Large waiting room, and special purpose sections.

Entirely windowless except for a glass-fronted entrance, the building will be completely air conditioned and heated with filtered air.

All new, the facility will be furnished with the latest in furniture and medical equipment.

"We feel this is a must if we are to continue to provide up-to-date medical services to Brevard and Transylvania County," says David Varner, Newland Clinic Administrator.

The new facility is needed because of the population growth in the Brevard area and the advanced techniques in modern medicine which require more space and equipment and specialized building design, according to Mr. Varner.

There will be a singing held at Dunn's Creek Baptist church on Saturday night, July 24th.

Southerners Quartet from Greenville, S. C., will be singing.

All singers and listeners are cordially invited to attend.

FROM THE EDITOR'S CORNER

By
EDITOR JOHN ANDERSON

Former Brevard resident Pat Fuleihan is currently vacationing in this area and dropped by our office to say hello last week.

The Fuleihans had lived here for 13 years when Du Pont transferred husband Neville to New York state some 18 months ago.

Pat, while talking to Bill Norris, stated the same thing that we have heard so many others say who have been transferred away from Transylvania. "We'll be back some day to make our home here once again".

She told Bill that conditions in New York state were bad. "The State is broke, and they can't even afford to offer small services like keeping the median stripes in the highways mowed."

The sales tax there is 7%, and property tax is out of sight. The people in the Fuleihan's community just recently voted down a school bond issue, and consequently, the band and all athletic programs at the local school will be discontinued this fall.

"And to top it all off", Pat stated, "Our kids attend all white schools. I've told many of our friends up there that they ought to come down here and see how things are done. Frankly, New York is about 50 years behind the times."

When we hear facts such as these quoted, it's easy to realize why so many people plan to "come home" to Brevard again one day.

Incidentally, Pat, who was extremely active in Brevard Little Theatre during her years here, is currently appearing in "Look Homeward, Angel" at the Flat Rock Playhouse and will probably stay on to appear in another production or two before returning North.

Gaston Siniard, who recently retired from Olin, said the only problem about retirement is that you have to take your coffee breaks on your own time.

Several ministers in churches in Transylvania have announced that they are leaving.

We hate to see them go, but we wish them well in their new areas of service.

Rev. Danny M. Smith, pastor of the Gladly Branch Baptist church, is returning to Ohio.

Rev. Ronald Lashley, pastor of the Morningside Baptist church, is going to Missouri.

Rev. Eddie Johnson, pastor of Little Cove Mission, goes to Charleston, S. C.

Rev. James Moody, the pastor of Carr's Hill Baptist church, has moved to Ohio.

Rev. James Hamblin, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, is moving to Henderson.

While we are saying goodbye to these men, we want to welcome Dr. Merle Young, the new pastor at St. Timothy United Methodist church, and Rev. Phillip Thomas, the new rector at St. Philip's Episcopal church.

We feel that they are long-time friends already!

We quote from Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is being married soon. She will have a formal church wedding followed by a reception. Toward the end of the reception she plans to change into her going away clothes for which she has selected a hot Pants outfit. Abby, I have nothing against Hot Pants, but don't you think she could have selected something a little more appropriate?

MOTHER: Possibly not.

DEAR MOTHER: Possibly not.

Borrowed . . .

We think we've finally figured out why Robin Hood only robbed the rich. The poor had no money.

Joke of the week . . .

The banker was clearly exasperated with the man opposite him at his desk.

"Your finances are in terrible shape," he stated. "Your checking account is overdrawn; your loan is overdue — why do you allow your wife to spend more money than you make?"

"Frankly," replied the man with a deep sigh, "because I'd rather argue with you than with her."

And we also like . . .

An old bachelor, still fairly spry for an octogenarian, felt it necessary, nevertheless, to resist the determined advances of an impoverished but eager widow of thirty. Two. "Mother and Father are both against it," he explained gravely to her.

"You're not going to tell me your mother and father are still alive," she scoffed.

"I am referring," he concluded loftily, "to Mother Nature and Father Time."

Pops Concert And Jerome Hines Sings

ened all the more by the praise the performer has won in Russia. Soviet audiences were enthralled by the basso's performance of the title role in "Boris Godunov", sung in Russian. Brevard audiences have a chance to enjoy the rich bass voice this Sunday when Mr. Hines offers two selections from the Russian opera. His vocal program also includes selections from Gounod's "Faust" and Rossini's "Barber of Seville". Dr. Henry Janiec conducts the BMC Orchestra for the concert which also features the overture to "School for Scandal" and the Elgar "Enigma Variations".

This season's second Pops Concert on Saturday night is devoted entirely to the work of Jerome Kern and his most successful lyricist, Oscar Hammerstein II. The first part of the show presents many of Kern's great hits, including "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes", "All the Things You Are", and "The Last Time I Saw Paris". The second half of the show consists entirely of a concert version of their smash hit "Show Boat".

Based on a book by Edna Gerber, "Show Boat" has been a favorite of producers from the time that it first opened. Twice made into a movie, its score has contributed a half dozen standards to light musical repertoire. The Music Center Opera Workshop performs in Saturday's concert version, while Henry Janiec is the master of ceremonies and conductor of the BMC Orchestra for the evening.

Friday night's concert features the 90-voice Transylvania Chorus under the direction of Dr. Ward Woodbury. The first of their two offerings is the powerful Schubert "Mass in G", to be performed with student soloists and the Transylvania Symphony under conductor Emil Raab.

The second selection is a salute to its composer, 75-year old Howard Hanson. Entitled "Songs From Drum Taps", it is composed around the words of Walt Whitman. The timely sentiment of the Whitman text reflects his intellectual and emotional repulsion to war.

Not to be forgotten are the weekday concerts which feature faculty and student talent and are a less expensive but no less stimulating way to enjoy the good music that the Brevard Music Center offers all summer long.

On Monday, (July 26) harp virtuoso Ed Vito, formerly with the NBC Symphony under Arturo Toscanini, performs an entire program of harp pieces. Included are a Faure Impromptu, a Saint-Saens Fantaisie and the Schumann "Drei Lieder". On Tuesday night conductor Robert Barr leads the Transylvania Concert Band and Transylvania Wind Ensemble through a program of pieces by Handel, Gounod, Elgar and Fauré.

Hudson New Chairman

Couple Needed To Operate Transylvania Teen Center

The Board of Directors of the Transylvania Teen Center are seeking a couple who will assume the responsibilities of directing the Teen Center.

A husband and wife team is needed to man the center on Tuesday nights from 8:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m., and on Friday and Saturday nights from 8:00 p.m. until 11:00 p.m.

However, the center is not open during home basketball and football nights. The job is $100.00 a month regardless of the nights open. The Teen Center received the money to operate as a qualified recipient of the United Fund. Any couple who is interested should reply in writing to the Chairman, Jack Hudson, Box 28, in Brevard, by August 1st.

Former directors, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith, resigned after four years of serving the local teenagers. Much of their time and energies went into that term and was appreciated by all concerned. However, the center has been closed since the Smiths resigned in June. It is hoped that the doors will re-open when school resumes again as there is a need for such a recreation facility for Transylvania youth.

Plans are being made for a new system which will require each participant to sign their name and the time upon arrival and departure. Any parent may thus call the Teen Center and find out on any date the time spent there by their child. This new plan is to encourage the teenagers to come to the center and stay there, thus eliminating any doubt for the parents as to where their children are.

The Teen Center offers ping pong, pool (billiards), television, reading materials (a variety of magazine subscriptions) and dancing to the jukebox. There is a back-to-school dance and a graduation dance held each year, both of which draw large participation. Every participant is required to have a membership card which costs a dollar a year. The teenagers use this money themselves for refreshments and decorations.

The Teen Center is currently sponsoring a square dance every Tuesday night, it doesn't rain, at the Winn-Dixie parking lot from 9:00 p. m. to 11:00 p. m. There is live music with Ricky Barton as caller. Everyone is invited to attend. Summer visitors are most welcome.

Newly elected officers of the Teen Center are:

- Chairman - Jack Hudson
- Vice-Chairman - Tom Poon
- Secretary - Barbara Johnson
- Treasurer - Clarence Bowen

Members of the Board of Directors are: Jerry Tinsley, Charles Heath, Ed Roy, Frys Merrill, B. J. Smith and Mary Kathryn Sneed.

Anyone who is interested in helping or would like information about the Teen Center may contact any of the above.

There are 202 driver license examining stations in North Carolina.
