Mutual Concert Group Will Present Dance Theater, 7th

The Mutual Concert Association will present the Carl Ratcliff Dance Theatre on Tuesday, September 7th at 8:15 p. m. at Dunham Music Center on the Brevard College campus, according to Reverend Nelson F. Adams, Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts at Brevard College.

The Carl Ratcliff Dance Theater, consisting of only four dancers, is probably the most unique dance group now appearing in the dance scene. It consists of shaping dance demonstrations into a more creative art form. It consists of talking to people about dance while doing it at the same time. It may be the only company in America today truly emphasizing the desire to be certain each audience — whether dance oriented or not — really enjoys each performance presented.

The Carl Ratcliff Dance Theater was formed because they felt the need for dance to speak out in a more personal, human way. By selecting this intimate form of dance, they use movement that can communicate. They feel free to explore any subject that provokes a need for comment.

ter, a recipient of a grant from the National Endowment for Arts in Washington, D. C., consists of two parts: explanation and expression. The dancers demonstrate how various sources of movement are explored, showing how movement becomes dance and how dance communicates. In dance the human body is the total instrument for expression. That instrument must be trained as an athlete trains but with all the refinements and subtleties that an art form requires.

By selecting, comparing, shaping, and synthesizing the ingredients of explanation, the dancers bring dance into existence in its fullest expression. Through choreographic works, the craft of movement evolves into pure art—into dance theater.

Mr. Ratcliff's masterful choreography of Carl Orff's CARMINA BURANA was acclaimed as a "superb artistic triumph". His modern works created for the Atlanta Ballet include THE ARYSS, DREAMS, FANFARE, PAWN LAKE, and WALTZ INVENTIONS. He has danced leading roles in NUTCRACKER, SLEEPING BEAUTY, and GISELLE and Choreographed dance sequences for opera in the Park's AIDA. In 1965, Mr. Ratcliff was invited to teach the first modern dance classes offered at the Southeastern Regional Festival, and this honor has been repeated in each successive year. He is in great demand as a guest teacher of master classes through the southwest.

Mr. Ratcliff was for several years head of the Modern Dance Department at Spelman College and is presently head of the Modern Dance Department of the Atlanta School of Ballet.

United Fund Board Of Directors Will Meet At College Sept. 2nd

The Executive Committee of the Transylvania County United Fund, at a recent meeting, voted to recommend to the Board of Directors the addition of the following paragraph to the By-laws:

In the event of dissolution, the residual assets of the organization will be turned over to the institutional members reported on their previous year's budget allocations. These institutional members are themselves exempt as organizations described in Section 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 or corresponding sections of any prior or future Internal Revenue Code, or to the Federal, State, or Local government for exclusive public purpose.

The reason for this additional paragraph is to conform to the Internal Revenue Code for exempt organizations, Earle Johnson, President of the United Fund, explained.

Mr. Johnson also announced that the Board of Directors would meet on Thursday evening, September 2nd,

In the cafeteria of Brevard College at 7:30 p. m.

An announcement of this meeting has already been sent to all members of the Board. All members are urged to attend and review the proposed budget for 1972 as well as vote on the proposed change in the By-laws.
