Hill And Dale Club Holds June Meeting

The familiar, but true quote, "June is dairy month" was emphasized on Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Hill and Dale Extension Homemakers Club which was held at Camp Straus.

The president, Mrs. John Michael, presided and opened the meeting by leading the group in praying, The Lord's Prayer.

Miss Jean Childers, county home economics extension agent, using an illustrative scroll showed that in order to have "go power and grow power" the four basic food groups are essential to building muscles, rich blood, strong bones, teeth, steady nerves, a good appetite and digestion.

As Miss Childers discussed the various foods she demonstrated the "easy on the budget" nutritive value of dry milk and other dairy products, as she shared two delicious dishes, tuna - cheese casserole and sherbet, as proof of the "pudding." She also emphasized that the housewife should beware of foods that deceive when it comes to food value.

During the business meeting, an interesting Family Relations Letter, as prepared by Leo F. Hawkins, Family Relations Specialist, was read by Ada Allison, acting secretary.

A report was given on the macramé workshop and plans made for the making of tray covers for use in the hospital on Father's Day.

Announcements were made concerning the following classes: sewing lingerie, rug braiding and art. These classes are to be held during July at Brevard Senior High. Homemakers who are interested in enrolling in one of these classes should contact Miss Childers for complete information.

Glen this summer. The July meeting will be a covered dish supper at Camp Straus at 6:30 p.m.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Bill Jameson, Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. Michael Kirby, Mrs. Robert Leigh and Mrs. C. N. Rogers.
