

Deputy Clerks Of Court At Convention

Transylvania's Deputy Clerks of Court attended the recent convention of Assistant and Deputy of Court of North Carolina in Winston-Salem.

Attending from Brevard were Miss Diann Hall, Mrs. Letetia Curtis and Mrs. Dottie Hutchins.

The convention was held at the Statler-Hilton, and the local Deputy Clerks report that it was very informative.

other state in the union. We need to do something."

Lt. Gov. Taylor also discussed the reorganization of higher education:

"I think we should reach some basic compromise (between those who fear consolidation and those who want to avoid duplication and save money), and I think we can do that before the General Assembly reconvenes in October."

Mr. Taylor, a lawyer from Wadesboro, enumerated among his qualifications for public office, his five years in the General Assembly, his service as Speaker of the House and Lieutenant Governor.

Transylvania 4C Board To Have Two Special Meetings

The Board of the Transylvania County Coordinated Child Care (4C) Program will meet at 7:30 p. m. on August 17th at the First United Methodist Church in Brevard. At that time the Board will make needed preparations for a meeting with the State Interagency Committee on August 19th. Preparations will include the following: 1) To adopt a sliding scale for use in the 4C Program, when additional funds are received 2) To adopt a personnel policy 3) To discuss and understand the amendments that have been made of the proposal to the Appalachian Regional Commission for pre-school centers in the county.

The First United Methodist Church will also be the site for the meeting on August 19th. It will begin at 9:30 a. m., and will be attended by a representative of the State Department of Health, Mental Health, Education, Social Services and Local Affairs, along with a representative of the Appalachian Regional Commission. These persons are making the visit in order to meet and talk with Board members and interested persons of the 4C Program.

The public is cordially invited to attend both meetings.

Several Items From Oakland

By - Mrs. I. S. Sanders
OAKLAND — The Horse Pasture River still takes its toll of people getting drowned. A young man from Greenville, South Carolina, drowned in the chunk hole on Saturday. Due to recent heavy rains, the river was very swift.

We are very glad to welcome Richard Hinkle back home from a one year duty in Vietnam.

Mrs. Carolyn Hinkle and daughter Cheryl have moved to Maine where her husband Wood Hinkle is stationed in the Navy.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Sanders were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bagwell of Brevard, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cash, Mrs. W. F. McCall, and Mrs. C. W. Fisher. Mrs. Evon Taylor of Asheville spent Friday night here with her parents.

The fish supper at T. C. Henderson school Saturday night was a big success. A good donation was received to go on the church fund.

There will be an old time singing at the Methodist church next Saturday evening starting at 7:00 o'clock. All singers and Manhattan School of Music in New York. A former Miss Tampa, she is remembered for her torrid role in last year's "Kismet" and for her rendition of "Can't Help Lovin' That Man", a highlight of the Jerome Kern Pops Concert earlier this season.

Other Pops Concert favorites include James Hoback as Ralph Rackstraw, Steve Dubov as Capt. Cocoran, Robert Keefe as Dick Deadeye, and Jennifer Nevard as Josephine. Ross Maboulas, the Brevard resident master of comedy and camp, appears as Sir Joseph.

"Pinafore" is a delightful conglomeration of class differences, mistaken identity, satire of the British Navy and the usual foolishness which makes a Gilbert and Sullivan show such a hit. Music Center director Dr. Henry Janiec conducts with stylized settings by David Holcombe. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

The Sunday matinee performance of the Brahms "German Requiem" ends the season on a fittingly noble note. Though strictly not a requiem in sentiment nor a religious service in fact, it might more properly be called a sacred cantata.

Featured in the August 15 rendition by the BMC Orchestra under Dr. Janiec are the 90-voice Transylvania Chorus conducted by Ward Woodbury with soprano Frances Hodgson and baritone David Rae Smith. Smith needs no introduction to Music Center regulars, especially this season after his performance in the title role of the record-breaking production of "The Music Man". A member of the N. Y. City Opera, he has proved his wide-ranging talents in a variety of roles.

Frances Hodgson is making her Brevard debut, though she is well-known to Atlanta audiences for her work in oratorios, recitals and as featured soloist with orchestra. Most recently she is noted for her work in Atlanta's "Operalogues". Concert time for the closing of the 35th season is 3:30 p.m.

Friday and Saturday performances begin at 8:15 p.m. Sunday's matinee is at 3:30 p.m. Ticket information and performance schedules may be obtained from the Brevard Music Center Box Office, 883-8338, P. O. Box 592, Brevard, N. C.

All parents of pre-school children are urged to have their children attend the clinic when it is in their area, whether they suspect any possible eye trouble or not.

group singers are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norton and baby and Leroy Norton of Pickens were Sunday visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norton.

Mrs. J. L. Sanders was called to Seneca Sunday due to the death of a friend, Mrs. George Crenshaw. Mrs. Ellen Johnson accompanied Mrs. Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burgess of Pickens visited his sister, Mrs. Mary White and family Sunday.

Little Ricky Cash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Cash, is looking forward to starting to school soon, after recent surgery which was very successful.

previous stand in support of the TVA program here.

A large number of directors were in attendance at the busy session, which was presided over by President Milton Massey.

Science for You

BY BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Sodium light.
NEEDED: Alcohol, salt, a jar lid, a match, a large pan or board, different colored objects.
DO THIS: Put some salt into the lid, then pour alcohol into it. Light the alcohol, turn out the lights so the room is dark, then sprinkle salt down into the flame. Look at the different objects.
WHAT HAPPENS: The yellow flame produced by the salt contains very few of the normal colors in light. Therefore, objects cannot reflect their true colors.
Rubbing alcohol is not good for this. The author tried methyl alcohol (wood alcohol), and a red box looked black. Fuel alcohol works, and its flame made the red box show as yellow. The difference is in the chemicals in the alcohol itself which add their colors to the flame. A pure sodium flame, from the sodium in the salt, would be pure yellow, with no other colors.
