Miss Wright Appointed Librarian At College

Miss Jane E. Wright has been named Head Librarian at Brevard College, according to Dr. Robert A. Davis, President of the College. She replaces Mrs. Robert A. Campbell, who recently retired after serving the College as librarian for the past four years.

Miss Wright comes to Brevard from her position as Associate Professor of Library Science at Furman University. Prior to that appointment, Miss Wright was Visiting Assistant Professor at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and Instructor at Winthrop College. In addition to these and several other positions as librarian, Miss Wright has lectured widely at such schools as University of Washington, University of North Carolina, Greensboro, Columbia University and Appalachian State University.

After earning her A.B. degree from Winthrop College, Miss Wright received the B. S. in Library Science from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and the M.S. degree, cum laude, from Columbia University in New York.

In addition to having served as an officer in numerous professional organizations, Miss Wright is currently a member of the American Library Association, the Association of School Librarians, the American Association of Library Schools, Beta Phi Mu, Delta Kappa Gamma, and Alpha Psi Omega. Miss Wright is an ac-

In announcing the appointment Dr. Davis stated, "We are especially pleased to have Miss Wright join our staff at Brevard College. She brings outstanding training and professional experience to this important post."

Home Safety

Home accidents are a common cause of injury and death, especially to children, women and the elderly. More people are hurt at home than anywhere else. Leading type of fatal home accident is falls, followed by deaths associated with fires, suffocation, poisoning and firearms.

Turkey On The Patio

by Martha Logan

A turkey dinner on the patio is one of summertime's joys. The turkey is easy to cook, the roasting time is shorter and the grilled turkey tastes so good.

Open the vents on the bottom and the cover of a kettle-style grill for even cooking and browning. Arrange 25 to 30 briquettes on each side of a heavy duty foil drip pan in the center of the grill. When the briquettes have burned 15 to 20 minutes and are white in color, put the rack in place.

A 12 to 14 pound turkey is best for the covered grill. Prepare the turkey for roasting as usual by thawing and removing the neck and giblets from the body cavities. The cooking time is less if you choose to cook the turkey unstuffed. Stuffing may be cooked in a disposable foil pan on the rack beside the turkey. Rinse the turkey thoroughly and retuck the legs. Brush the turkey with melted fat for beautiful browning. Place the turkey on the hot grill rack and your work is over except to add 8 to 10 briquettes for each additional hour of cooking. No basting is necessary when you use a Deep Basted Butterball Swift's Premium Turkey because special juices deep inside baste the turkey as it roasts.

Be sure to check a 14 pound unstuffed turkey for doneness in about 2½ hours. The roast meat thermometer inserted into the thickest portion of the thigh next to the body cavity should read 180° to 185° F. for the turkey to be done. Or, pinch the thigh. If it is soft, the turkey is ready to remove from the grill.

Your favorite stuffing, corn on the cob, a garden fresh salad and fresh peach cobbler will round out the summer turkey dinner on the patio.

Distaff Deeds

Now there's another use for versatile chlorine bleach. It can be used to clean white roof tops that have been spotted or darkened by algae or fungus growths.

You merely have to sprinkle or spray a chlorine bleach solution on the roof and in about a month the magic of the bleach will show.

According to Dr. Michael Levi, extension wood products specialist, N. C. State University, "some research done in Mississippi indicated that a 10 percent chlorine bleach solution sprinkled on the roof cleans shingles, without scrubbing."

The treatment does not offer permanent protection.

Joe L. Perry, county extension chairman, Edgecombe County, tried the bleach treatment on his own house.

"I was beginning to have a discolored white roof problem," Perry stated, "but with less than two gallons of chlorine bleach and 30 days later, the problem vanished."

HOLLY HOBBIES

"You never get too old to play dolls," believes Mrs. D. J. Murray, 105 Claiborne St., Goldsboro.

Mrs. Murray isn't speaking of little girls' play dolls, but the hand-crafted dolls that she makes.

The dolls, which Mrs. Murray calls "Holly Hobbies," are a form of fabric sculpture. They require a good bit of time, but very little money to make, adds Evelyn Raper, home economics extension agent, Wayne County.

The doll's attire is handmade too. Mrs. Murray hand paints the clothing and adds tiny flowers to some of the dresses.

Although the homemaker started doll making as a hobby, it is growing into a small business, Mrs. Raper adds.

Ladder Safety

To be safe when using a ladder, set the base one foot out from the side of the building, tree, etc. for every four feet in height.

Chuck Steak

A chuck steak can make good eating, especially if it is graded USDA Choice or Prime. But you may want to tenderize it before you put it on the grill, especially if you want to serve tender steak, cautions Mrs. Ruby Uzzle, extension consumer marketing economist, North Carolina State University.

Poultry Age

Age of poultry determines how tender it is and how best to cook it. Young chickens are the ones for barbecuing, frying, broiling and roasting. You find them labeled young chicken, Rock Cornish game hen, broiler, fryer, roaster or capon, says Mrs. Ruby Uzzle, extension consumer marketing economist, North Carolina State University.

Adopted Child

When an adopted child has problems in school or at home, it's not because he is adopted, according to a 20-year study of adopted children. As with all children, problems stem from the parents' upbringing and their responses to the child's feelings.

Larger Waist

Patterns made in the last few months are larger in the waist. They are larger by one inch on the basic body measurement chart for all adult women's sizes except junior petite where the change is one-half inch, says Dorothy Barrier, extension clothing specialist, North Carolina State University.

GOOD FLOOR

A polyurethane floor finish has received the favor of a Columbus County homemaker.

When the A. J. Worley family of Cerro Gordo, remodeled its house three years ago, they used a polyurethane floor finish on their wood floors.

Mrs. Worley has been pleased with the limited wear that has taken place and wishes the family had used this type of floor covering in the family room too.

The Worleys' have six children so the floor finish has had a good test for marring, scratching and general wear, observes Elaine Blake, home economics extension agent.

Care for it as you do the others.

As for the white hydrangeas out-of-doors, (and hardy), do not prune those at anytime except in early spring. You see they bloom on new wood. The others on old wood.

Do not cut poony foliage off. This should be done in October.

I have a question asking what shrubs to plant that will bloom in July on through summer. I have the hypericums, the abelias, the pink spiraea, the butterfly bushes and of course, roses. But there are many others. Might I suggest you visit gardens here and nearby towns and make notes of things in bloom. This is the most wonderful way to get new ideas, too.

Independence Day! This day with "Old Glory" flying high symbolizes the aspirations and achievements of all true Americans. It brings memories of struggles, heartaches, and for some, the supreme sacrifice. The Declaration of Independence expresses better than any other words the ideals to which all of us are devoted. God bless America always!

Gardening: We have changed from spring to summer. This is the last call for lightly fertilizing the soil around most woody plants . . . Turf grasses can be fed regularly until September. Once monthly, very lightly.

This isn't too early to check catalogs, or with a bulb dealer, to arrange for early delivery of Sternbergia Lutea — they look like large yellow crocuses. You might want to place an order, or two, for some of the true fall crocuses and colchicum species. (I think you'll be more than pleased with these.)

If you received a pink or blue hydrangea for a Mother's Day gift, clip off the old blooms and prune, if needed. Repot and set outdoors with the other potted plants for the summer.

Super Shortcake

A towering dessert, spangled with blueberries, gets a crown of lemon sherbet and more berries. Outrageously tempting, Super Shortcake is the flakiest since "Gone With The Wind." The only secret is in the mixing: the dough should be handled with a very light touch.

Make your own fresh Blueberry Sauce as follows, or use a 15-oz. can of blueberries, adding ¼ cup water and thickening with 1 tablespoon cornstarch.

Super Shortcake 6 servings
2 cups enriched flour* 1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons sugar ½ cup blueberries (see
1 tablespoon baking powder Sauce recipe below)
1 teaspoon salt Lemon Sherbet
¼ cup shortening Blueberry Sauce

Stir together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Combine ¼ cup cream and blueberries, reserving remaining cream to whip for garnish. Blend blueberry-cream mixture into flour mixture to make soft dough. Press into ball. Roll out on lightly floured surface to about ¼ inch thick. Cut out 2 biscuits with 4½ to 5-inch floured round cutter. Press remaining dough together to make third biscuit. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Bake in preheated 425° oven 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool slightly. Split biscuits, top each half with scoop of lemon sherbet and warm Blueberry Sauce. Whip remaining ¼ cup cream for garnish.

Fresh Blueberry Sauce:
1 pint fresh blueberries 2 tablespoons cornstarch
1½ cups water 2 teaspoons lemon juice
½ cup sugar

Reserve ½ cup blueberries for shortcake. In medium saucepan heat water to boiling; add remaining blueberries. Blend cornstarch and sugar together; add to blueberry mixture. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat and simmer 2 minutes or until thickened, stirring occasionally. Stir in lemon juice. Cool slightly.

*Spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop. NOTE: If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.
