US Forest Service, Deer Season Opens

The annual deer season in the Pisgah National Forest begins Monday, November 22.

This year for the first time hunters will be allowed to hunt anywhere in the National Forest, except the Brevard and Hendersonville Watersheds.

A new system of Forest Wide Game Management has been put into effect this year enabling hunters more freedom in their hunts.

Since it will not be necessary to check in and out the hunter may camp in the back country and enjoy a week or so of hunting without returning to civilization.

Also changed this year are the hunting fees. There is no more daily fee. Three licenses are required for deer hunting:

- The State hunting license
- Big Game license
- Game Lands Use Permit.

Before the deer can be removed from the woods it must be tagged. Tags come with the Game Lands Use Permit.

The Avery Creek road will be open Friday morning. However, it should be noted that this is a dead end road and will be closed one mile North of Bennet Gap. This is necessary to protect the development at the Cradle of Forestry.

A map showing the location of designated primitive campsites will be posted at the ranger station.
