

Brevard Girl Is Language Major But Most Interested In Underprivileged People

Studied In France Under "Year-At-Lyon" Program

By-CAL CARPENTER

A pretty young lady from Brevard has recently completed a year in France under the University of North Carolina's "Year-at-Lyon" program. She's a language major who speaks French like a native, after a year of college work in a French university where all instructions and examinations were in French. But she's really more interested in people—in sociology and psychology and social work among people of the underdeveloped countries, she says.

Her name is Laura Dzierzynski and she lives on Oak Park Drive in Brevard.

"I plan to travel when I've completed work at UNC-Greensboro (where she's enrolled for her senior year this fall.) 'I want to do social work while traveling. I'm very interested in the so-called 'Third World'—the underprivileged countries—in Europe and Asia," she says.

Her studies in languages—French and Italian, and the Russian she plans to begin studying at UNC-G this fall, will surely stand her in good stead for the social work she plans to do. So also will the foreign travel experience she has accumulated this year.

ALL IN FRENCH

Miss Dzierzynski lived in Lyon, a city in East central France at the confluence of the Rhone and Saone Rivers. A transfer student from UNC-G's language program, she first underwent a six-week orientation program and then continued a regular course in French study at the Lyon university.

"The instructions and examinations were all in French," she says, "and consisted of special courses in the perfection of grammar, conversation and theme wording."

TOURED EUROPE

During the second semester, Miss Dzierzynski had four-day weekends free, she notes, giving her plenty of time for travel. She toured Europe, visiting Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Greece, Yugoslavia, and Austria.

She loves traveling; "I am fascinated and oftentimes astonished by the differing customs in countries," she says.

She says her favorite country is Italy and her favorite city is Florence.

FROM CONNECTICUT

Miss Dzierzynski came to Brevard with her family eight years ago when her father, Edward P. Dzierzynski was transferred to the Olin plant here from New Haven, Connecticut.

She was born in New Haven, attended grammar schools there, and was graduated from Brevard High School in 1971.

She went to UNC-G in 1971 and to Lyon last year.

FRENCH VISITORS

Late last month, Miss Dzierzynski had three friends from towns near Lyon stop in Brevard for a visit. They were Paul Combet, Roger Morandat, and Yves Dekeyrel, all young men attending the Institute of Industrial Chemistry and Physics in Lyon.

The French students were on a three-month tour of the U. S. and were welcomed to Brevard by their pretty American hostess, who chatted with them in French like a native.

It must have made them feel at home as, no doubt, English speaking French young people did for Laura Dzierzynski when she first arrived at Lyon.

Calvert Youth Is County Entrant In WNC Horticultural Contest

Twenty-one farm boys and girls in eight counties are participating in the 1974 Western North Carolina Horticultural Crops Contest, according to an announcement by Harry G. Silver of Asheville, Extension District Supervisor (TVA), contest chairman. Madison county leads with six entries, followed by Yancey county with five.

Transylvania County's contestant is Tommie Hooper, Jr., of the Calvert section.

Purpose of the contest is to recognize the boys and girls in the area with the most outstanding horticultural projects each year and to encourage interest in various horticultural crops.

The contest is sponsored by the Horticultural Crops Commission of the Western North Carolina Development Association in cooperation with the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service and vocational agriculture teachers.

This year for the first time the contest is being held in two sections; one for annual crops such as trellis tomatoes and another for perennials, such as apples, strawberries and shrubbery.

Cash awards of $325.00 will be presented to the area winners at an awards program in December, with $100.00 offered for first prize in both the annuals and perennials contest. Prize donors are Gerber Products Company, Pigeon Valley Tomato Farm, Canton; Francis & Wright, Inc., and is still in full force and effect.

This the 7th day of August, 1974.

Hospital Board Adopts Resolution Of Appreciation To John W. Bailey

The Board of Trustees of Transylvania Community Hospital has adopted a resolution of appreciation to John W. Bailey, who has resigned his position as Hospital Administrator here to accept a similar position in York, S.C.

Mr. Bailey has served as Administrator of Transylvania Community Hospital for the past 21 years, and his resignation becomes effective the end of this month.

The action adopting the resolution was taken at the last meeting of the Board of Trustees.

The resolution follows in its entirety: When you think of prescriptions, think of VARNER'S. adv

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, JOHN W. BAILEY, after serving for more than twenty years as Administrator of Transylvania Community Hospital, has resigned and accepted employment elsewhere; and

WHEREAS, during the years that he served Transylvania Community Hospital he was a capable, efficient, faithful and loyal Administrator, devoting many long hours of overtime to the consideration and plans for its improvement; and

WHEREAS, during his period of service the Hospital has grown from twenty employees to over one hundred, and from twenty-five beds to one hundred four, and from non-accredited to full accreditation; and

WHEREAS, during the years of planning for and building a new Hospital his advice, counsel and guidance were of inestimable value to the Board of Trustees in the acquisition of a new site, the preparation of plans for the new hospital building, the campaign to raise funds for the construction thereof, the supervision of the construction and equipping of the new facilities; and

WHEREAS, in his leaving our Hospital is losing an able Administrator to whom much credit is due for its growth and progress, and we are losing a
