserving our nation's ecology."

Mr. Whitcomb announced that the development will be known as Connestee Falls and that the extensive plans have been made to make it a year-round recreational community.

"We envision Connestee primarily as a second-home resort, although many people will want to live here permanently," he said. "Our research shows there is a great demand for second homes in the Blue Ridge Mountain area within easy reach of Atlanta and other large Southeastern cities, including all of Florida."

The high altitude, clear air and water, moderate year-round temperature, and lush scenery have combined to establish this region as a nationally renowned resort, retirement and vacation center. It is ideal for weekend and get away - from - it - all homes."
