SOCIAL SECURITY Questions And Answers

By
NORRIS G. GRUBBS
Field Representative

Q. I will be 62 years old in December, and I've heard that I should sign up for my Social Security several months early, so please send me information on how to apply.

A. It is best to get an early start, but you have time yet before you file your application. Generally speaking, it is not possible to file an application more than three months before your birthday. We do recommend however, that a claim be filed in the third month, or the second month before your birthday so that it can be fully processed by the time you reach retirement age. In your case, we suggest that you contact us in September. We will discuss your case with you and tell you what forms and proofs you will need. If necessary, we can assist you in obtaining needed documents. If you have a telephone, or have one available nearby, call us. We can probably handle the entire matter by telephone.

Q. My employer takes over 5% out of my pay for Social Security taxes! This can't be right. I remember when the tax was only 1%. Am I paying my employers share also?

A. No, your employer isn't taking the entire Social Security tax out of your pay. The tax rate is now 10.4%: 5.2% from your pay and 5.2% added by your employer. And if this seems high when compared to the total tax of 2% (1% each from you and your employer when Social Security started in the late 1930's, remember the monthly benefit amounts payable then ran from $10 a month to $85 a month, and the low originally covered the worker only—not his family. Over the years the benefits amounts have been increased, and coverages extended, so that for your present 5.2% you can receive monthly benefits (at age 65) ranging from $70.40 to $275, reduced benefits at age 62, Medicare, and wide range of benefits for your family. Social Security benefits are paid as an earned right; you and your employer have paid for them. Thus, when benefits are increased or more family protection is added the tax must go up to pay for these changes.

Q. Please let me know if you are open on Saturdays. I work during the week but need to see you about a matter.

A. No, our office is not open on Saturdays. However, almost all matters can be handled by telephone. Perhaps you could call us during your lunch hour. We realize that working people as well as retired people have business with us, and we will see to it that everything possible is done to handle your business in a manner convenient to you.

If the Shoe Fits—
BY Pat
Patterson

Why is it that many babies learn to walk in a new pair of shoes?

The most probable reason is that the old shoes were too small. If you will notice, babies use their little toes for balance. When they walk in their bare feet or in socks, the little toe of the right foot points to two o'clock while the others point to twelve. After the babies learn balance, the little toes become less and less important and close in with the other toes, so they can wear shoes in adult life that do not look like fins.

There must be room enough in baby's shoes for the toes to fan out for proper balance, which alone will give baby the courage to try to walk.
