Young Man Of Year Nominations Sought

The Brevard Jaycees are now seeking nominations for Transylvania County's outstanding young man of the year, according to Chuck Bradley, Jaycee president.

The Distinguished Service Award, presented annually since 1947 by the Jaycees, is given to that young man in the community who has contributed most to the welfare of the community and who has given evidence of outstanding leadership ability and business or professional growth.

President Bradley emphasizes that the young man does not have to be a member of the Jaycees in order to be eligible for the award.

He points out that the only limitations are that he be a resident of Transylvania County, be at least 21 years of age and have not reached the age of 36 before Jan. 1, 1975.

All nominations must be

Secondary Roads Meet Is Called

The County Commissioners of Transylvania County have called a special meeting with the Secondary Roads Councilman and representatives of the Division of Highways to discuss the 1974-75 secondary road construction program for Transylvania County.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, Dec. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the courtroom of the County Courthouse at Brevard.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend, Chairman Bill Ives said.

made on the forms provided and should be delivered or sent by mail to Scott Peterson, this year's project chairman. P. O. Box 427 is the mailing address for nominations, and these must be turned in no later than 5 p.m., Monday, Dec. 23, 1974.

Nomination forms are available at the Chamber of Commerce, or by calling Mr. Peterson at 884-4128.

This year's recipient of the Distinguished Service Award, along with this year's Outstanding Young Educator, Outstanding Young Law Enforcement Officer and this year's Jaycee "Boss of the Year" will be honored at the annual Awards Banquet to be held on Jan. 3, 1975 in the Brevard College Cafeteria.

This Awards Banquet will be open to the public and tickets for the meal can be purchased at the Nationwide Insurance Office on South Broad Street or at Gaither's Restaurant.

The price for the banquet ticket is $5 per plate. Also, advance tickets may be obtained by calling Tinker Siniard, banquet chairman, at 883-3311.

Special Christmas Vignettes On WPNF

During the upcoming Christmas season, WPNF listeners can hear a series of special Christmas vignettes prepared for the station by the Associated Press. A total of 72 programs will be presented in this special series.

They are being presented locally over WPNF through the courtesy and sponsorship of Varner's Drug Store.

Special Santa Claus programs are now being prepared by the local station, and details of these will be announced in The Times next week.

WPNF Radio is now presenting special programs each weekday relating progress of the U. S. mail during the Christmas season. The update on U. S. mail service will be heard several times daily through Christmas on the local station, and it should prove to be an interesting though brief program each day.

TROOPER Earl D. Marmie began duties as a highway patrolman in Brevard on Monday. Formerly of West Jefferson, he was assigned to this area following completing of the Basic Highway Patrol School the latter part of November.

Cecil Hill At School For Solons

Senator-Elect Cecil Hill of Brevard was in Chapel Hill today attending a school for legislators at the Institute of Government.

Governor James Holshouser was to have addressed a luncheon session and the senators were caucusing in the General Assembly building in Raleigh tonight to elect a president pro tem, a senate majority leader, and a sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Hill said.

The two-day institute for the assemblymen will end Friday, Mr. Hill added.

By Fred Reiter
Temperatures took a dip in the Brevard area during the past week as the area experienced its first significant snowfall in nearly two years. Temperature averages were 48 and 24 for the week with the highest reading coming on Friday when the mercury reached 57 degrees. The period's lowest temperature came on Friday morning with a reading of 18 degrees. Approximately two inches of snow fell Saturday afternoon and night.

Extended outlook for North Carolina for Friday through Sunday: Partly cloudy with a gradual warming trend through Sunday. Highs in the lower 50s Friday, rising to the upper 50s and the low 60s Saturday. Lows around 30 Friday to the upper 30s and low 40s Sunday.

Thousands Line Streets For Annual Yule Parade

Weather Shortens Spectacle

Thousands of persons stood in chill winds on snow-lined streets late Monday and were warmed by the sights in a weather-shortened Christmas parade.

A holiday atmosphere gripped the throngs viewing the procession which annually ushers in the Yule season.

Floats, two bands, high-stepping majorettes, beauty queens, clowns, nativity scenes, public officials and Santa Claus himself delighted the crowds as they made their long trek meandering through the downtown area and ending up at Brevard College.

Two bands and the Shriner's motorcycle unit from Asheville were unable to appear because of the weather, but everyone called the parade a success anyway.

The Mayor's trophy, top place award for floats, went to the Vocation Industrial Club of America unit from Brevard High School.

Winning second place — the Chamber of Commerce Trophy — was Brevard Elementary School with a float cleverly constructed of collected issues of The Transylvania Times and some other newspapers.

The Merchants Division Trophy, third place, was won by the Transylvania Parks and Recreation Department.

Mayor Charles Campbell, lauding the parade, said it was one of the best yet. "I really like our home-made floats. They are so much prettier than those custom-made jobs that often fill parades."

The Brevard Junior Cloggers made a big hit with the parade fans as they clogged their way through town.

And someone called attention to the fact that Santa Claus really must know a lot of people in Brevard. He spoke to many along the route, calling them by name.

The real Christmas theme was in the parade along with the fun, with nativity and manger scenes depicting the birth of Christ.

Chairman of this year's Christmas Parade committee was Larry Prince, the manager of Community Cash.

School Board Seeks Lower Bids On Work

The Transylvania Board of Education is meeting tonight with bidders on the new phase of school construction planned at both Rosman and Brevard High Schools "to see if we can get them to come down some — make some adjustments in their bids," Chairman Eugene Morris said.

The bids were opened at the regular meeting of the board Monday night, the first attended by the newest member, Dr. Jerry Cabe, who got a real baptism in the fires of what education from one of the Board's main points of view is — money.

No action was taken on the bids, Mr. Morris said.

Modern Job Printing Equipment At Times

The Transylvania Times has just completed the installation of the latest in offset printing equipment for rapid and high quality job printing.

Heart of the new equipment is a new offset press capable of printing thousands of copies an hour, according to Gordon Byrd, The Times' production foreman.

There's an amusing story about this press — or maybe it isn't so funny. The Times bought it from a firm in Spartanburg, S. C. The last job the press had run was reported to be $400,000 in counterfeit $20 bills. The firm which sold the press to The Times had nothing to do with these bills. The persons who did are now in prison.

The press will run copy in one or two colors, and will

"because they were higher than anticipated. We are meeting with the low bidders tonight to see if we can work out a course of action."

Also invited to the tonight's meeting are the county commissioners. "They were invited for information," Mr. Morris said. The school board wants to sell the eight-acre school site it is abandoning in mid-Brevard to the county. The school board wants an appraisal of the property made by a certified property appraiser, and wants to talk with the commissioners before the appraised value is made public.

handle any job-printing assignment except on cardboard or other stiff materials which will still have to be printed on The Times' letterprint equipment.

A darkroom, a giant camera, plate-burning equipment and other devices give The Times a thoroughly modern job-printing plant for the public.

Doug Stenstrom, who has wide experience in offset printing has joined The Times staff and is getting high quality work from the equipment.

The Times can now handle all job-printing assignments, Mr. Byrd says.

But, please, The Times refuses to print money, even though the press has proved that it's capable.

R. L. Daniels, Replaces Hill On Authority

Brevard Architect Robert L. Daniels Monday night was appointed by the Board of Aldermen to replace Senator-Elect Cecil Hill on the Brevard Housing Authority.

Mr. Hill has resigned his post as chairman of the authority, effective Dec. 16, to devote his full duties to the position of N. C. senator, the job to which he was elected on Nov. 5.

The Housing Authority currently has 92 units of housing for low income families in the City.

The Board named Frank Ferrell, an Olin employee, to fill a vacancy on the City Planning and Zoning Board.

Brevard officials also applied for a grant from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation for expansion of the facilities at Franklin Park.

According to Mayor Charles Campbell, a new bath house, improved parking and playground facilities, a wading pool, park beautification, a diving well near the present swimming pool, and some other projects are planned if the funds are granted by BOR.

The funds are doled out by BOR on a matching basis, the mayor said. Since the total projects would cost some $80,000, the BOR grant would be $40,000-plus, Mr. Campbell said.
