Plans Are Being Completed For Opening Of All Schools And College Next Week

Faculty-Student Workshop Begins New Fall Term

The new school year gets underway at Brevard College this week with a faculty workshop involving all faculty and staff of the college. Dr. Robert A. Davis, President of Brevard College, stated,

"The year ahead should be one of our finest. We have a highly qualified faculty and staff to serve the college well. New additions to both faculty and staff bring added strength to the college. It is our desire to serve an increasing number of students from Western North Carolina and especially from Brevard and Transylvania County."

Dr. David G. Moberley, President of Greensboro College, will be the keynote speaker at the faculty workshop on Thursday, speaking on the topic "The Liberal Arts College in the 70's". An address and discussion on the future of Brevard College will be led by President Davis and Mr. Allen Sims, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The United Methodist-related college enters its 37th year on the local campus with the finest physical plant in its history. A 10-year building program has been virtually completed with the addition of the Sims Student Union Building. —Turn To Page Three Final preparations are being made for the opening of schools in Brevard and Transylvania county next Wednesday, August 25th.

The day is "Pupil Assignment" day, and schools will open at 8:30 with buses running at the regular hour. Schools will recess at 11:30 a. m., and the actual beginning of the 180-day term will be on the following day, August 26th.

Orientation of new teachers is set for next Monday, August 23rd, and the following day will be the first teacher day.

According to Superintendent Harry C. Corbin, enrollment is expected to be about the same as it was at the close of last year. That figure is 4,500.

Teachers and staff members are announced elsewhere in this edition of The Times.

Charging of fees has almost been eliminated, Supt. Corbin says, and insurance is optional.

The cost is as follows: $2.75 for regular school coverage; and $14.25 for 24-hour coverage. —Turn to Page Five Attention boys and girls who are going off to school and college — and their parents, too.

Let The Transylvania Times go with you. Enjoy reading your home town paper which is, as you know, chock full of information and news about all the doings in the Brevard area.

Parents — The Times won't take the place of letters to your sons and daughters away at school. Not at all. But it will save you the time and trouble of having to write news items in yourself, and if we do say it ourselves, The Times will give far more news than anyone has time to write.

The cost? Very little; only $3.50 for the entire school term from the time they start until June 1st.

So don't delay, get that school subscription started at once. Mail or bring your remittance and the address to us; we'll do the rest.

Running For Governor?

Hugh Morton Speaks At Meet Of Democratic Leaders Here

By Cal Carpenter

Hugh Morton, Wilmington native and prominent developer of the Grandfather Mountain scenic attraction in Western North Carolina, flew into Brevard Friday to deliver an address at a Democratic Leaders' luncheon in Gaither's Rhododendron Room. The stop was number 91 on Mr. Morton's planned 100-county tour of the state to find out if state leaders would like to see him run for Governor next year.

"At the end of this tour," says Mr. Morton, "I expect to know whether I have enough statewide support to warrant my running, and to put together an effective campaign organization."

"Unlike the other probable candidates for Governor, I have not inherited a political machine. I know I cannot hope to be elected unless my friends come forth and assure me I will have strong support," says Mr. Morton.

Introduced by Dr. Carol Grahl, Brevard dentist, Mr. Morton stressed his concern for the "have-not" counties of the state.

"Transylvania has nice industries," he said, "but there are many counties, for example several to the west of you, who have very little. If I decide to run, and if I am elected, I shall bear down on rural development."

Citing his 10-year experience on the state Board of Conservation and Development, Mr. Morton remarked the fact that a few of the counties pay the largest part of the state taxes.

"We must make it possible," he said, "for the rest of the counties to pay their share."

"But to get industry, we must let clean, non-polluting industry know it is wanted," he declared. "Unless industry knows it is invited, there are 49 other states it can go to." A second major point of Mr. —Turn to Page Three

At Old City Hall

Transylvania Ambulance Service In Operation, Galloway In Charge

By necessity, Transylvania county went into the ambulance business this week.

Located at 153 West Main street (Old City Hall), it is called Transylvania County Ambulance Service, and Echel Galloway is in charge.

Of course, 24-hour ambulance service is offered, and the telephone number is 883-2700.

For the past two months, the Brevard Rescue squad has been offering ambulance service here, and from reports, the members of the squad have done an excellent job.

Donald Lee Moore, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, reminds all citizens to make a note of the telephone number of the new service. It is 883-2700.

Survey Reveals

$462,000 Is Spent For Drugs Locally

The amount of money being spent by Transylvania County residents for drugs — the medicinal kind — is large and growing larger.

It is estimated that no less than $76.50 per family is being spent annually in local drug stores for these pharmaceuticals, far more than in early years.

The bulk of it is for prescription drugs. The rest goes for such over-the-counter items as vitamins, cold remedies, nose drops, headache pills and other drugs that do not require prescriptions.

The local rise is in line with that observed in most areas of the country, according to reports by the U. S. Public Health Service and by industry sources.

With respect to prescription drugs, more of them are being dispensed in the South, per person, than in any other section of the country. In the North Central States, consumption is lowest.

In Transylvania County's geographical region, the figures show, the average family gets about 16 prescriptions filled per year. The cost is approximately $56.90.

This compares with an average of $49.12 per family in the United States as a whole.

Nationally, nearly $4 billion is being spent per year for prescription drugs alone, not including those dispensed to hospital patients. That is nearly four times as much as was spent 10 years ago, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

The increase is attributed to inflation, to the fact that there
