Control All Pollution —But Not At All Costs

and their customers badly need?

Well I don't think so but evidently the editor of The Charlotte Observer believes that the federal government must move "to end our self-defeating reliance upon the automobile as the most important form of transportation everywhere"

The Observer is critical of Charlotte for "making street, highway and parking plans that largely ignore the national trend," and suggests that unless Charlotte toes the line, "a federal plan will be imposed on Charlotte," My Gawd!

Mass transportation is to be encouraged, but the EPA's — both federal and state — must know that poorly maintained public buses along with the junkers on the road, are the foulest polluters of all Yet no public official complaining about this unsatisfactory condition, or even attempts an inspection. We may well ask, "Why?"

The Optimist

THE "PURE AIR now" people seemingly would take away or restrict the use of our automobiles, deter the building of nuclear power plants needed to avoid future energy crises, and retreat into the unreal world of green pastures and empty pocketbooks.

Dr A. L. Jones, a research association of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, has furnished a few facts to his 15-year-old daughter who wanted to know whether hers would be the last generation of people. Although Dr. Jones may be considered suspect because he does research for an oil company, his reply was more optimistic than the views she had heard in school. Dr. Jones said in part:

"We have heard cries of wolf with respect to our oxygen supply, the build-up of carbon monoxide the disappearance of species, DDT, thermal pollution, radiation effects from nuclear power plants, the Amchitka nuclear tests, lead in gasoline, and mercury in fish.

"My studies," said Dr. Jones, "suggest that we are not on the brink of disaster. The world's oxygen supply is secure. Our waters can be made pure again. The disappearance of species is natural. About 50 species are expected to disappear during this century, but it is also true that 50 species became extinct last century and the century before that."

Dr. Jones continues: "Positive scientific evidence is that nuclear power plants constructed to this date are the cleanest and least-polluting devices for generating electricity so far developed by man. The amount of radiation escaping from a well-designed nuclear plant is less than that from the cosmic rays to which a passenger is exposed on an ordinary jet aircraft flight."

It is Dr. Jones' view that our most serious problem is the rapidly increasing human population on world-wide basis. He says "the pollution of our natural waters with sewage and chemicals is perhaps the second most serious one. Hydrocarbon emissions from automobiles can be hazardous, especially in poorly ventilated locations."

The Challenge

DR. JONES does not duck the problem of pollution. He thinks progress can be achieved in most areas, and dispels fears that nuclear power plants are a menace to mankind as some editorialists and cartoonists aver.

So let us get on with the purification of our air, lakes, streams and rivers but not at the sacrifice of an economy geared to mass production and high standards of living.

We cannot emasculate the automotive industry, close down factories and retreat to a back-to-nature approach of withdrawal from reality.

Let the anti-pollution laws be strict, and duly enforced in a sensible and workable fashion. It is folly to believe that an industrial nation can be pollution-free, and still endure. But it can be freer from pollution than at present and we are moving toward that objective. Not as fast, perhaps, as we might wish, but moving nevertheless.

And may we be saved from the regimentation of our lives by bureaucrats whose zeal for telling people what to do is exceeded only by their arrogance and stupidity.

Church Items, Other News Heard From Balsam Grove

By Inez McCall

BALSAM GROVE — Beginning Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. Revival services will be held each evening at the Shoal Creek Baptist Church. Rev. Truitt Owen and Rev. Wayne Hogsed will be doing the preaching. The pastor and congregation invite everyone to attend these services. Also all singers are invited to take part in the music.

Sunday morning worship service was held at Shoal Creek Baptist Church with a good number in attendance. Officers for the church were elected for the coming year. Rev. Truitt Owen was re-elected pastor to serve the church for the next year.

Funeral services were held at the Shoal Creek Baptist Church Sunday afternoon for Mrs. Melvin McCall who passed away Friday, July 6th. Burial followed in the church cemetery. We wish to express our deepest sympathy to Mr. McCall and the family.

Regular community club meeting was held Tuesday night, July 3rd. President Donald McCall urges all members to attend and take part in these meetings. All persons are reminded that the meeting time is 7:30 p. m.

On Monday, July 2nd, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCall and Mr. and Mrs. William Galloway enjoyed a nice day at the Wolf Creek Lake and had such good luck fishing that Donald and Katie went back on Tuesday. Accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Esuary of Pickens, South Carolina. Mrs. Esuary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCall, and they will be spending several days visiting.

While out for a Sunday ride to enjoy the mountains, Johnny Cox and his parents of Asheville dropped by to see Richard McCall.

Do you know why roosters crow so early in the morning? They want to get in a word before the hens wake up.

Letters To The Editor

the damage of flooding and, at the same time, be aware of people's rights. Such a plan must provide reasonable levels of flood control and affect lives, homes, and property as little as possible.

Your suggestions that concrete flood control proposals should be heard is a valid one. Inherent in such plans or proposals must be the alternative methods for payment. In today's world, it is far more difficult to find feasible ways for government to pay for services than it is for people to suggest solutions unmindful of costs.

Your insight into the ways of people and government has enabled you to correctly predict that we either develop a generally acceptable flood control plan soon or something may be done for us without participation by local people.

You will be pleased to learn that many persons who opposed the former flood control plan now are actively working on regionwide committees to bring more intelligent approaches to land use water management and wise utilization of this area's natural resources.

Mayor Charles H. Campbell, of Brevard, is chairman of Regional B Commission, which serves the four counties of Transylvania, Henderson, Buncombe, and Madison. He has said, "The Commission will continue to seek reasonable and acceptable alternatives for solutions to the region's problems. Land use and water management are high on the Commission's priorities. This regional planning commission seeks more active help from citizens of the region." Other members of the Commission from Transylvania are Bill Ives, J. W. Simpson, Mayor Edith Osborne, and Bill Slough.

We commend you for your excellent editorial and for your continued interest in wise regional planning.

Sincerely,
L. D. Hyde
