If the Shoe Fits-

BY Pat Patterson

Why are children's shoes so expensive?

The correct answer to this question amuses some people, angers others, and doesn't help the budget a bit. It might save a pair of feet if Mom can use it to convince Dad that shoe prices are not bad.

The real reason that shoes are expensive is because we have to have TWO of them. When we look at a pair of six dollar shoes we should think of them individually as three dollars each. That is how the manufacturer must look at them when he figures his cost of material and labor.

A single shoe at three or three-fifty is a far better value than a hat, a purse, or a necktie at the same price. The shoe must withstand grinding on cement and yet not blister little feet. It wades through puddles, kicks cans, shinies up trees and comes up smiling with a little polish.

With the exception of glasses, perhaps nothing that we buy for a child can affect his future happiness as much as the footwear that protects the very foundation of bodily health.
