CEDAR MOUNTAIN - It seems that all the hard work was really worthwhile that was done here in Cedar Mountain, since we won first place in the County Roadside Judging. Then on Tuesday we took part in the District Judging. We're all keeping our fingers crossed and hoping to be a winner once again.

Attention! Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts. Meetings have begun for the year. If you are not sure of your meetings, consult your leaders. The regular monthly meeting of the Cedar Mountain Community Club which is usually held on the third Tuesday has been postponed until the fourth Tuesday, the 28th, because of some conflicting meetings. Be sure to mark this on your calendars.

Work begins at Rocky Hill Baptist church on the new building program on Saturday morning. All men are to be there bright and early and the ladies are expected to bring lunch to feed them. Let's all work hard to finish this most needed project.

Jim Elliott and son Michael of Exton, Pennsylvania, were guests of the Boyce Bishops last Monday night. Michael will be a student at Ben Lippen School for Boys in Asheville this year.

Our best wishes went with Patty Lee as she left Tuesday for Furman University where she will be a freshman this year.

On our sick list this week we find Mrs. Olivia Sebastian who is in the hospital. We hope she will be much better soon.

Mrs. Mary Jones is home after having surgery on her foot last week. We wish for her a speedy recovery also.

Recent weekend guests of the Boyce Bishops were Mr. and Mrs. Norwood T. Hester and daughters, Pamela and Becky of Greenville, S. C.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Mike Whitson, who are the proud parents of a new baby boy.

ously considering any form of a personal helping profession can learn some good insights into the helping processes by this service. Obviously, for anyone who is interested in seeing if teaching is for him this is a good beginning. One needn't worry over his ability to do this; having been through elementary school, he already knows more than enough in any subject area.

So be of the BEST, volunteer to tutor. There will be a meeting of the BEST people in Mr. Tawney's office, McL-G., 205, at 3:30 p. m. on Monday, September 20th.

George Swearingen is a public health sanitarian.

He works for you.

George tracks down and destroys blood-thirsty mosquitos on our lakes and property.

To control the breeding areas and destroy larvae before they mature into menacing adults, he and his 11 crews patrol more than 2,000 miles of shoreline of Duke Power lakes.

Duke Power's Environmental Health Department crews use three standard methods to control larvae. They sometimes stock a lake with special minnows that feast on the "wiggly-tails." At other times they spray shallow coves with a light film of harmless oil without using insecticides. And in our forests they strive to eliminate the dumping of garbage and trash in which untold millions of mosquitos may breed.

Since starting one of the first mosquito control programs in the Carolinas in 1923, Duke Power has been making outdoor activities more enjoyable.

It's another way we're helping to make this a better place to live.
