

Severe Ice Storm Hits The Cathey's Creek Community

By - Mrs. Kenneth Riley

CATHEY'S CREEK — Everyone in these parts along with the majority of other Western North Carolinians suffered through the worst ice storm of several years.

Last Wednesday morning the electricity went out with some of us depending on power to cook our breakfasts. The calls began to Duke Power and they were long since out working in the wee morning hours and on Ross road. We began to start looking up our old kerosene lamps and it was much like a "lightening bug" or a "glow worm" to move around in the dark houses.

We wish to sincerely comment the crews from Duke Power, the Telephone company and tree trimmers. We hope the rest of the season will not hold such a storm.

Many of the folk will want for shade as most of the shade trees were damaged or just stripped of limbs. Many power lines were pulled loose from the houses. Thanks so much for all who helped in any way to restore the line services.

Mrs. Ethel Lee visited her son Albert Lee and family recently at Toxaway and enjoyed a lovely meal.

Thanksgiving was very quietly observed in this section with a few family gatherings. I suppose most of all we were so grateful to have that electricity back on so we could at least enjoy an evening meal with all the goodies.

Mr. and Mrs. James McKinney and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKinney and family over the weekend.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. James McKinney and children of Rosman were: Speedy McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Riley.

Rev. and Mrs. Theo Rose of Brevard visited Albert McKinney at the mill one day last week.

Mrs. Betty Tinsley's third grade class from Rosman Elementary school visited the old historic Morgan Mill recently as a part of their educational source. A good time was reported by at least the 28 class members writing the miller such sweet letters. He wishes to thank each one personally through these means.

Junior High 4-H Is Theme Of Meeting Of P-TA To Meet Brevard Rotary Club Monday

A special program for the general meeting of the Junior High P-TA will be held in the Senior High School Auditorium Monday, Dec. 6th, at 7:30 p.m.

Junior High members of the band and chorus groups will provide special music. A program focusing on the Student Council at work will also be presented. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Membership enrollment will also be conducted at this meeting.

Elderly people, especially, should be extremely careful when walking on ice or snow, advises Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. A misstep on a slippery piece of ice could have a very painful ending.

When you think of prescriptions, think of VARNER'S. adv.

4-H was the theme of the program at this week's meeting of the Brevard Rotary club in Gaither's Rhododendron room on Monday.

Gail McNeely, of the Sapphire-Whitewater 4-H club, appeared first on the program and told of the work that is being done in this county and what 4-H means to her.

Since 4-H began in 1926, more than three fourths of a million boys and girls have been enrolled in the organization in North Carolina.

"4-H activities are varied, and there's no end to what we can do if we want to," Miss McNeely said.

Open to youth between the ages of nine and 19, 4-H "makes the best better", she declared.

John Summey, of the Cherry-field 4-H club, gave a demonstration on tying flies. He said this could be a money making project for interested 4-H'ers.

Dennis Winters, who heads 4-H work in Transylvania, presented the program, and Jerry Purser was the program chairman of the week.

John I. Anderson, president, presided over the meeting, and a project to raise money for the Christmas house was presented to the club by Gordon Sprott.

That last one for the road, might be your last one period, if you are not careful, warns Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. Parties are meant to be fun. Don't spoil them by over-indulging. If you have been drinking, make that last one a cup of coffee or better still let someone else do the driving.

Laugh Corner

She: "So many men marry for money. You wouldn't marry me for money, would you, dear?"

He (absent-mindedly): "Not for all the money in the world."

Two guys went for the same cab and after a short discussion one returned to the curb and rejoined his wife. "Why did you let him have the cab?" she demanded.

"He needed it more than I did," hubby explained. "He was late for his karate class."

Two businessmen at lunch were discussing their families. "I have four boys," one of them said.

"That's a nice family," sighed the other. "I wish I had four children?"

"Don't you have any children?" the proud father asked with a touch of sympathy.

"Oh, yes," sighed the other, "I have eight."

"How is your wife getting along with her reducing diet?"

"Fine. She disappeared completely last week."

Man Trap

Junior had just seen a movie about an insane asylum and was full of questions. "Say, Dad," he queried, "how do they catch crazy men?"

"It's surprisingly simple, son," growled father sourly. "All it takes is a little powder and paint, a fancy hair-do, a low-cut dress and a phoney, sweet and amiable expression, and the crazy men walk in and give themselves up."

Women might not be able to add, but they certainly can distract.

And Then There Was Silence. The professor stepped up on the platform, and by way of breaking the ice, he remarked: "I've just been asked to come up here and say something funny."

At this point, a student heckler in the back of the hall called out: "You'll tell us when you say it won't you?"

The professor answered: "I'll tell you. The others will know."
