

National Book Week

Books Are Called "Miracle Products", Available At Library

This is National Book Week. Just because it is a one week celebration, don't get the idea that the library is closed the rest of the year. It isn't.

To quote a NEWSWEEK 1963 copyright,

"If someone brought out a miracle product that would teach you to argue more effectively, to dazzle women with your logic, to astound men with your command of facts, to enchant children with glistening stories, to understand the people of China, India and Russia, to lose weight, to build muscle tone, to get a raise, to understand the confusion among economists, . . . what a long line of customers it would attract! But such a product already exists. It's called a book. It's available at your neighborhood library."

Since this "miracle product" exists right in Brevard, you don't have to organize a new group or put out money, just start using the Transylvania County Library more.

Mrs. Charles Finnamore will put on a PUPPET SHOW for children Saturday, November 20, at 9:30 a.m. as a climax to our local observance of National Book Week.

Puppet shows presented through the summer under the auspices of Friends of the Library are always well attended. These shows do more than entertain for a few minutes for children always register as book borrowers if parents will sign their card. Then they use the library, and a whole new world is discovered.

We have a good selection of books—for all ages—with open, easily browsed shelves. And helpful staff to answer questions, suggest books, help in research. Transylvania County Library may borrow books (for a few cents postage) from all over the state. We may also borrow films for a group showing.

Transylvania County Library has records—children's, classical, popular, musical comedies—that may be played in the library or taken home. Come look through the titles and see if there is not one to appeal to your taste.

Books and records are added throughout the year at our library. We feel this is a better system than some public libraries which only add seasonally. There are always new books arriving in Brevard.

National Book Week is being observed now, but you may use books, "a miracle product" all year long and we would like to see more of you in the Transylvania County Library. Come join the Read-In '71.

Farm City Week

A committee under the direction of Ben Burgess has several planned activities for Transylvania County's participation in Farm City Week, November 19-25. The event, which will come to a close on Thanksgiving Day, is observed nationwide in an effort to help create a better understanding between rural and urban people. The theme for this year is "Environment and the Quality of Life".

Short Course in Modern Farming

The 20th annual Short Course in Modern Farming, sponsored by the North Carolina Bankers Association, will be held at North Carolina State University in Raleigh January 31 - February 11. Local banks will furnish the scholarship for a former 4-H'er or FFA member to attend this event.

Beef Seminar

The American Breeders Service, Inc., will sponsor a Beef Seminar in Asheville Friday, November 19. The meeting will be held at Holiday Inn West from 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m., with a luncheon, courtesy of American Breeders Service, Inc. The program has been planned for maximum interest, and help to cattlemen.

Let Shrubs Work To Hide

Any shrubs that do not "fit" into the foundation planting of the home can be used as background blinds or hedges to define property lines, blot-out unsightly views, screen your yard from your neighbors. In such plantings, include enough evergreens to insure a winter screen as well as a selection of plants that have spring and summer blooms, an autumn foliage display, and winter berry color. This will assure good year-round interest, as well as supplying seasonal cut material for use indoors.

Good landscape planning is the selection and placement of plants to increase the value, usefulness and beauty of a property.

Much Progress Is Being Made At Rocky Hill Baptist Church

By - Mrs. Nancy Logan Mrs. Ruby Skerrett

CEDAR MOUNTAIN — As you pass by Rocky Hill church you see all the many improvements being made there. The building program has been underway since September and is progressing very well. On Saturday, the steeple was raised and placed on the new vestibule.

The steeple was set in place by Henderson and Craig of Asheville, with Ralph Lee riding it to the top to release the cable. This was indeed a big day in the building program. Work continues each Saturday on the church and food is always furnished by the ladies. All labor is being done free.

Cathey's Creek News Reported

By - Mrs. Ken Riley

CATHEY'S CREEK — There have been many lovely days of late; our nights are cool and summery like daytime temperatures.

Ward Breedlove remains on the critical list at Mountain Sanatorium. He was visited by his wife, Lona and Mrs. Sallie McCall and Junior on Monday.

We wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Davis Raines on the arrival of a fine baby son on last Sunday in the local hospital. Mrs. Raines is the former Mary Jane Passmore.

Mrs. Lorene Ross is still on our sick list. Word was received on Monday that Thomas Fisher who was critically injured in a car wreck is to return home on Saturday. We want to wish both these along with the others a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morgan of West Asheville visited Albert McKinney at Morgan Mill on Saturday. They are former residents and owned the old mill.

Harry Owen is recovering nicely following surgery, and we hope he will soon be completely recovered.

Mrs. Lesia Mann is confined to an East Point, Ga., hospital where she has undergone surgery. On Monday she was much improved.

Also we are happy to learn that LeRoy Summey has been able to return to work following knee surgery.

We are glad to see Lewis Alton McKinney back home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKinney.

Mr. and Mrs. Finlay Nicholson have returned from their wedding trip. They tell of nice experiences of visiting in Washington, D. C. They are residing near Etowah.

Cedar Mountain participated in the Youth Judging last Tuesday and in the Community Judging, B Division this Tuesday. Alvin Jones, club president, wants to thank everyone who worked so hard on the programs. Now we all hope we'll bring home some of that prize money from Asheville.

The Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts of Cedar Mtn. sure did a fine job on that trash pick-up on Monday. We thank all of you and all others who helped them for doing such a good job.

A special training session was held on Cub Scouting at the home of Mrs. Edwin Morrow last Thursday. Those attending were Mrs. Willard Smith and Mrs. Morrow. The session was taught by Mr. Merlin McElphrang, District Scout Executive. Lunch was served by Mrs. Morrow.

The Cub Scout Pack meeting will be held at the Community Center on Tuesday, November 23. It is very important that all Cub Scouts and their parents be present. Mr. McElphrang will be present for this meeting to talk to the parents, so please be there.

Practice for the Rocky Hill church Christmas pageant will be held at the church on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. All those interested in taking part in the pageant are asked to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Callender spent last week visiting Mr. Callender's mother in Louisiana.

Mrs. Jeanette Beasley and Miss Sally Weldon visited friends and relatives in Columbia last week.

The Eads Bridge at St. Louis, the first major railroad link across the Mississippi River, has been designated a national historic civil-engineering landmark by the American Society of Civil Engineers.
